NCAA INFRACTIONS REPORT

The NCAA Division I Committee on Infractions issued a decision dated March 6, 2015 in which the committee found Syracuse University responsible for certain violations of NCAA legislation.

The specific infractions, largely arising out of conduct from the past decade that the University voluntarily self-reported to the NCAA, regard: (a) impermissible extra benefits in the form of money, food, or transportation provided to certain student-athletes on the men's basketball, women's basketball, and football teams by a non-employee representative of the University's athletics interests; (b) unethical conduct committed by three football student-athletes and a part-time tutor regarding the student-athletes' involvement in an internship for academic credit at the part-time tutor's place of full-time employment; (c) the former director of basketball operations and a former receptionist's unethical conduct when they engaged in academic fraud with a former men's basketball student-athlete; (d) a former tutor and a former receptionist's provision of impermissible academic extra benefits to three former men's basketball student-athletes; (e) although testing and enforcement occurred, the University's failure to follow its written drug testing procedures for student-athletes; (f) the men's basketball staff's provision of more than two complimentary admissions on several occasions; (g) the failure of three athletics department staff members to report outside income or benefits to the University's chancellor; (h) the participation of former student-athletes in approximately 12 promotional activities without completing the promotion activity forms, and one former student-athlete fundraising for a charitable organization when the funds actually went to a commercial entity; (i) the participation of a former women's basketball student-athlete in an organized basketball game outside of intercollegiate competition; (j) the provision of impermissible transportation by two institutional employees to one former men's basketball student-athlete and one former football student-athlete; (k) the head basketball coach's failure to promote an atmosphere of compliance within his program or to monitor the activities of those who reported directly and indirectly to him; and (l) the University's failure to exercise control and monitor the conduct and administration of its athletics programs.

In the decision, the Committee on Infractions imposed a period of five years probation on the University from March 6, 2015 through March 5, 2020. Additional information regarding the decision and the penalties imposed are available upon request.

PIPELINE TO THE PROS

Since the birth of the program in 1889, more than 300 Syracuse players have gone on to careers in professional football. In 2008, NFL Network named Syracuse the No. 8 "Football Factory" for its production of NFL talent, which includes eight members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

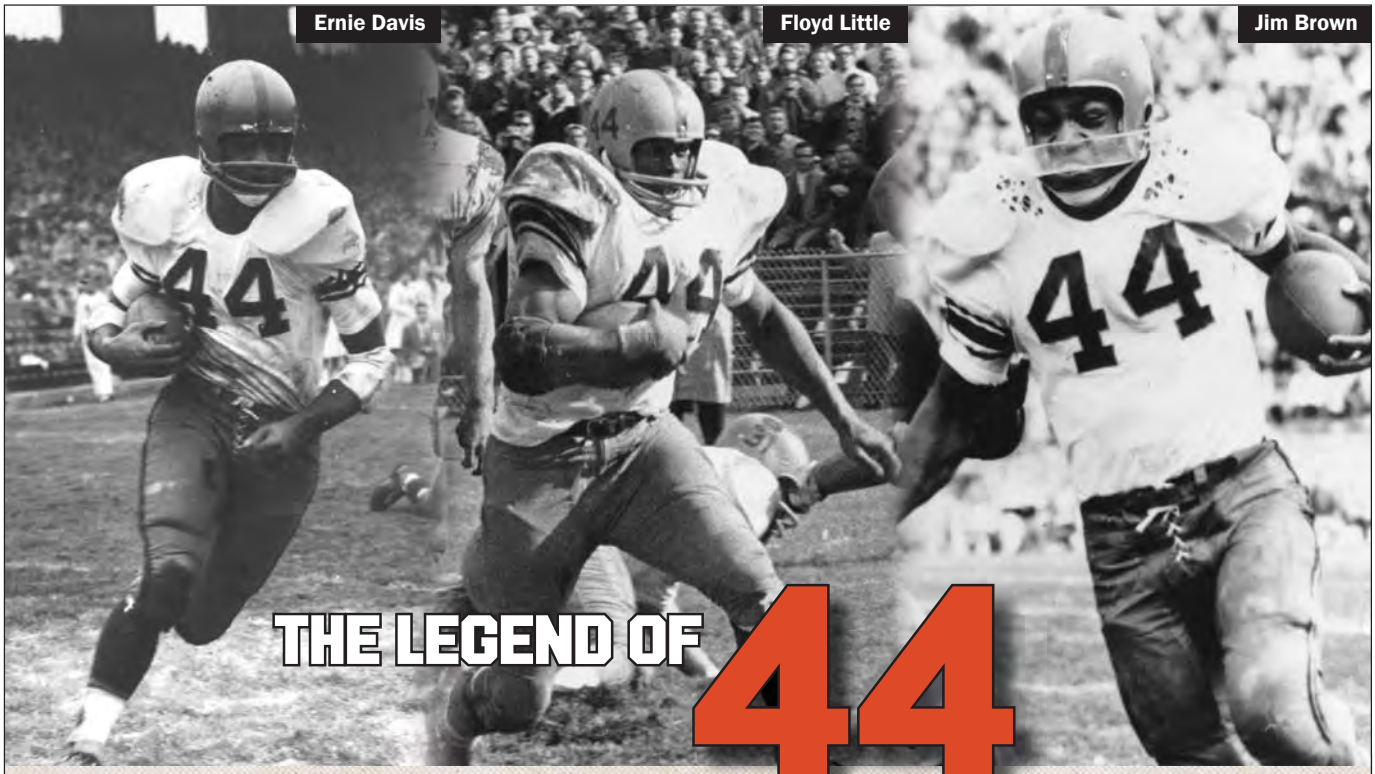
1959 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Unbeaten and untied, the 1959 Orange capped an 11-0 season with a 23-14 victory against Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse dominated its foes both offensively and defensively under the direction of consensus National Coach of the Year Ben Schwartzwalder. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 regular-season games. Running back Ernie Davis led an Orange offense that averaged 451 yards per game. Guard Roger Davis, who was selected seventh overall by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft, end Fred Mautino, halfback Gerhard Schwedes and tackle Robert Yates earned All-America honors.



THE LEGEND OF 44

The running back position at Syracuse has a rich tradition of greatness. Much of that excellence has revolved around one jersey number — 44. Retired in 2005, it is one of the most storied numbers associated with any college football program. Three players who have donned No. 44 are in the College Football Hall of Fame. Those three — Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little — rank among the finest running backs to ever play the game. Overall, 25 players have worn the historic jersey.

1961 HEISMAN TROPHY WINNER: ERNIE DAVIS

In 1961, the Civil Rights Act was three years from becoming a reality. It would be four years until the voting rights of all Americans were protected by federal law. But, an unassuming sports hero was about to play an important, yet unintentional, role in the burgeoning civil rights movement. On Dec. 6, 1961, Syracuse University running back Ernest R. Davis was awarded the Heisman Trophy. It was the first time an African American was honored as college football's best player, even though they had participated in the game since the late 1800s.

As a sophomore, Davis rushed for a team-high 686 yards and scored 10 touchdowns to power Ben Schwartzwalder's 1959 Orange to a 10-0 regular-season record, the nation's No. 1 ranking, and a Cotton Bowl showdown with Texas. With the collective eyes of the college football world focused on Dallas, Davis captured MVP honors, scoring two touchdowns – one on an 87-yard halfback option pass from captain Gerhard Schwedes – and setting up a third to spark a 23-14 Orange triumph.

In 1960, Davis led the squad in rushing again with 877 yards and scored 10 more touchdowns to earn All-America accolades. Davis paced Syracuse on the ground for a third time in 1961, rushing for 823 yards and scoring 15 touchdowns. In the Liberty Bowl, he ran for 140 yards on 30 carries and scored Syracuse's first touchdown, as the Orange rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit to nip Miami (Fla.), 15-14.

A unanimous selection for his second first-team All-America honor, Davis was then rewarded with the 1961 Heisman Trophy. President John F. Kennedy sent the following telegram to Davis in 1963 after a celebration of Davis' achievements in Elmira, New York:

> "Seldom has an athlete been more deserving of such a tribute. Your high standards of performance on the field and off the field reflect the finest qualities of competition, sportsmanship and citizenship. The nation has bestowed upon you its highest awards for your athletic achievements. It's a privilege for me to address you tonight as an outstanding American, and as a worthy example of our youth. I salute you."

Hoping to team the talented Davis with his SU backfield predecessor and NFL rushing king Jim Brown, Cleveland Browns owner Art Modell traded for Davis after Washington selected him with the first overall pick in the annual draft. But before the former Orange stars could suit up together, Davis contracted leukemia and died on May 18, 1963. He was 23.

In the fall of 1979, Davis, who had taken the greatness of Syracuse's No. 44 from Jim Brown and passed it on to Floyd Little, was posthumously inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Hall of Fame. In 2008, "The Express," a motion picture about Davis' life, premiered in downtown Syracuse. Syracuse University has honored Davis in many ways, including the retirement of his No. 44, erecting a statue of him on the University Quad, building Ernie Davis Hall and celebrating the 50th anniversary of his historic Heisman victory with an event at the New York Historical Society Museum in 2011.

ALL-AMERICANS

During Syracuse's 128-year football history, more than 100 Orange players have been named All-Americans. Bill Horr became the program's first in 1907 when the legendary Walter Camp named Horr to his "Second Eleven." Receiver Steve Ishmael is the most recent to receive All-America honors. In 2017, Ishmael was recognized by nine selectors, including the Football Writers Association of America, Associated Press, Walter Camp Football Foundation and Sporting News.

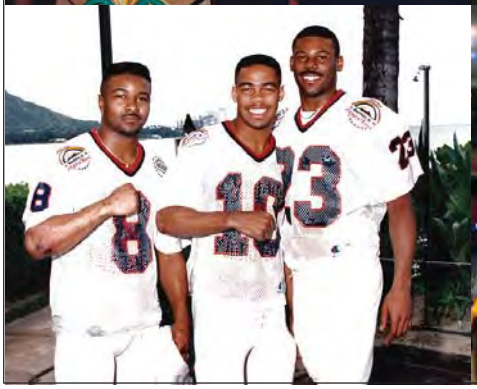
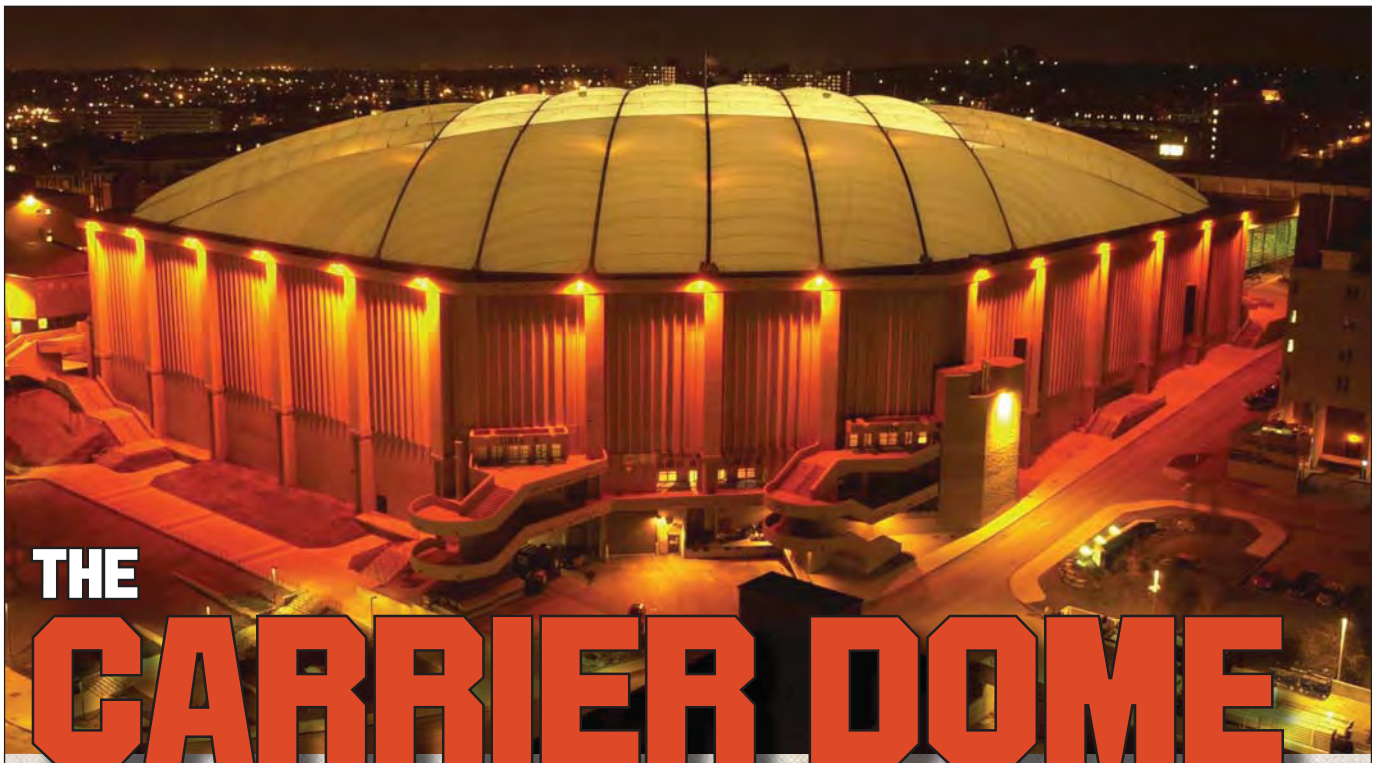
BOWL TRADITION

Syracuse is 15-9-1 in its 25 bowl appearances and has won five of its last six postseason games. From 1989-96 the Orange won seven consecutive bowl games, the seventh-longest streak in the history of college football. Syracuse has played in 16 different bowl games and the program's .620 winning percentage ranks eighth all-time among schools with at least 15 bowl appearances.



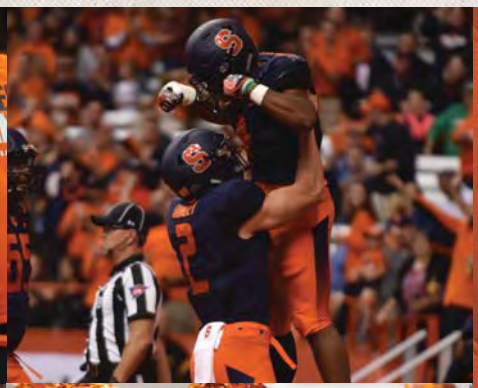
NEW YEAR'S SIX

During its illustrious history, Syracuse has earned invitations to all six bowl games that make up the College Football Playoff – the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Fiesta, Peach and Cotton Bowls.



THE CARRIER DOME

One of the "Seven Wonders" of the college athletics world, the Carrier Dome was the first domed stadium built in the Northeast. Since it opened in 1980, more than 9 million fans have passed through the building's gates to watch Syracuse football. In 2018, the University announced a $118 million investment in the facility to create a new stadium experience. The upcoming renovations, which include a new fixed roof and center-hung scoreboard, will transform the stadium into one of the finest facilities in all of sports.



THE LOUD HOUSE

“There’s no place like the Carrier Dome. It’s the loudest place. Nobody liked coming to play us there. You can talk to any of the guys in the NFL right now who played there and they’ll tell you. The Dome was the worst place to come to play.”

– Dwight Freeney –
All-American & Super Bowl Champion

FIRST-CLASS FACILITIES

The Ensley Athletic Center and Iocolano-Petty Football Complex stand as symbols of Syracuse University's commitment to providing an exceptional student-athlete experience. Named in honor of three-sport letterwinner Cliff Ensley, the 87,000-square foot Ensley Athletic Center offers a full-sized, indoor, FieldTurf practice field identical to the Carrier Dome. The Iocolano-Petty Football Complex embodies the long and storied tradition of Syracuse football. It features a Carrier Dome theater, state-of-the-art player lounge, athletic training and player recovery facilities, a locker room, dining facility, and displays honoring the program's all-time greats.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Student-Athlete Academic Development

The Stevenson Educational Center, located in Manley Field House, is home to the Syracuse Student-Athlete Academic Development staff. The center features a computer lab, tutor rooms, career development suite and meeting rooms for day, as well as evening, study-table sessions.

The educational center team is involved in additional activities designed to enhance academic performance. Orientation programs for incoming student-athletes are held at the beginning of the first semester to aid in the transition from high school to college. Career-planning programs assist those who are undecided on their major course of study. As student-athletes approach the end of their college careers, programs coordinated by the academic development staff help them enter the work force or explore opportunities for graduate school.

One of those programs is the "S Project," which is designed to provide student-athletes with proactive and continuing education. Through the program they develop the skills necessary to excel in the classroom, maximize athletic ability, and prepare them for post-collegiate success. The curriculum is centered on four areas – career readiness, financial education, healthy relationships, and wellness and personal development.

Staff members focus on the enhancement of academic performance through the development of study and communication skills, goal-setting, stress and time management, and individual tutoring and mentoring. Academic performance is monitored to ensure NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference and Syracuse University eligibility rules are met and that academic progress is being made toward graduation.

SERVING THE COMMUNITY

Giving back to the community is integral to the development of the overall student-athlete. Through the 'Cuse Cares program, Syracuse student-athletes log thousands of community service hours each year. In 2018, former punter Rob Long and the Syracuse chapter of Uplifting Athletes earned the University's Orange Circle Award, which recognizes members of the SU community who have done extraordinary things in the service of others. Football also won the 2016-17 'Cuse Cares Award for community engagement, which included team members' participation in Syracuse's St. Baldrick's Day, Beads of Courage, Building Men and additional volunteer programs.

ACC TOP SIX FOR SERVICE

Presented annually to six student-athletes at each member institution, the ACC Top Six for Service Award recognizes those who demonstrate outstanding dedication to community service and outreach programs.

In 2017-18, quarterback Zack Mahoney was among Syracuse's six winners for the second year in a row. Mahoney was also a finalist for the 2018 Uplifting Athletes Rare Disease Champion Award.

WELCOME TO SYRACUSE

SYRACUSE, NEW YORK
THE SALT CITY

Located in the heart of New York state, the city of Syracuse and its nearby environs offer a blend of city life and scenic countryside escapes. Among its many attractions, the city hosts an opera company, museums, art houses and a professional theater. Historic Armory Square in downtown Syracuse is filled with restaurants, pubs, and boutique hotel and shopping opportunities, along with the hands-on Milton J. Rubenstein Museum of Science & Technology. To experience some of the unique sites the city has to offer, visitors can travel the Connective Corridor, a three-mile urban design project linking Syracuse University with the city's cultural attractions.

Beyond the city, the area features abundant county and regional parks. The Rosamond Gifford Zoo, Beaver Lake Nature Center, Onondaga Lake Park and Baltimore Woods Nature Preserve offer plenty of recreation and entertainment opportunities.

Syracuse is also home to Destiny USA – a 2.4 million square-foot destination shopping complex. Destiny USA recently underwent an 850,000 square-foot expansion that combines full-priced and value retail with fine dining and entertainment venues. It's the sixth-largest shopping center in the United States and features more than 250 tenants.

Residents and visitors enjoy the region's four seasons, which allow for various outdoor sports, including cross-country and downhill skiing, snowmobiling, biking, fishing, hiking and canoeing. In addition, more than 40 golf courses are located throughout the greater Syracuse area. For the sports enthusiasts, the city is home to the Syracuse Chiefs, the Triple-A affiliate for the Washington Nationals, and the Syracuse Crunch AHL hockey team.

A yearly end-of-summer celebration with exhibitions, food and entertainment, the Great New York State Fair draws hundreds of thousands of visitors each year. The area also hosts many other festivals, including the Jamesville Balloon Fest, Taste of Syracuse and the Great American Antique Fest.

In recognition of the area's many assets, U.S. News & World Report ranked Syracuse No. 28 on its 2017 list of the "100 Best Places to Live in the United States."

CREDENTIALS AND SCOUTING PASSES

Season and individual game requests for working press credentials for media or professional scouts should be made online via the PressPass media credential system. Please visit www.SportsSystems.com/Syracuse to apply for credentials. Requests should be made at least two weeks prior to the game. Communication regarding your request will be made via email. Please contact the Syracuse University Athletic Communications Department with additional questions.

Visiting team media should contact the opposing team's athletic communications office to be placed on their official credential list.

Passes not picked up in advance will be available at the Will Call window located at Gate B of the Carrier Dome three hours before kickoff. Gameday requests will not be honored.

PARKING

Parking for media in the WEST Lot across the street from the Carrier Dome is limited and passes are issued on a priority basis within the same guidelines as working credentials. Additional parking for media is available at Manley Field House in the SOUTH MANLEY Lot. A media shuttle runs from there to the Carrier Dome beginning approximately three hours prior to kickoff. Return service is available for approximately two hours after the conclusion of the game.

PRESS BOX

All media work from the press box located on the third level of the Carrier Dome. Media should enter the building through Stadium Control and take the elevator or stairs to the Upper Concourse then proceed to the right. The press box is on the left directly under Section 301. The press box opens three hours prior to kickoff.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Syracuse reserves the right to admit only those photographers deemed to be on the premises for legitimate media purposes and who are shooting for editorial use only. Photographers must have an individual game photo credential or Carrier Dome photo button.

There is a field-level work area for photographers located in the Driver's Village VIP Lounge next to the ambulance tunnel. There is also limited photographer work space in the press box.

RADIO

Syracuse hosts both home and visiting network radio in booths in the press box. Radio and ISDN lines are available for non-conference visiting radio broadcasts for a fee. Radio lines for Atlantic Coast Conference games are made available in accordance with conference guidelines. Requests for lines must be made in advance to Syracuse IMG Sports Marketing by calling (315) 445-2500.

TELEVISION

News stations covering Orange football games are permitted to shoot from field level outside the team bench areas. Individuals must have an individual game photo credential or Carrier Dome photo button to obtain access.

INTERNET ACCESS

The Carrier Dome press box is equipped with wireless internet for use by members of the media. Network information is available in the press box on gameday.

SERVICES

Final statistics are available approximately 20 minutes after the conclusion of the game. Quotes from both head coaches and select student-athletes from each team will be distributed in the press box and are available on Syracuse's official website (Cuse.com) approximately one hour after the game ends.

A full meal is served prior to kickoff. There is continuous beverage service throughout the game.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

The Syracuse locker room is closed to the media following games, both at home and on the road. Coach Dino Babers will hold his news conference in the Driver's Village VIP Lounge located on the Service Level of the Carrier Dome near Stadium Control.

Following the conclusion of Coach Babers' news conference, select student-athletes will be brought to the Driver's Village VIP Lounge to meet with media representatives. Requests for specific student-athletes will be collected during the fourth quarter of each game.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL

OUR HOUSE

2018 SEASON OUTLOOK

The first two seasons of Dino Babers' tenure provided plenty of offensive pyrotechnics. His Orange clubs have been upset-minded, evidenced by a win against No. 17 Virginia Tech in 2016 and then a toppling of No. 2 Clemson last fall.

Next on the path of improvement is more consistent play throughout the season, a byproduct of a deeper and more talented roster. Eight starters and 89.2 percent of last season's total yardage is back for the 'Cuse offense. The Orange defenders welcome six first-stringers back.

Syracuse's residence in the Atlantic Coast Conference ensures the Orange will face a challenging schedule each year. The 2018 itinerary includes seven FBS foes who earned bowl berths last season. In addition, Syracuse's 12 opponents were a combined 82-69 (.543) in 2017.

The campaign starts with non-conference clashes at Western Michigan (Sept. 1) and home against Wagner (Sept. 8). The ACC opener with Florida State (Sept. 15) and a non-conference encounter with Connecticut (Sept. 22) finishes a stretch of three straight Carrier Dome games.

A trip to face defending ACC champion Clemson (Sept. 29) closes out the first month of the season.

October opens with a road tilt at Pittsburgh (Oct. 6) and back-to-back home pairings with North Carolina (Oct. 20) and NC State (Oct. 27). After playing at Wake Forest (Nov. 3), Syracuse finishes its home slate versus Louisville (Nov. 9). The Orange then face Notre Dame (Nov. 17) at Yankee Stadium and travel to Boston College (Nov. 24).

Here's a position-by-position look at the 2018 Orange:

Senior Eric Dungey enters 2018 fourth in ACC history in career yards of total offense per game (296.6). He trails only Lamar Jackson (346.7), DeShaun Watson (318.3) and Jameis Winston (305.5).

QUARTERBACKS

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 2

One of the most exciting players in the ACC, Eric Dungey is the straw that stirs the Orange drink. The senior signal caller has been the dominant figure in Coach Babers' offense, showcasing the skill set that makes him the only active FBS quarterback with 6,000 passing yards and 1,000 rushing yards.

The only thing that has stopped Dungey have been injuries. He's made 25 starts in his tenure, but he has also missed 11 outings due to various ailments. He has tossed multiple touchdown passes in 16 of his 26 appearances with the Orange.

Redshirt freshman quarterback Tommy DeVito, an Under Armour All-American at Don Bosco Prep (N.J.), is charted as Dungey's backup entering fall camp. DeVito passed for 3,800 yards and 35 TDs as a scholastic performer. He received valuable first-team reps in the spring with Dungey recovering from offseason foot surgery.

Rex Culpepper, a redshirt sophomore, made his first collegiate start against Boston College at the end of last season. He was 24-of-34 for 280 yards and two touchdowns against the Eagles. Culpepper suffered a setback during the offseason when he was diagnosed with testicular cancer. He gamely handled treatment, even tossing a dramatic touchdown pass in the Spring Preview. Culpepper has been ruled cancer free and is back vying for field time.

Clayton Welch joined the roster last summer after transfering from Butte College (Calif.). He is the tallest of the quarterbacks at 6-5.

RUNNING BACKS

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 4

In senior Dontae Strickland, the Orange have a returning running back who has accumulated 1,000 career yards on the ground. He's been the primary starter the past two seasons, logging 12 starts in 2016 and nine a season ago. Strickland ran harder as the 2017 campaign progressed, ultimately averaging 58 yards per game in ACC games as opposed to 33.5 in non-conference encounters.

Although Moe Neal made just three starts in 2017, he did see action in all 12 games and finished second on the team in rushing yards. Neal carried 92 times for 488 yards, an average of 5.3 yards per rush. He is explosive – a talent he flashed on a 71-yard TD run against Central Michigan.

While Strickland and Neal will receive the bulk of the carries, sophomore Markenzy Pierre is seeking an increased role in the backfield. Pierre gained 89 yards on 25 carries (3.6 avg.) last fall.

When Coach Babers opts for an alignment with a fullback, he can turn to Chris Elmore. The 6-foot, 282-pound sophomore filled that role a year ago.

Fans won't get the chance to see junior Abdul Adams right away, but once the transfer from Oklahoma becomes eligible in 2019 he's a candidate for immediate playing time. Last fall with the Sooners, Adams rushed for 542 yards and averaged 9.2 yards a carry.

Highly-regarded freshman Jarveon Howard from East Marion High School (Miss.) scored 21 touchdowns in his senior campaign.

Two redshirt freshman running backs, Luke Erickson and Jack Guida, provide depth at the position, as does junior Otto Zaccardo. Zaccardo has appeared in two career games on special teams.

WIDE RECEIVERS

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 4

Accumulated 2017 catches by the Orange wide receiver corps at the end of last season totaled 320. By the time spring ball started, 194 of those receptions had departed in the form of All-American Steve Ishmael (a school-record 105) and Ervin Philips (89), who completed their eligibility. In all, Syracuse lost 61.9 percent of its receptions from 2017.

Similar turnover at the position has been dealt with before. After 2016, the Orange lost Amba Etta-Tawo (94) and Brisley Estime (48). Wide receiver is the ultimate reload spot for Syracuse.

Junior returning starter Devin Butler hauled in 33 passes a season ago from his outside receiver position. Junior slot man Sean Riley, who also serves as Syracuse's top kickoff return specialist, averaged 15.6 yards per catch on eight receptions in 2017. Redshirt senior Jamal Custis, a three-year letterwinner with a 6-5 frame, is expected to line up opposite Riley in the slot. Versatile sophomore speedster Nykeim Johnson opens camp as the first-stringer at the other outside receiver spot.

Redshirt sophomore K.K. Hahn and redshirt freshmen Sharod Johnson, Cameron Jordan and Russell Thompson-Bishop are the starting quartet's chief understudies.

Heading the list of newcomers is four-star recruit Ed Hendrix from H.D. Woodson High School in Washington, D.C. Anthony Queely, from Lake Nona High School (Fla.), is coming off back-to-back 1,000-yard receiving seasons. Converted quarterback Taj Harris, a Palmyra High School (N.J.) product, and Berks Catholic High School (Pa.) graduate Cooper Lutz round out the rookies.

More help is on the way in Trishton Jackson, who transferred to Syracuse from Michigan State. He will be eligible in 2019 after sitting out this season.

Center Airon Servais is one of four returning starters from 2017 along the offensive line. Servais led the unit in snaps (1,036) last season.

Defensive end Alton Robinson made an immediate impact in his first season, leading the Orange with five sacks in 2017.

TIGHT ENDS

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 3

A Preseason All-ACC selection by multiple outlets, Ravian Pierce provided the Orange with a new weapon last fall. His emergence gave foes another pass-catcher to worry about. In his first year with the program, after transferring from Southwest Mississippi Community College, Pierce hauled in 29 receptions, including four for touchdowns.

Pierce's production was the best by an Orange tight end since 2012 when Beckett Wales caught 35 passes.

There are two players with experience behind Pierce. Sophomore Aaron Hackett received his first varsity letter last fall and followed that with a productive spring. He is listed as Pierce's backup on the preseason depth chart.

Senior Kyle Kleinberg, who has excelled as a special teams contributor, has earned three varsity letters with the Orange and could see spot duty.

Two newcomers give the Syracuse coaches some interesting pieces to try at tight end. Redshirt sophomore Jesse Conners, who sat out last fall after transferring from Holy Cross, is now eligible to contribute. A native of Pittsford, N.Y., Conners had a productive prep season as a wide receiver at The Salisbury School (Conn.) before enrolling at Holy Cross. Freshman Gabe Horan from C.W. Baker High School in nearby Baldwinsville adds size to the position at 6-6 and 260 pounds. He was a two-time all-state selection for the Bees.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Starters Returning: 4 • Lettermen Returning: 9

There is no area on a football team that requires more cohesion, more coordinated movement, than on the offensive line. The 2018 lineup should benefit from the collective experience of the unit.

Four players who started all 12 games last fall are back. Senior Cody Conway (LT), redshirt sophomore Sam Heckel (LG), redshirt sophomore Airon Servais (C) and redshirt junior Evan Adams (RG) are familiar neighbors in the Orange trenches. Added to the crew is graduate transfer Koda Martin, who was with the first team at Texas A&M in 2017. He is expected to start at right tackle.

Conway played 1,030 snaps for the Orange in 2017. Heckel tallied 41 knockdown blocks, including eight against Wake Forest. The staff expects redshirt senior Aaron Roberts, who started 12 games at left guard in 2016, to have a spirited competition with Heckel for first-string status. Roberts missed all of last season with a knee injury. Servais played every snap in 10 of Syracuse's 12 games and led the line in plays (1,036). Adams brings a streak of 21 straight starts into the season.

Redshirt junior Colin Byrne (eight starts in 2016 at center) is expected to push Adams at right guard. Redshirt senior Keaton Darney is the primary backup to Servais at center. At the tackle positions, Syracuse has valuable reserves in redshirt sophomore Mike Clark and true sophomore Patrick Davis. Versatile redshirt junior Andrejas Duerig can play both center and guard.

Redshirt sophomores Austin Chandler and Dakota Davis have completed their apprenticeships on the practice squad. Newcomers include Wil Froumy from Exeter High School (N.H.), Detroit Jesuit product Carlos Vettorello, and Qadir White from New York's Cardinal Hayes High School.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Starters Returning: 4 • Lettermen Returning: 8

Syracuse has the benefit of starter's experience all across the defensive front line. It's a grouping that came together in 2017 and now heads into 2018 with a common familiarity.

Redshirt senior Chris Slayton is the veteran of the bunch. He has started 24 straight games, mostly at defensive tackle. A three-year letterwinner, he contributed 28 tackles, including 8.5 for losses, last fall. The top candidate to occupy the other interior spot is McKinley Williams, a junior nose tackle who made five starts and had 25 tackles in 2017.

Junior Kendall Coleman made 19 appearances with the first team over the last two years. He was slowed by injuries in 2017 and limited to eight starts. He had 28 total tackles. Junior Alton Robinson arrived last August and started the final 10 games at defensive end. His 30 tackles led all down linemen and his five quarterback sacks, including two against Florida State, topped the team.

The Orange have solid reserves ready behind Slayton in junior Kenneth Ruff and redshirt sophomore Josh Black. Ruff played in all 12 games last season, while Black received a medical redshirt after appearing in just four games. Sophomore Chris Elmore, a fullback last season, shifted to nose tackle in the spring and will serve as Williams' understudy.

The other returning lettermen in the unit are defensive ends Brandon Berry, a redshirt junior who logged six starts in 2017, sophomore Kingsley Jonathan and redshirt junior Jake Pickard. Pickard had offseason surgery and will be sidelined to start the year.

Sophomore Shaq Grosvenor played sparingly last fall. Also in the mix following their redshirt seasons are Curtis Harper and Zach Morton.

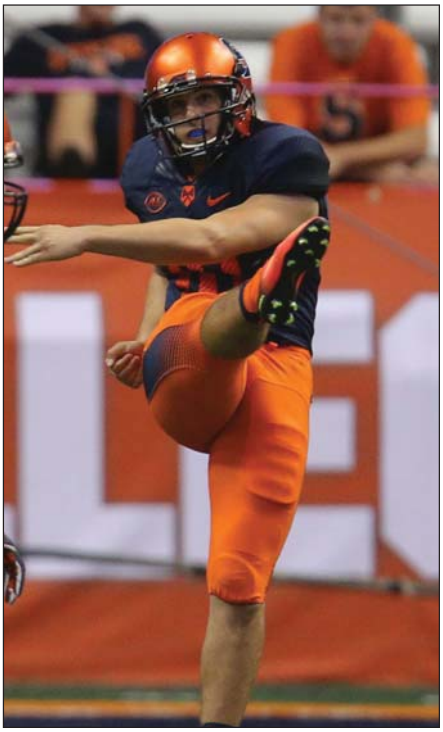
Freshman Caleb Okechukwu had 15 sacks as a senior at St. John's College High School (D.C.).

2018 SEASON OUTLOOK

Senior Kielan Whitner is slated to replace Parris Bennett at weak-side linebacker. A converted safety, Whitner has 76 career tackles.

Strong safety Evan Foster paced the Syracuse secondary with 64 tackles a year ago. He also returned an interception for a touchdown.



Sterling Hofrichter landed 35.1 percent of his punts inside the 20-yard line last season, the third-best mark in the ACC.

LINEBACKERS

Starters Returning: 0 • Lettermen Returning: 4

Of all the defensive units, the linebacker grouping was hit hardest by departures during the offseason. Syracuse's two top tacklers, Parris Bennett (115) and Zaire Franklin (85) completed their eligibility after starting for three seasons. Each earned All-ACC recognition. Jonathan Thomas finished his tenure with a senior campaign that included seven starts and 50 tackles.

As a result of the departures, Syracuse will play more nickel this season, utlizing two linebackers on most downs. The Orange can count on seniors Kielan Whitner and Ryan Guthrie to take over the spots vacated by Bennett and Franklin, respectively. Each played all 12 contests in 2017. Whitner is a converted defensive back will serve as the primary weak-side linebacker. He has two nine-tackle games in his career. Guthrie, a two-time All-American at Ellsworth Community College in Iowa, recorded a key sack to clinch last year's victory over Pittsburgh.

Junior Andrew Armstrong, who owns two varsity letters, is capable of stepping in behind Guthrie. Redshirt junior Shyheim Cullen also has two letters. He is slated for second-team status at weak-side 'backer.

Redshirt sophomore Tim Walton participated in two games a season ago. Tyrell Richards and Kadeem Trotter, each a redshirt freshman, have their sights set on playing time this fall.

Three first-year linebackers – Tre Allison from John Tyler High School (Texas), Juan Wallace from IMG Academy in Florida, and Butte College transfer Lakiem Williams – have been added to the roster. Wallace and Williams both enrolled in January. Williams was one of the top linebackers in the junior-college ranks.

SECONDARY

Starters Returning: 3 • Lettermen Returning: 7

The Syracuse coaching staff is scheming for better production from the team's pass defense, especially in the takeaway department. The Orange managed just four interceptions a season ago. The talent is on hand to make that happen.

The Orange have three starters returning in the defensive backfield – redshirt junior Christopher Fredrick and junior Scoop Bradshaw at cornerback and sophomore Evan Foster at strong safety. Fredrick has started 18 straight games. He contributed 43 tackles, one interception and four pass breakups a season ago. Bradshaw was with the first string in 11-of-12 outings last fall and posted a team-best six pass breakups. Foster topped all secondary performers with 64 tackles. He also had an interception and four pass breakups.

The squad has its fingers crossed that redshirt senior Antwan Cordy will enjoy an injury-free season. Cordy has missed 21 of Syracuse's 24 games the last two years. He made 12 starts at safety in 2015 and is slotted as the primary nickelback.

Junior Carl Jones, redshirt freshman Ifeatu Melifonwu and freshman Trill Williams from Archbishop Stepinac High School (N.Y.) are the top reserves at cornerback.

The Orange plan to work in redshirt sophomore Devon Clarke, redshirt freshman Eric Coley and first-year players Andre Cisco from IMG Academy (Fla.) and Cam Jonas from Dwyer High School (Fla.) at safety. Cisco will open camp as the No. 1 free safety.

Two other interesting contenders are Tyrone Perkins, a senior who switched over from running back prior to spring practice, and DuWayne Johnson, a transfer from Arizona Western College, who played in the 2017 NJCAA title game.

SPECIALISTS

Starters Returning: 1 • Lettermen Returning: 2

Syracuse welcomes back its punter (Sterling Hofrichter), its long snapper (Matt Keller) and its primary kick and punt returner (Sean Riley).

Hofrichter, who is a redshirt junior, enters his third season in a starting role. He kicked 57 times with a 43.2 average in 2017 and keyed a unit that ranked 10th nationally in net punting and fourth in punt return yardage defense.

A Preseason All-ACC selection by Phil Steele, Keller has provided accurate snaps since arriving at Syracuse. Keller will tutor freshman Aaron Bolinsky from North Schuykill High School (Pa.) as his understudy. In Keller's final season, he won't benefit from the skills of holder Zack Mahoney, who graduated. Redshirt sophomores Nolan Cooney and Rex Culpepper are the primary contenders to replace Mahoney.

Riley gives the Orange a breakaway threat in the return game. He ranked 12th nationally in combined kick return yards a season ago, totaling 842. Riley returned 29 kickoffs for a 24.5-yard average and 17 punts for a 7.8-yard figure. Redshirt senior Antwan Cordy could get an opportunity in the punt-return game.

Syracuse needs to replace Cole Murphy, a 2017 All-ACC Third Team placekicker. He completed his college tenure ranked first in career (59) and season (20) field goals for the Orange. Hofrichter will get the first shot at taking Murphy's former job. Freshman Cory Smigel from North Royalton High School in Ohio and redshirt freshman Andre Szmyt will push Hofrichter.

Murphy's kickoff spot is also open. Cooney, Szmyt and Smigel are expected to battle it out during preseason camp. Cooney can handle punting chores, as well.

DINO BABERS

Head Coach • Third Season • Career Record: 45-32 (.584)

A proven winner and respected mentor, Dino Babers was named the 30th head football coach at Syracuse University on Dec. 5, 2015. He owns a 45-32 (.584) career head coaching record and boasts more than 30 years of experience in the profession.

Known for his innovative, ultra-fast offense, Babers is in his third season on the Syracuse sideline. So far, his Orange tenure has featured record-setting offensive production and notable wins against some of the nation's best teams. Syracuse posted two of the top three total offense figures in program history (2016 - 5,290 yards; 2017 - 5,476 yards) in Babers' first two seasons. The Orange have also defeated two of ranked opponents on his watch, including reigning national champion Clemson in 2017.

Babers planted the seeds of Syracuse's revival during his first season in 2016. The Orange knocked off a ranked opponent for the first time in four years, toppling eventual ACC Coastal champion Virginia Tech at the Carrier Dome. In addition, he commanded an offense that set or tied more than 40 school records, including new season standards for pass completions (332) and passing yards (3,855).

Babers' second campaign also featured a signature win, as Syracuse handed 2017 College Football Playoff semifinalist Clemson its only defeat of the regular season. The Orange topped the second-ranked Tigers, 27-24. The triumph was on par with the Orange's historic upset of No. 1 Nebraska more than 30 years prior, and captured the attention of the nation. In the aftermath, Babers was voted the Dodd Trophy Coach of the Week and Syracuse was named the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) National Team of the Week.

On an individual level, receivers Amba Etta-Tawo, Ervin Philips, Steve Ishmael and quarterback Eric Dungey have excelled in his system. Philips and Ishmael combined for an ACC-record 194 catches in 2017 and closed their careers ranked one and two on the program's all-time receptions list.

Etta-Tawo left an indelible stamp on the program in his one season. He set 10 school receiving records, was a 2016 Biletnikoff Award semifinalist, a unanimous All-ACC First Team selection and was named to four All-America teams.

In 2017, Ishmael picked up where Etta-Tawo left off. Ishmael ranked second in the FBS in receptions per game (8.8) and catches (2nd - 105). He also finished in the top 10 in receiving yards per game (4th - 112.2) and total receiving yardage (7th - 1,347). Like Etta-Tawo, Ishmael was a Biletnikoff semifinalist, a unanimous All-ACC First Team choice, and an All-American, earning recognition from nine outlets, including four NCAA consensus selectors (Walter Camp Foundation, FWAA, Sporting News, Associated Press).

Philips caught 179 of his school-record 223 passes in the two seasons he played for Babers. A 2017 All-ACC Second Team performer and the Walter Camp Connecticut Player of the Year, Philips ranked in the top 10 nationally in receptions per game as both a junior and senior.

Dungey, who holds or shares 12 school records, has ranked in the top 10 nationally in total offense and completions per game each of the last two years. He's also finished in the top 20 in the country in passing both seasons.

Overall, eight of Babers' Syracuse pupils have earned All-ACC honors with four – Ishmael, Etta-Tawo, Philips and linebacker Parris Bennett – being named to either the first or second team. All four are on current NFL rosters, as is linebacker Zaire Franklin, who was selected by the Indianapolis Colts in the 2018 NFL Draft.

MAKING THE FALCONS FAST

Babers took over the Bowling Green program in 2014 and led the Falcons to an 18-9 record in his two years there, including victories over three Big Ten teams (Indiana - 2014; Maryland, Purdue - 2015). The Falcons went 8-6 in Babers' first season and captured the MAC East Division championship with a 5-3 league mark. Bowling Green lost the MAC title game to Northern Illinois, but rebounded for a 33-28 win versus South Alabama in the Raycom Media Camellia Bowl, BGSU's first bowl victory since 2004.

In 2015, Bowling Green was 10-3 under Babers and 7-1 against MAC competition to win the MAC East once again. The Falcons got the better of MAC West champion Northern Illinois in the league title game to win BGSU's second conference championship in three seasons. Babers presided over one of the most explosive offenses in the country, as the Falcons ranked in the top 10 nationally in first downs (1st - 389), total offense (4th - 546.8 ypg), passing offense (5th - 366.8 ypg), third-down conversion percentage (5th - .502) and scoring (6th - 42.2 ppg).

Babers mentored 17 All-MAC performers at BGSU, including 11 in 2015. Falcons quarterback Matt Johnson was named the 2015 MAC Vern Smith Leadership Award winner, presented to the conference's top football player, and earned MAC Offensive Player of the Year honors. In addition, Johnson finished second nationally in passing yards (4,946), touchdown passes (46) and fifth in passing yards per game (353.3). He set the MAC single-season record for touchdown passes and eclipsed Ben Roethlisberger's conference record for most passing yards in a season.

Another of Babers' charges – Roger Lewis – also had a standout 2015 campaign. Lewis, now an NFL receiver for the New York Giants, finished second in the FBS in receiving yards (1,544), third in touchdown catches (16) and fifth in receiving yards per game (110.3). He became the first Falcon since 1994 to earn All-America honors from the Associated Press (third team) and received second-team honors from the FWAA.

EXCELLENCE AT EASTERN ILLINOIS

Babers excelled in his first head coaching position, leading Eastern Illinois to a 19-7 record in two seasons, including a 14-1 mark against Ohio Valley Conference foes. His 2012 and 2013 Panther teams won the conference championship and earned FCS playoff berths. Babers was named Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year both seasons.

In 2013, the Panthers finished 12-2, including an 8-0 conference record, and reached the FCS quarterfinals. The Panthers were ranked as high as No. 2 in the polls and led the nation in total yards per game (589.5) and points per game (48.2). EIU averaged 372.4 yards passing per contest and 217.1 yards a game rushing on its way to outscoring its opponents, 636-270. The offense was diverse with four different receivers totaling at least 700 yards and eight touchdowns apiece, and two running backs who combined to rush for 2,539 yards.

Dino Babers with 2013 Walter Payton Award winner Jimmy Garoppolo.

Babers also proved to be an effective defensive coach. In 2013, Eastern Illinois ranked in the top 30 nationally in scoring defense, red-zone defense and pass efficiency defense. EIU led the nation in fumbles recovered (23) and was sixth nationally with a +14 turnover margin.

Panthers quarterback Jimmy Garoppolo was named the 2013 Walter Payton Award winner as the top player in the FCS after throwing for 5,050 yards and 53 touchdowns. Garoppolo, now the starter for the San Francisco 49ers, passed for 8,873 yards and 84 scores in his two seasons with Babers to transform himself into a second-round draft pick. In addition, Babers mentored 2012 Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year Erik Lora, who set league single-season records with 136 receptions and 1,664 receiving yards. Lora followed it up with 123 catches for 1,544 yards and a conference-record 19 touchdowns in 2013.

Upon his arrival at EIU in 2012, Babers took a Panthers team that had finished last in the Ohio Valley Conference in 2011 and led them to a first-place finish with a 6-1 league mark. It was just the fourth time in OVC history that a team went from worst to first in the span of a season.

PROFESSIONAL BUILDING BLOCKS

Prior to taking the helm at Eastern Illinois, Babers spent four seasons at Baylor in various capacities. Before that, he worked for four seasons at UCLA as assistant head coach, running backs coach and wide receivers coach.

A native of San Diego, Calif., Babers also made assistant coaching stops at Pittsburgh, Texas A&M, Arizona, San Diego State, Purdue, Northern Arizona, UNLV and Eastern Illinois. He began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant at Hawaii in 1984. Babers spent the next two seasons in a similar position at Arizona State before landing his first full-time job at Eastern Illinois in 1987.

Babers' stops at Texas A&M and Arizona included stints as the offensive coordinator. In 1998, he directed an Arizona attack that ranked in the top 20 in scoring offense (15th) and total offense (18th). The Wildcats were 12-1 that season and finished fourth in both polls.

Babers has coached or recruited more than 50 NFL players, including 30 draft picks, three Pro Bowlers (Lance Briggs, Matt Slater, Josh Gordon) and 2000 All-Pro selection Az-Zahir Hakim.

Thirteen of his protégés have been picked in the first three rounds of the NFL Draft, including six in the first two rounds. Arizona running back Trung Canidate was the first-round choice of the St. Louis Rams in 2000. Wide receivers Brian Alford (Purdue), Will Blackwell (San Diego State), Dennis Northcutt (Arizona), Josh Gordon (Baylor) and Garoppolo were selected in the second round.

A 1984 graduate of the University of Hawaii with a bachelor's degree in education, Babers started at three different positions (outside linebacker, strong safety, running back) for the Warriors during his collegiate career, while earning All-Western Athletic Conference Academic honors. As a senior, he served as Hawaii's special teams captain and was the squad's leading rusher.

Babers tried out for the BC Lions of the Canadian Football League before an injury in training camp ended his playing career.

Babers, who received his master's degree in education administration and supervision from Arizona State in 1987, and his wife, Susan, have four daughters – Breeahnah, Tasha, Jazzmin and Paris. Jazzmin was a member of the Texas A&M volleyball team from 2012-16. She is married to current Orange offensive lineman Koda Martin. Breeahnah married Vincent Palmieri in June 2018.

The Babers family (L-R): Paris, Tasha, Dino, Susan, Vincent Palmieri, Breeahnah Palmieri, Jazzmin Martin and Koda Martin.

KIM McCLOUD

Assistant Head Coach/Cornerbacks • Third Season

With extensive experience coaching both sides of the football, Kim McCloud joined Dino Babers' staff as the Orange's assistant head coach in January 2016. After spending his first two seasons coaching Syracuse's receivers, McCloud shifted to defense in 2018 to mentor the Orange cornerbacks.

McCloud and Babers have worked together for nine seasons. Before joining him at Syracuse, McCloud was Babers' defensive coordinator at Eastern Illinois (2012-13) and Bowling Green (2014). In 2015, McCloud was promoted to assistant head coach for the Falcons and coached the team's receivers. He and Babers first formed their working relationship as assistants at Baylor from 2008-10.

At Syracuse, McCloud produced two All-Americans and three All-ACC performers in his two seasons coaching the receivers. In 2016, McCloud's influence helped Amba Etta-Tawo become one of college football's breakout stars. Relatively unknown before arriving at Syracuse, Etta-Tawo set 10 school receiving records in his one year with the Orange and was named to four All-America teams.

In 2017, it was Steve Ishmael who took the nation by storm. Ishmael ranked second in the FBS in receptions per game (8.8) and total catches (105). He also finished in the top 10 in receiving yards per game (4th - 112.2) and total receiving yardage (7th - 1,347). Ishmael earned nine separate All-America honors, including second-team recognition from NCAA consensus selectors the Walter Camp Foundation, the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) and Sporting News.

Ishmael formed one half of Syracuse's dynamic 2017 receiving duo. Partner Ervin Philips also benefited from McCloud's expertise. Philips caught 179 of his school-record 223 passes in two seasons working with McCloud. A 2017 All-ACC Second Team performer and the Walter Camp Connecticut Player of the Year, Philips ranked in the top 10 nationally in receptions per game as a junior and senior.

Syracuse wasn't the first program to see its receivers excel under McCloud's direction. In 2015, McCloud's work helped Bowling Green wideouts Roger Lewis (first team), Gehrig Dieter (second team) and Ronnie Moore (third team) earn All-MAC honors. Lewis was an unstoppable force. He ranked second in the FBS in receiving yards (1,544), third in touchdown receptions (16) and fifth in receiving yards per game (110.3) on his way to FWAA (second team) and Associated Press (third team) All-America honors.

Before moving to the offensive side of the ball, McCloud built his coaching reputation as the architect of aggressive, hard-hitting defenses. His 2014 Bowling Green unit forced 33 turnovers in 14 games (2.4 avg.) to help the Falcons win the Mid-American Conference (MAC) East Division title and defeat South Alabama in the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl. The unit featured former Arizona Cardinals linebacker Gabe Martin, who recorded 115 total tackles and led the MAC with 18 tackles for loss.

At Eastern Illinois, McCloud was part of Babers' staff that turned around a struggling Panthers program. After successive 2-9 records in the two seasons before the staff's arrival, Eastern Illinois improved to 7-5 in 2012 and went 12-2 in 2013. The Panthers won the Ohio Valley Conference and made the FCS playoffs both years, including finishing with the No. 3 national ranking in 2013. McCloud's schemes resulted in a 2013 Panther defense that led the FCS in fumble recoveries (23), gained 37 turnovers, and finished sixth nationally in turnover margin (+14).

Prior to reuniting with Babers at EIU, McCloud served as an assistant coach at Akron (2011), Baylor (2008-10), Nevada (2000-07) and Idaho (1998-99). At Baylor, McCloud helped the Bears to the 2010 Texas Bowl and coached two All-Big 12 safeties in Byron Lander and Jordan Lake, while also working as the defensive recruiting coordinator.

Before moving to Waco, McCloud was an assistant at Nevada for eight seasons, including seven years as the Wolf Pack's secondary coach. Nevada made three straight bowl appearances and won the 2006 Western Athletic Conference title in his final three years on the staff. McCloud coached a pair of All-WAC performers at Nevada, including receiver Nichiren Flowers, who ranked second in the WAC with 91 receptions in 2004.

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., McCloud was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at Hawaii, earning honorable mention All-WAC honors at defensive back. He signed as a free agent with the San Diego Chargers in 1991 and played two seasons (1991-92) in the Canadian Football League for the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Following his playing career, McCloud broke into coaching at Kaiser High School in Honolulu. He worked as a graduate assistant at Missouri in 1997, helping the Tigers earn an invitation to the Holiday Bowl.

In 1998, McCloud joined the staff at Idaho as a cornerbacks coach where he helped the Vandals win the Big West Conference and defeat Southern Miss in the Humanitarian Bowl.

A 1991 Hawaii graduate, McCloud and his wife, Renée, are the parents of two children – Kaleb and Rachel.

MIKE LYNCH

Offensive Coordinator/Running Backs • Third Season

A versatile coach who has taught every position on offense during his career, Mike Lynch was elevated to offensive coordinator and running backs coach in 2018. He is in his seventh season working with Dino Babers and his third year at Syracuse.

Prior to his current appointment, Lynch served as the Orange's co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach for two seasons. In that role, he helped spearhead a record-setting Syracuse attack that posted two of the top three total offense figures in team history (2016 - 5,290 yards; 2017 - 5,476 yards).

In 2017, the Orange ranked third in the ACC in total offense (456.3 ypg) and second in passing (294.8 ypg). Lynch's work with the offensive line paved the way for the Orange to top 500 yards of offense in four games and increase their rushing output by more than 40 yards per contest from 2016. Left tackle Cody Conway earned All-ECAC First Team honors following the season. Right tackle Jamar McGloster was selected to play in the 2018 East-West Shrine Game and signed a free-agent contract with the San Francisco 49ers.

Lynch's first season at Syracuse marked the dawn of a new era for the program. The transition from a run-based scheme to the up-tempo spread utilized by Babers and Lynch resulted in more than 40 school records, including new season marks for most pass completions (332) and most passing yards (3,855). The play of Lynch's offensive line was critical to the production, as the group protected a collection of Syracuse quarterbacks who ranked 11th nationally and second in the ACC in passing at 321.3 yards per game.

Lynch joined the Syracuse staff in January 2016 after helping run one of the most explosive offenses in college football under Babers at Bowling Green. As the co-offensive coordinator, as well as the offensive line and running backs coach for the Falcons in 2015, Lynch helped direct an offense that ranked in the top 10 nationally in first downs (1st - 389), total offense (4th - 546.8 ypg), passing offense (5th - 366.8 ypg), third-down conversion percentage (5th - .502) and scoring offense (6th - 42.2 ppg). The unit powered Bowling Green to the Mid-American Conference (MAC) title and an appearance in the 2015 GoDaddy Bowl.

Lynch's tutelage helped produce seven 2015 All-MAC selections on offense, including linemen Alex Huettel (second team) and Jacob Bennett (second team) and running back Travis Greene (first team). Huettel earned All-America honors from Phil Steele and was selected to participate in the 2016 East-West Shrine Game.

Before adding co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach to his duties, Lynch served as Bowling Green's running backs coach in 2014. That season, he mentored the trio of Greene, Fred Coppet and Andre Givens. The threesome combined for 2,192 yards and 26 touchdowns on the ground to help the Falcons capture the MAC East Division crown and win the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

Prior to his stint at Bowling Green, Lynch served as an assistant coach from 2005-13 at Eastern Illinois. He spent his final two years at EIU as the running backs coach under Babers, mentoring two 1,000-yard rushers. All-Ohio Valley Conference honoree Jake Walker ran for 1,133 yards and 12 touchdowns in 2012. The following season, Shepard Little was named to the All-OVC First Team after rushing for 1,551 yards and 15 scores. Little ranked seventh nationally in rushing yardage and posted seven 100-yard games.

Most of Lynch's first six years at EIU were spent coaching the wide receivers. While in that position, he guided the career of 2006 All-American Micah Rucker and led several productive units, including a 2011 Panthers receiving corps that accounted for 20 of the team's 34 touchdowns. His 2010 collection of wideouts combined to catch 193 passes for 2,279 yards and 18 scores.

Lynch got his first taste of coaching in 1999 as a restricted earnings coach at Montana. After a year with the Grizzlies, Lynch spent five seasons at Utah State. While with the Aggies, he coached three tight ends who signed with NFL teams. Chris Cooley, a two-time Pro Bowler, was the third-round selection of the Washington Redskins in the 2003 NFL Draft, while J.R. Suguturaga (Miami Dolphins) and Casey Poppinga (Pittsburgh Steelers) both signed free-agent contracts.

A Roseville, Calif. native, Lynch was an offensive lineman for Sierra Junior College in California before finishing his collegiate career at Montana in 1997 and 1998. The Grizzlies combined to win 16 games with Lynch on the roster and reached the Divsion I-AA (now FCS) playoffs both seasons.

Lynch holds a bachelor's degree from Montana and a master's degree in secondary education from Utah State. He married the former Emily Schilling in June 2011. The couple have two children – Madison and Will.

BRIAN WARD

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers • Third Season

An experienced coach who has worked at every level of college football, Brian Ward was named the Orange's defensive coordinator in January 2016 and assumed the role of linebackers coach in 2017.

A Broyles Award nominee as the nation's top assistant, Ward directed a Syracuse defense that was one of the country's most improved for the majority of the 2017 season. The Orange moved up 69 spots in the final NCAA statistical rankings from 2016 in third-down defense, finishing 13th nationally at 31.1 percent. In addition, Ward's unit allowed 6.4 fewer points, 28.3 fewer rushing yards and 57.1 fewer total yards per game than it did the previous season.

Individually, Ward's teaching helped Syracuse linebackers Parris Bennett and Zaire Franklin develop into all-conference performers. Bennett recorded consecutive 100+ tackle seasons playing in Ward's scheme and signed as a free agent with the Green Bay Packers. Franklin finished his Syracuse career with more than 300 tackles and was selected by the Indianapolis Colts in the 2018 NFL Draft.

Before joining the Orange, Ward served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for Bowling Green in 2015. He oversaw a defense that improved in several statistical categories from the previous year and featured two All-MAC selections at linebacker, including first-team honoree Austin Valdez. Ward also served as Bowling Green's head coach for the 2015 GoDaddy Bowl versus Georgia Southern.

Ward's defensive improvements were a major factor in Bowling Green winning the 2015 Mid-American Conference title. The Falcons surrendered 4.6 fewer points and nearly 76 yards less of total offense per game than they did in 2014. In addition, Bowling Green moved up the NCAA statistical rankings in passing defense (up 44 spots), rushing defense (up 20 spots), scoring defense (from 106 to 84), and total defense (from 115 to 86). Bowling Green finished 13th nationally in turnovers gained (27) and eighth in interceptions (20).

Valdez was the leader of the unit, racking up 144 tackles and ranking 10th in the FBS at 10.3 tackles per contest. Trent Greene, another of Ward's charges, earned All-MAC Second Team plaudits after finishing with 115 tackles.

Prior to his one-year stint at Bowling Green, Ward was the defensive coordinator at Western Illinois where he molded the Leathernecks into one of the top defenses in FCS football from 2012-14. Ward's 2013 unit ranked seventh in the nation in total defense (305.3 ypg) and third nationally in passing defense (149.0 ypg).

In 2014, Ward coached two All-Missouri Valley Football Conference performers (Kevin Kintzel, Kris Harley). In addition, the Leathernecks put on one of the most impressive defensive displays of the season against Wisconsin running back Melvin Gordon. Western Illinois held the Heisman Trophy finalist to 38 yards on 17 carries (2.2 avg.).

Before joining Western Illinois, Ward was the defensive coordinator at Drake in 2011 where he helped the Bulldogs to a 9-2 record and the Pioneer Football League championship. The Bulldogs finished the year second nationally in rushing defense (77.2 ypg), fifth in sacks (39) and seventh in scoring defense (17.8 ppg).

Ward's other previous coaching stops include: McPherson College (1997, 2007-09), Glendale Community College (1999-2000), Wabash College (2001-04), Missouri Southern State (2005) and North Dakota State (2010). He spent the 2006 season as the defensive coordinator and assistant head coach at Tulsa Union High School in Oklahoma.

A 1997 graduate of McPherson College, Ward served as the head coach of his alma mater for three seasons from 2007-09, compiling a 17-14 (.548) record. In his final season, he led the Bulldogs to a 9-2 mark, the program's first berth in the NAIA national playoffs, and was named CollegeFanz.com Sports Network NAIA Coach of the Year. During his head coaching tenure, the Bulldogs boasted seven All-Americans, two Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference (KCAC) Players of the Year, seven NAIA Scholar-Athletes, and 39 All-KCAC selections.

Ward's additional coaching highlights include being named the 2002 AFCA Division III Assistant Coach of the Year while serving as assistant head coach, special teams coordinator and secondary coach at Wabash College. The Little Giants were undefeated during the 2002 regular season. They won the North Coast Athletic Conference and reached the Division III quarterfinals, while leading the country in interceptions (25) and takeaways (43).

In 2003, Wabash ascended to No. 2 in the national polls. The Little Giants ranked among the top 10 nationally in total defense, rushing defense, and interceptions. In 2004, Ward's secondary set a Wabash season record by allowing just five touchdown passes.

As the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Glendale Community College in 1999 and 2000, Ward was the architect of a Vaqueros defense that helped the program win the 2000 NJCAA national title.

Ward holds a bachelor's degree in history from McPherson and a master's degree in organizational management from the University of Phoenix. He is married to the former Amy Brandseth. The couple have three children – Travis, Ellie and Erin.

JUSTIN LUSTIG

Special Teams Coordinator/Outside Receivers • Second Season

Justin Lustig, the 2016 Division II national coach of the year, was appointed the Orange's special teams coordinator and outside receivers coach by Dino Babers in 2018. Lustig joined the Orange staff in February 2017 and spent his first season at Syracuse as the program's special teams coordinator and running backs coach.

During his career, Lustig has developed 42 all-conference players. He has worked on the staffs of five teams that reached the NCAA playoffs and coached in two bowl games.

Upon arriving at Syracuse, Lustig made an immediate impact, serving as the architect for some of the country's top special teams units in 2017. The Orange punt coverage team ranked fourth nationally in punt return defense (2.67 ypr) and set school season records for fewest opponent punt returns (9) and fewest punt return yards allowed (24). In addition, Syracuse led the ACC and finished 10th in the FBS in net punting average (41.3) and was No. 1 in the conference in kickoff coverage (42.7 net avg.).

In particular, kicker Cole Murphy, return specialist Sean Riley and punter Sterling Hofrichter excelled under Lustig's teaching. A semifinalist for the 2017 Lou Groza Award as the nation's top placekicker, Murphy set an Orange season record with 20 made field goals and ranked among the ACC leaders in scoring. Riley was 12th in the FBS in combined kick return yards and third in the ACC in kickoff return average. Hofrichter ranked among the conference's best in percentage of punts landed inside the 20-yard line and touchback percentage.

Before joining the Orange, Lustig was the head coach at Edinboro University (Pa.) and earned 2016 D2Football.com Coach of the Year honors. Lustig inherited an 0-11 team and led the Fighting Scots to a 9-2 record in his one season at the helm. The turnaround was the largest in Division II football history and the nine wins matched the program record. Along with his national coach of the year award, Lustig was voted the Don Hansen Football Gazette Super Region One co-Coach of the Year and the Pennsylvania State Athletics Conference (PSAC) West Coach of the Year.

Prior to becoming the head coach at Edinboro, Lustig made assistant coaching stops at five schools, including four Division I institutions. His most notable achievements came at Ball State where he was the special teams coordinator and running backs coach from 2011-15. The Cardinals played in two bowl games during Lustig's time in Muncie. Ball State went 19-7 those two seasons with four wins over BCS conference teams (Indiana - 2, USF, Virginia).

In 2015, the Cardinals ranked among the top four in the Mid-American Conference (MAC) in every special teams category. Lustig also mentored running back Darian Green, who led the league in all-purpose yardage.

The previous season, Scott Secor was named the MAC Special Teams Player of the Year and a Groza Award semifinalist. Lustig also coached All-MAC First Team return man Eric Patterson and third-team All-MAC running back Jahwan Edwards. Edwards became the third ball carrier in Ball State history with three 1,000-yard seasons and finished his career as the program's all-time leader in rushing and rushing touchdowns.

After starting his coaching career as an assistant at Division III Christopher Newport from 2001-02, Lustig moved on to Villanova in 2003 as the Wildcats' cornerbacks coach. Lustig's tutelage produced immediate results, as Villanova finished No. 1 in the Atlantic 10 in passing efficiency defense and total defense.

Lustig returned to Christopher Newport for the 2004 and 2005 seasons, serving as special teams coordinator, recruiting coordinator and defensive backs coach. His four-year tenure with the Captains featured a USA South Atlantic Conference co-championship and three NCAA Division III playoff berths.

In 2006, Lustig took over as the special teams coordinator and running backs coach at Eastern Illinois. He spent three years with the Panthers, helping EIU to two FCS playoff appearances and coaching three different 1,000-yard rushers.

Following his stint at Eastern Illinois, Lustig worked for two seasons at Louisiana-Lafayette as the special teams coordinator and running backs coach.

A 1996 graduate of Pennsylvania's Cathedral Prep, Lustig played collegiately at Bucknell. He was a four-year starter at defensive back for the Bison and captained the team as a senior. In 1997, Lustig and his teammates enjoyed the most successful season in school history, finishing with a 10-1 overall record.

Lustig earned his bachelor's degree in English and history from Bucknell in 2000. He also received his master's degree in human resource management from George Washington University in 2005.

Lustig and his wife, Beth Ann, have two sons, Samuel and Henry.

MIKE CAVANAUGH

Offensive Line • First Season

Mike Cavanaugh, who has spent nearly his entire 32-year coaching career mentoring offensive linemen, was named the Orange's offensive line coach in January 2018. He brings 13 seasons of Power-Five experience to Syracuse and most recently served as the offensive line coach at Nebraska from 2015-17.

In addition to his 30 years of collegiate experience, Cavanaugh spent two seasons (1997-98) in the National Football League as an assistant offensive line and quality control coach with the San Diego Chargers.

At Nebraska, Cavanaugh's units proved to be among the nation's best at protecting the passer. The Cornhuskers ranked in the top 15 in fewest sacks allowed in two of Cavanaugh's three seasons in Lincoln. In 2016, Nebraska surrendered 15 sacks to rank first in the Big Ten and 14th in the country, as the Huskers finished with an 8-4 record and advanced to the Music City Bowl.

The previous season, the Huskers gave up 14 sacks to rank second in the conference and ninth nationally. Cavanaugh's front five helped Nebraska finish in the top three in the Big Ten in scoring offense, passing offense, total offense and third-down percentage. The Huskers also generated 3,000 passing yards and 2,000 rushing yards in the same season for just the third time in program history.

Under Cavanaugh's direction, Nebraska tackle Alex Lewis earned 2015 All-Big Ten Second Team honors. Cavanaugh protégés Nick Gates and Jerald Foster were also recognized by the conference. Gates was a Big Ten All-Freshman pick for the Huskers in 2015 and received honorable mention All-Big Ten plaudits in 2017. Foster was a 2017 All-Big Ten Honorable Mention choice.

Prior to his Nebraska appointment, Cavanaugh spent 10 seasons (2005-14) as the offensive line coach at Oregon State where the performance of his front five led to record-setting offensive numbers and six bowl appearances. Behind the play of Cavanaugh's unit, quarterback Sean Mannion, who completed his career in 2014, set single-season and career Pac-12 records for passing yards. Oregon State's offensive line also cleared the way for several all-conference runners, including Yvenson Bernard and Jacquizz Rodgers who each produced three 1,000-yard seasons while Cavanaugh was in Corvallis.

Because the Beavers' success, Cavanaugh's Oregon State players were regularly rewarded for their efforts. Andy Levitre, Jeremy Perry and Isaac Seumalo garnered All-America honors, while 23 of his players earned all-conference recognition.

From 1999-2004, Cavanaugh played a key role in directing some of the college football's top offenses as the offensive line coach at Hawaii. The Warriors ranked in the top 10 nationally in total offense three times in Cavanaugh's six seasons.

Before his stint at Hawaii, Cavanaugh made college coaching stops at Ferris State, Sacred Heart, Murray State, Alma College and Wesleyan College (Conn.).

A player at New Haven from 1981-82, Cavanaugh got his coaching start as a graduate assistant at Albany in 1986. That same year he received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Southern Connecticut State.

Cavanaugh and his wife, Laurie, have two sons – Shane and Blair.

RENO FERRI

Tight Ends/Inside Receivers • Third Season

A veteran coach with strong recruiting ties to New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Washington, D.C. and Virginia, Reno Ferri is in his third year with the Orange. He was named tight ends coach by Dino Babers in January 2016 and began overseeing the inside receivers in 2018.

In his first two seasons at Syracuse, Ferri's work with the tight ends helped the Orange produce two of the top three total offense figures in program history (2017 - 5,476 yards, 2016 - 5,290).

In 2017, tight end Ravian Pierce contributed to a Syracuse passing attack that ranked second in the ACC at 294.8 yards per game. Pierce caught 29 passes for 263 yards and four touchdowns, the most receptions for an Orange tight end since 2012.

Ferri came to Syracuse after spending the previous five seasons at Towson where he worked with the Tigers running backs, fullbacks and tight ends. He was also the Tigers recruiting coordinator from 2011-15.

In Ferri's three seasons as running backs coach, the Tigers averaged more than 230 yards rushing per game and posted an overall record of 29-10. Towson rushed for at least 200 yards 24 times in that span, topped the 300-yard mark on eight occasions, and went over 400 yards twice. In 2013, the Tigers ran for more than 240 yards per contest en route to a 13-3 record and an appearance in the FCS title game.

Under Ferri's guidance, the Tigers ground attack shattered virtually every school record. His 2013 stable of backs rushed for a school-record 3,830 yards and scored 55 touchdowns. In 2011, Ferri's first year leading the unit, the group averaged 229.9 yards per game, a mark that led the Colonial Athletic Association (CAA).

Individually, Ferri coached four Towson ball carriers who earned All-CAA honors and three FCS All-Americans. In 2013, former Baltimore Ravens running back Terrance West set the FCS season records for rushing yards (2,509) and rushing touchdowns (41). West received first-team All-America honors and was named CAA Player of the Year.

As a freshman in 2011, West led the FCS with 29 rushing touchdowns, was tabbed CAA Offensive Rookie of the Year, and captured the Jerry Rice Award as the top freshman in FCS football. West entered the NFL Draft after his junior year and was selected by the Cleveland Browns in the third round.

Ferri protégés Tyler Wharton and Emmanuel Holder also earned All-America honors during that time. Wharton was a first-team selection in 2011. Holder received freshman All-America accolades in 2012 and was a national second-team honoree the following year. Ferri also tutored Darius Victor, a 2013 freshman All-American and the 2013 CAA Offensive Rookie of the Year.

Prior to his time at Towson, Ferri spent six seasons at Akron. He joined the Zips In 2004 as a graduate assistant coach for offense. The following year, he served as Akron's director of football operations and was part of a Zips staff that guided the team to the 2005 MAC title and a berth in the Motor City Bowl.

In 2006, Ferri was promoted to wide receivers coach. He worked with Jabari Arthur, who became an all-league performer, as well as All-MAC standout and freshman All-American David Harvey. Harvey led the MAC and ranked second nationally in kickoff return average (30.0).

In 2007, Ferri was named Akron's running backs coach, a position he held for three years. During that time, he mentored All-MAC selection Bryan Williams and Dennis Kennedy. In 2008, Kennedy ran for 1,321 yards, the third-best season rushing total in Akron history at the time, and set school season records for most rushing touchdowns (17) and most total touchdowns (18).

Ferri was Akron's recruiting coordinator from 2005 to 2009, leading the effort that resulted in Akron landing the top-ranked classes in the MAC three years running from 2005-07.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Ferri is a 2000 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy. A three-year letterwinner at running back for the Black Knights, he was a member of the first Army West Point team to compete in Conference USA. As a rookie in 1996, Ferri was part of a nationally-ranked Black Knights squad that was 10-2 and played Auburn in the Independence Bowl.

After earning his bachelor's degree in general management with a minor in systems engineering, Ferri began his coaching career in 2000 as a graduate assistant at West Point.

A first lieutenant in the U.S. Army from May 2000 to March 2002, Ferri served as a fire direction officer and battalion survey officer. He also previously worked as a consultant for British Petroleum. A systems engineer, Ferri and his team designed and implemented a web-based tracking system for BP to monitor the 16,000 vessels responding to the Deep Water Horizon oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico.

Ferri and his wife, Rebekah, have four children – Giana, Zola, Sofie and Reno III.

KIRK MARTIN

Quarterbacks • First Season

A highly successful 25-year coaching veteran, Kirk Martin was named the Orange's quarterbacks coach in February 2018.

Martin arrived at Syracuse after starting the football program at Houston's Manvel High School where he turned the Mavericks into a state powerhouse. In 10 seasons at Manvel, Martin posted a 108-25 (.812) record. Overall, he owns a career coaching mark of 115-39 (.747), which includes a two-year stint as the head coach at Alpine (Texas) High School.

Manvel won at least 11 games eight times under Martin. He led the Mavericks to six district titles, eight consecutive playoff appearances (2010-17) and state championship game berths in 2011 and 2017. In 2011, Martin earned Touchdown Club of Houston Coach of the Year honors after guiding Manvel to its first state title game appearance. This past fall, Martin was named the 2017 Texan Live Coach of the Year. He led the Mavericks to a 14-1 record. Their only loss was a 53-49 decision to Highland Park in the Class 5A Division I state championship game.

During Martin's tenure, Manvel produced dozens of players who went on to play college football at the FBS level, including quarterbacks D'Eriq King (Houston), Kyle Trask (Florida), Travaughn Colwell (New Mexico State), Dexter Foreman (Minnesota/Maryland) and his son, Kason Martin (North Texas).

A native of Quitaque, Texas, Martin began his coaching career in 1992 as an assistant coach at Cathedral High School in El Paso. His résumé also includes high school stops as an assistant at Riverside, Alvin, Odessa Permian and Giddings.

In 2004, Martin was named athletic director and head football coach at Alpine High School. He coached two seasons there before being hired in January 2006 to build the Manvel program from scratch. He then spent two years preparing the Mavericks for their first season of competition in 2008.

A tight end and four-year letterwinner for the University of Texas at El Paso, Martin holds a bachelor's degree in kinesiology from the school and a master's degree in school administration from Sul Ross State University.

He and his wife, Caren, have four children – Koda Martin, Cory Jo Martin, London Harris and Kason Martin. Koda Martin, London Harris and Kason Martin all played for their father at Manvel and are continuing their football careers in college. Koda Martin is a redshirt senior offensive lineman at Syracuse. He played his first three seasons at Texas A&M and is married to Orange head coach Dino Babers' daughter, Jazzmin. London Harris is a linebacker at Texas State and Kason Martin is in his first season at North Texas. Martin's daughter, Cory Jo, is also a collegiate athlete. She is a member of the Mary Hardin-Baylor volleyball team.

NICK MONROE

Safeties/Nickelbacks • Third Season

Nick Monroe, who has won conference championships at each of his previous coaching stops, is in his third year with the Orange. He joined the staff in 2016 and served as Syracuse's secondary coach for two seasons before narrowing his focus to the safeties and nickelbacks for 2018.

During his first season with the Orange, Monroe instilled the program's defensive principles in a young secondary hit hard by injuries. His tutelage was critical to the development of cornerback Christopher Fredrick, who emerged as a starter the last half of the season and earned 2016 All-ACC Freshman Second Team honors from Athlon Sports.

In 2017, the Orange defensive backfield helped the Orange finish 13th nationally in third-down defense (.311), while allowing 6.4 fewer points and 57.1 fewer total yards per game than the previous season. Of note was Monroe's work with cornerback Scoop Bradshaw, who developed into the starter opposite Fredrick and led the team with six pass breakups.

Prior to coming to Syracuse, Monroe worked as the secondary coach at Bowling Green from 2010-15. He consistently produced units that ranked among the nation's best and his expertise helped the Falcons capture two Mid-American Conference (MAC) titles and earn four straight bowl invitations. Monroe's guidance also helped turn Jude Adjei-Barimah into a contributor in the National Football League. A defensive back for Bowling Green from 2011-14, Adjei-Barimah played in 23 games (eight starts) for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 2015-16.

When Monroe arrived at Bowling Green in 2010, he inherited an inexperienced unit that featured four new starters. In two seasons, he molded them into one of the stingiest defensive backfields in the country. Featuring All-MAC performers BooBoo Gates and Cameron Truss, the 2012 Falcons ranked 13th nationally in passing defense (190.1 ypg) to help propel the team to an 8-5 record and an appearance in the Military Bowl.

The following season, the Bowling Green secondary was even better. The Falcons finished sixth in the FBS against the pass (170.9 ypg) and Gates earned All-MAC First Team honors for the second year in a row. As a team, Bowling Green won its first conference championship since 1992 and played Pittsburgh in the 2013 Little Caesars Pizza Bowl.

In 2014, Monroe's first season working for Dino Babers, he successfully oversaw the maturation of safety Brian Sutton and the development of two young cornerbacks. Sutton's production skyrocketed from the previous season. He finished second on the team with 102 tackles after making 43 stops the year before. In addition, the rookie cornerbacks Nick Johnson and Clint Stephens combined for nine interceptions. They were the only two freshmen in the country to record at least four picks (Johnson - 5, Stephens - 4). The unit also featured Adjei-Barimah, who recorded 82 tackles.

The quartet of Sutton, Johnson, Stephens and Adjei-Barimah was critical to Bowling Green's success, as the the Falcons won the 2014 MAC East title and topped South Alabama 33-28 in the inaugural Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

In 2015, Bowling Green posted a 10-4 record, won the MAC title for the second time in three seasons, and earned a berth in the GoDaddy Bowl. Monroe's defensive backfield once again helped the Falcons soar, finishing eighth in the FBS with 20 interceptions, including a team-high six picks by cornerback Alfonso Mack.

Before his stint at Bowling Green, Monroe coached defense for six years at Colgate University. He coached the defensive ends from 2004-05 before moving to secondary coach in 2006. In 2009, he was promoted to co-defensive coordinator and helped implement a scheme that stymied the opposition. The Raiders led the Patriot League and finished 29th nationally in total defense (308.2 ypg). Colgate was 9-2 and held seven of its opponents to 20 points or less. Monroe also served as the team's recruiting coordinator for five seasons.

In his last three years as the Colgate secondary coach, Monroe mentored four first-team All-Patriot League selections (Uzi Idah, Wayne Moten, Chris Ekpo, Cody Williams) and one second-team honoree (Moten). In addition, defensive back Demitri Diamond was named 2009 Patriot League Rookie of the Year.

Colgate won a pair of Patriot League titles (2005, 2008) while Monroe was on the staff and made two Division I-AA (now FCS) playoff appearances.

Prior to his time at Colgate, Monroe was the secondary coach in 2002 and 2003 at Allegheny College in Meadville, Pa. He helped the Gators capture the 2003 North Coast Athletic Conference (NCAC) championship and earn a berth in the NCAA Division III playoffs.

Monroe was a four-year letterwinner at cornerback for St. Cloud State University in Minnesota. He earned his undergraduate degree in marketing from the school in 2001.

Nick and his wife, Nicole, have a son, Wyatt.

The Monroe family (L-R): Nick, Wyatt and Nicole.

VINSON REYNOLDS

Defensive Tackles • Third Season

A dynamic recruiter and teacher, Vinson Reynolds was named the Orange's defensive line coach in January 2016 and began coaching the defensive tackles exclusively in 2017.

Reynolds spent his first season at Syracuse molding a young unit that featured two true freshman starters at defensive end. He also made his mark on the recruiting trail, serving as the primary recruiting coach ESPN 300 quarterback Tommy DeVito.

In 2017, Reynolds coached a group of interior linemen who helped the Orange finish 13th nationally in third-down defense (.311). The performance of Reynolds' unit also contributed to a Syracuse defense that allowed 6.4 fewer points, 28.3 fewer rushing yards and 57.1 fewer total yards per game than the previous season.

Reynolds joined the Orange after serving as the defensive line coach at Western Michigan from 2013-15. At WMU, he was part of a staff that engineered one of the most impressive turnarounds in FBS history. Reynolds and the WMU coaches transformed the Broncos from a 1-11 team in 2012 into a program that earned consecutive bowl berths in 2014 and 2015. The 2015 Broncos were 8-5 and defeated Middle Tennessee 45-31 in the Bahamas Bowl, the first bowl victory in school history.

In 2014, Reynolds led a Western Michigan defensive line that recorded 17 of the team's 29 sacks. The unit was part of a Broncos defense that finished third in the Mid-American Conference (MAC) in points allowed per game. Reynolds also was recognized for his recruiting prowess that year. Rivals.com named him to its list of the top 10 recruiters from schools outside the Power Five and American Athletic Conference (formerly known as the Big Six). That year Reynolds helped solidify, what was at the time, the website's highest-ranked class (No. 58) in MAC history.

Prior to his three-year stint in Kalamazoo, Reynolds mentored the defensive linemen at Central Michigan where he helped the Chippewas to a win over Western Kentucky in the 2012 Little Caesars Pizza Bowl. The group included current Steelers defensive end Leterrius Walton, who was selected in the sixth round of the 2015 NFL Draft.

Before making the move to CMU, Reynolds was the defensive line coach at Central Oklahoma in 2010. He also previously worked as a graduate assistant and defensive quality control coach at Oklahoma State for head coach Mike Gundy. Oklahoma State made appearances in the 2008 Holiday Bowl and 2010 Cotton Bowl while Reynolds was on the OSU staff.

Reynolds started his coaching career in 2006 as the defensive line coach at Division III University of Wisconsin-Platteville.

In addition to his collegiate experience, Reynolds has had the unique opportunity to complete two NFL internships. In 2015, he gained critical coaching skills and perspectives with the Baltimore Ravens under John Harbaugh. During the summer of 2016, Reynolds worked with head coach Chuck Pagano and the staff of the Indianapolis Colts.

A Detroit, Mich. native, Reynolds played his college football at Northern Illinois from 2000-03. He was named to the All-MAC First Team at defensive end as a senior after totaling 76 tackles, including 15 for a loss, and six sacks.

Reynolds earned his undergraduate degree from Northern Illinois in 2004. He received his master's degree in adult education from Wisconsin-Platteville in 2007. Reynolds and his wife, Cynthia, have two sons – Eric and Josiah. His son, Eric Coley, is a redshirt freshman defensive back for the Orange.

STEVE STANARD

Defensive Ends • Second Season

A veteran coach with more than 30 years of experience coaching defense, including 20 seasons as a coordinator, Steve Stanard is in his second season as Syracuse's defensive ends coach.

In 2017, Stanard mentored a young group of players, including team sack leader Alton Robinson, who helped the Orange rank 13th nationally in third-down defense (.311). The performance of Stanard's unit contributed to a Syracuse defense that allowed 6.4 fewer points, 28.3 fewer rushing yards and 57.1 fewer total yards per game than the previous season.

Prior to joining the Syracuse staff, Stanard served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Wyoming under head coach Craig Bohl from 2014-16. Stanard also worked for Bohl in 2012 and 2013 as the linebackers coach at North Dakota State. During Stanard's two years with the Bison, NDSU went 29-1 and captured consecutive FCS national titles.

In addition to his successful FCS playoff runs at NDSU, Stanard's postseason experience includes six bowl games and an NAIA national playoff appearance.

Stanard's Wyoming defenses featured three players who earned All-Mountain West honors – defensive end Eddie Yarbrough, safety Andrew Wingard and linebacker Lucas Wacha. Wingard was named to the FWAA Freshman All-America First Team in 2015. The next year, Stanard protégé Logan Wilson led all conference rookies in tackles per game (6.7) and was voted 2016 Mountain West Freshman of the Year.

In 2016, Stanard's unit helped Wyoming to a berth in the Mountain West title game and to an appearance in the Poinsettia Bowl versus BYU. The Cowboys ranked third nationally with five defensive touchdowns and were 10th in the country in takeaways (27). They led the Mountain West in fumble recoveries (12) and tied for second in the conference in both interceptions (15) and sacks (30).

At NDSU, Stanard's work with the linebackers contributed to the Bison boasting the nation's top-ranked scoring defense in both 2012 and 2013. NDSU allowed 11.5 points per game in 2012 and only 11.3 points per contest the following year. In 2013, the Bison also ranked third in the FCS in total defense (255.9 ypg), second in passing efficiency defense (97.59 rating), third in rushing defense (91.3 ypg) and eighth in passing defense (164.6 ypg). That season, Stanard mentored Grant Olson, who was named a third-team All-American by the Associated Press.

In 2012, not only did the Bison lead the FCS in scoring defense, but NDSU was No. 1 in total defense (234.5 ypg) and first downs allowed per game (12.7). They ranked second nationally in passing defense (140.6 ypg) and were fourth against the run (93.9 ypg).

Stanard's experience as a defensive coordinator includes running defenses at five schools in addition to Wyoming. He spent three seasons as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Tulane (2009-11), five years as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Colorado State (2003-07), three years as the defensive coordinator at New Mexico State (2000-02), one season as the defensive coordinator at South Dakota (1996) and five years as the defensive coordinator at Nebraska Wesleyan (1991-95).

In addition to his two decades as a coordinator, Stanard served as the defensive line coach at Ohio in 2008. He coached the defensive ends and outside linebackers from 1997-99 at New Mexico State before being named the Aggies' defensive coordinator in 2000.

Highlights from Stanard's previous stops include Tulane leading Conference USA in passing defense in two out of his three seasons there. At Colorado State, he helped the Rams to two bowl appearances, coached four defenders to All-Mountain West First or Second Team honors, and another 24 to All-MW Honorable Mention recognition. Stanard's 2006 CSU defense finished in the top four of the Mountain West in six statistical categories and was the only team in the conference with three defenders among the league's top tacklers.

At New Mexico State, Stanard mentored linebackers Dwayne Taylor and Jimmy Cottrell. Taylor was a three-time all-conference selection and concluded his career with 364 tackles, including 40 for a loss. Taylor went on to play in the Canadian Football League for the Saskatchewan Roughriders and Montreal Alouettes. Cottrell set a Western Athletic Conference single-season record in 2005 with 179 tackles. He earned honorable mention All-America honors from SI.com and became the first player in NMSU history to lead the program in tackles all four seasons.

Stanard began his college coaching career in 1988 as a student assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of Nebraska, under legendary head coach Tom Osborne. A linebacker for the Huskers from 1984-87, Stanard saw Nebraska earn seven bowl invitations during his time in Lincoln as both a coach and student-athlete.

After a three-year stint with the Huskers, Stanard received his first full-time job in 1991 coaching at Nebraska Wesleyan. He served as the school's defensive coordinator, and later, head coach and assistant athletic director.

Stanard earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Nebraska in 1989. He received his master's degree in business administration from the school in 1995.

Stanard and his wife, Jennifer, have four children – Austin, Paige, Max and Madison.

SEAN EDINGER

Assistant AD/Athletic Performance

Sean Edinger is in his third year as the football program's assistant athletics director for athletic performance. Appointed to the position in January 2016, Edinger is responsible for designing programs to increase the conditioning, speed, strength and agility of Syracuse's football student-athletes.

Prior to joining the Orange, Edinger served as the director of strength and conditioning at Bowling Green for two seasons, overseeing the strength and conditioning programs for BGSU's 18 sports. Edinger previously held a similar position at Eastern Illinois from June 2012 until his departure for Bowling Green.

Before his stint at Eastern Illinois, Edinger was the head strength coach at Central Missouri where he was directly responsible for all aspects of the Mules strength and conditioning program. He also previously worked as the head strength coach for football and volleyball at Haskell Indian Nations University in Lawrence, Kan. from 2008-09.

A graduate assistant at Missouri from 2006-08, Edinger worked with the Tigers volleyball and tennis teams. He also assisted with the football strength and conditioning program, helping players prepare for pro days and professional combines.

Edinger is a 2006 Kansas graduate. He earned his master's degree from Missouri in 2008. Edinger is SCCC certified through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) and holds a USA Weightlifting Level 1 Sports Performance certification. A member of the U.S. National Karate Team for five years, Edinger has nearly 20 years of experience in martial arts.

SEAN TETER

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Sean Teter was named an assistant strength and conditioning coach for football in February 2018. He came to Syracuse after serving as the head strength and conditioning coordinator at Central Missouri for six years.

At Central Missouri, Teter was responsible for implementing the strength and conditioning programs for all 17 of the Mules intercollegiate athletic programs. He directly supervised football, men's and women's basketball, baseball, softball, men's and women's golf, wrestling and bowling.

Teter worked with two national championship teams during his stint in Warrensburg. The Mules men's basketball team captured the NCAA Division II title in 2014 and the Jennies women's soccer team won it all in 2017.

Teter joined the Central Missouri staff in December of 2010 as a graduate assistant in strength and conditioning before leading the department.

Prior to working at Central Missouri, Teter was a strength and conditioning intern at MidAmerica Nazarene University in Olathe, Kan.

A two-year football letterman at Butler Community College, Teter transferred to Kansas and earned his bachelor's degree in sports science from the school in 2010. Teter graduated from Central Missouri with a master's degree in physical education in 2016.

Teter is SCCC certified through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) and holds a USA Weightlifting Level 1 Sports Performance certification.

KEITH CATON

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

Keith Caton joined the Orange staff as an assistant strength and conditioning coach for football in January 2018. Caton came to Syracuse after serving as the director of athletic performance for football at Indiana from 2016-17.

Caton has worked 14 bowl games in his career, including the 2016 Foster Farms Bowl in his first season with the Hoosiers.

Overall, Caton has 18 years of experience in the profession with additional stops at Baylor (2012-15), Western Kentucky (2011-12), Missouri (2005-10), Elon (2003-04), Auburn (2001-03) and Southern Miss (1999-2001).

Prior to his arrival in Bloomington, Caton was Baylor's director of football athletic performance. The Bears posted a 40-12 record in his four seasons, including three straight 10-win campaigns.

At Western Kentucky, Caton worked with football and led all aspects of the strength and conditioning programs for baseball and track & field.

Caton was named assistant strength and conditioning director at Missouri in August 2005. In addition, he served as the director of the Mizzou Performance Club. He assisted with football and led the design and implementation of strength and conditioning programs for baseball and wrestling.

In January 2004, Caton was promoted to head strength and conditioning coach at Elon, where he oversaw the development of all varsity sports.

Caton graduated from Auburn with an educational specialist degree in 2003. While there, he assisted with football, baseball, softball and oversaw equestrian.

A four-year player for the Southern Miss football team from 1995-99, Caton helped the Golden Eagles to two bowl appearances. He remained at the school after his playing days as a strength and conditioning graduate assistant from June 1999 to May 2001. Caton received his undergraduate degree in exercise physiology from Southern Miss in 1999. He earned his master's in coaching and sports administration in 2001.

In 2016, Caton was awarded the title of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa), the highest honor in the profession. He is SCCC certified and also holds a USA Weightlifting Level 1 Sports Performance certification.

A native of Mobile, Ala., Caton and his wife, Adriene, have three children – Kade, Weslie and Kole.

DAVID SCORZELLI

Assistant Strength & Conditioning Coach

David Scorzelli has been a member of the Syracuse football strength and conditioning staff since 2016. He was promoted to assistant strength and conditioning coach in February 2018 after serving as an intern for the program for two seasons.

Prior to joining the Orange, Scorzelli was a speed/strength and conditioning intern for Coastal Carolina in 2015. There he worked with Chanticleer football, men's basketball and volleyball student-athletes. Scorzelli educated them on appropriate training and exercise techniques and assisted them with recovery modalities.

A Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS), Scorzelli graduated from Harding University with a bachelor's degree in exercise and sports sciences.

DAVE BOLLER

Director of Recruiting Operations

An experienced talent evaluator, Dave Boller transitioned to director of recruiting operations for the Orange in 2018. He spent his first season at Syracuse as the team's director of player personnel.

Boller has nearly 20 years of experience evaluating NFL players and joined the Orange in 2017. He oversees the program's efforts to identify and attract top high school student-athletes. His responsibilities include maintaining the program's recruiting database, developing schedules for official and unofficial visits, and monitoring the academic progress of prospects.

In 2018, Boller's efforts helped land the Orange's highest-rated class in more than decade, according to 247Sports.com.

Prior to joining the Orange, Boller spent two seasons at Louisville. He was the Cardinals' NFL liaison and director of on-campus recruiting in 2015. In 2016, Boller served as their director of high school relations.

Boller's Louisville stint marked his return to the college ranks after 19 NFL seasons. His most recent pro stop was as an area scout for the New York Jets from 2012-14. In that role, he was responsible for evaluating offensive and defensive line prospects in the Western half of the country.

From 2007-09, Boller was the assistant pro director for the Detroit Lions. He assisted Detroit's general manager with salary cap matters, performed evaluations for both active players and free agents, and assisted with the weekly advance report for the coaching staff. Following his tenure with the Lions, Boller served as a consultant from 2010-12 for multiple NFC teams, offering his insight on both college and pro prospects.

In addition to his front-office experience, Boller spent 13 seasons as a scout for the St. Louis Rams (2004-07), Philadelphia Eagles (1998-2004) and Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1995-98). In 1999, he was a member of the Philadelphia staff that decided to make Syracuse standout Donovan McNabb the No. 2 overall pick in the draft.

Boller began his career in athletics at Arizona State where he served as the director of football operations for the Sun Devils from 1985-95. In that capacity, he was responsible for monitoring the ASU football budget, organizing recruiting functions, setting up travel, housing and meals for the team, and organizing official visits.

Boller attended Arizona State from 1980-84. He holds a degree in business.

KRAMER COOK

Assistant Director of Recruiting

Kramer Cook joined the Orange staff as a recruiting quality control assistant in November 2016 and was promoted to assistant director of recruiting in 2018. Cook's primary role is to help attract the best possible talent to Syracuse.

Before his arrival in Central New York, Cook served as the football recruiting and technology analyst at Coastal Carolina. He was elevated to that position in July 2016 after working as the Chanticleers' senior recruiting and technology intern for a year. In those roles, Cook coordinated the program's on-campus recruiting efforts, managed official visits for prospective student-athletes, and gave tours to recruits and their families. Additionally, he implemented a comprehensive training program for incoming freshmen to aid their development as student-athletes. He also oversaw the social media content for the Chanticleers' Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and Snapchat accounts.

Prior to his time at Coastal Carolina, Cook was a graduate assistant coach at Robert Morris University in Chicago. From 2013-14, he worked with the team's defensive line and kickers. Cook also assisted in the development of rush schemes and game plans for the Eagles, who boasted the top-ranked rushing defense in the NAIA in 2014 (75.8 ypg). Cook organized the scout team offense each week and served as the team's head of recruitment for all junior-college prospects.

Cook graduated from Wisconsin-Eau Claire in 2012 with a bachelor's degree in psychology and a minor in coaching. In addition, he holds two graduate degrees from Robert Morris, one in sport administration and the other in business administration.

RYAN NIX

Creative Director

Ryan Nix was hired as Syracuse football's creative director in April 2018. Nix is responsible for creating the program's visual brand identity through graphics and other recruiting materials. He also plans and executes content for the @Commit2Cuse social media platforms.

Prior to joining the Orange, Nix spent the 2017 season as a member of the Notre Dame football graphic design and social media teams. His role included serving as co-collaborator for the art direction and brand enhancement of digital and print art for the Fighting Irish. He also worked directly with coaches to support their national and international recruiting efforts, and served as a social media content strategist.

In addition to his stop at Notre Dame, Nix's previous experience includes a stint as the marketing and promotions intern for the East Coast Hockey League's Fort Wayne Komets in 2016-17. He also worked as the graphic design and sports marketing intern for the World Baseball Academy in 2016.

Nix played college football at the University of Saint Francis (Ind.) from 2012-16. One of the top placekickers in Saint Francis history, Nix earned All-Mid-States Football Association First Team honors in 2015 and ranked sixth in the NAIA in scoring. The following season, he captained the Cougars to a 13-1 record and the NAIA national championship.

A native of Valparaiso, Ind., Nix was a 2016 CoSIDA First Team Academic All-American. He earned his bachelor's degree in communication arts and graphic design from Saint Francis in 2017.

LANDAN SALEM

Director of Player Personnel

Landan Salem is in his first season as Syracuse's director of player personnel. Salem works closely with Director of Recruiting Operations Dave Boller to execute recruiting strategies designed to attract the nation's top prospects.

Salem came to Syracuse from Florida Atlantic, where he served as the director of player personnel and pro liaison in 2017. During his one season with the Owls, Florida Atlantic finished 11-3, won the Conference USA East Division title and defeated Akron in the Boca Raton Bowl.

In addition to Florida Atlantic, Salem's previous college experience includes stops at NC State, Pittsburgh, Michigan State and Illinois.

Prior to a brief stint as the assistant director of player personnel at NC State, Salem served as Pittsburgh's director of video scouting and summer camps from 2015-16. He oversaw the player evaluation process for the Panthers and facilitated the recruiting schedule with the coaches. In 2014, Salem worked as a recruiting assistant at Michigan State. He spent the 2012 and 2013 seasons at Illinois as a player personnel and special teams assistant.

Salem gained NFL experience in the summer of 2013 as an operations intern with the Indianapolis Colts. He also interned with the Orlando Predators of the Arena Football League in 2011.

A 2014 graduate of Illinois, Salem holds a bachelor's degree in agricultural finance.

BRAD WITTKE

Director of Operations

Brad Wittke was named Syracuse's director of football operations in January of 2016 after serving in the same capacity for head coach Dino Babers at Bowling Green in 2015.

Wittke is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Orange program, including budget management, capital projects, travel, meals and the team calendar. He has a role in most non-coaching decisions and serves as director for the Dino Babers Summer Football Camp Series.

Wittke's stint at Bowling Green marked his return to the college ranks after three seasons in the front office of the Arena Football League's Pittsburgh Power. Before joining the Power, Wittke gained collegiate team operations experience at both Eastern Illinois and Arizona State.

While at Arizona State, Wittke served as an operations assistant for the men's basketball program. His responsibilities included film exchange, high school relations, recruiting travel and other duties as assigned.

At Eastern Illinois, Wittke was a graduate assistant for New Student Programs. Late in his time there, he became a football scouting assistant where he aided in film analysis of future opponents and self-scouting. Wittke also worked as an intern for PlayNextLevel.com while in Charleston.

Wittke began his Arena Football League tenure as an operations assistant with the Power shortly after the conclusion of the 2011 season. He assisted on all projects related to football operations, gameday experience and player personnel. He also coordinated travel and player accommodations.

The following year, Wittke was promoted to director of player personnel. He oversaw all decisions related to the recruitment and signing of players from July 2012 through the 2014 season. In that position, Wittke expanded the organization's scouting and recruitment initiatives and retooled a roster that improved by 11 wins from 2013 to 2014.

A 2009 Arizona State graduate with a degree in management, Wittke also holds a master's degree in sport administration from Eastern Illinois.

Wittke and his wife, Jane, reside in Clay.

Wittke's father, Roy, is the Orange football program's director of player development.

ROY WITTKE

Director of Player Development

A fixture in college football for more than three decades, Roy Wittke was named Syracuse's director of player development in January 2016. Wittke acts as the liaison between the program and various University personnel, including the Student-Athlete Academic Development staff. He oversees the team's community outreach programs and serves as advisor to the Syracuse University chapter of Uplifting Athletes.

During Wittke's tenure, the Orange have received AFCA Academic Honorable Mention status each season. In addition, the team earned the annual 'Cuse Cares Award in 2018 for its oustanding commitment to community service. Uplifting Athletes was also recognized this past year, winning the University's Orange Circle Award for extraordinary service to others.

Prior to joining the Orange, Wittke was Bowling Green's recruiting coordinator (2015) and director of operations (2014) under head coach Dino Babers.

Before making the transition from coach to administrator, Wittke spent 33 years on the sidelines. He coached 19 seasons at Eastern Illinois, 17 of which were spent as the offensive coordinator in two different stints for head coach Bob Spoo.

As the architect of the Panthers offense from 1990-2002, Wittke helped EIU post 82 wins and make five FCS playoff appearances. Wittke is best known for developing former Dallas Cowboys Pro Bowl quarterback Tony Romo during that period. Under Wittke's direction, Romo was named Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year each season from 2000-02 and captured the 2002 Walter Payton Award. Wittke was honored as the AFCA Division I-AA Assistant Coach of the Year in Romo's senior season of 2002, as the Panthers ranked fourth in the nation in scoring (35.3 ppg) and fifth in total offense (452.6 ypg).

Wittke coached 14 players who earned All-America honors and numerous all-conference selections in both the Ohio Valley Conference and Gateway Football Conference in his first stint at EIU. In addition, three of his offensive units ranked among the top five in EIU single-season history for both total offense and scoring.

After the 2002 season, Wittke worked as the offensive coordinator at Arkansas from 2003-05 and spent one season each at Arizona State (2006) and Northern Illinois (2007). In 2003, he helped the Razorbacks to the Independence Bowl. He coached in the 2006 Hawaii Bowl with Arizona State.

Wittke returned to Eastern Illinois as offensive coordinator in 2008. His second go-round with the Panthers included tutoring another NFL quarterback – Jimmy Garoppolo. A second-round pick of the New England Patriots in 2014, Garoppolo earned Ohio Valley Conference Newcomer of the Year honors in 2010 despite only eight starts. He continued his development under Wittke in 2011 and, like Romo, eventually went on to win the Walter Payton Award as the top FCS player as a senior in 2014.

After the 2011 season, Wittke made the move to administration, serving as EIU's director of operations under Babers from 2012-13.

In addition to his stops at Eastern Illinois, Arkansas and Northern Illinois, Wittke's coaching résumé includes stints at his alma mater, Wisconsin-Eau Claire (1979-81), Montana State (1982-84) and Central Missouri State (1985-89).

Wittke is a 1982 graduate of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. He and his wife, Patty, have three children – sons Brad and Jeff, and daughter Bekah. Brad Wittke is Syracuse's director of football operations.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS & QUALITY CONTROL

COREY CARPENTER

Quality Control (Recruiting)

Corey Carpenter joined the Orange staff as a recruiting quality control assistant in March 2018. Carpenter aids in the program's efforts to identify and attract the nation's top high-school prospects.

Carpenter's previous experience includes an 11-month stint from March 2015 to February 2016 as a recruiting assistant for the Louisville football program. Carpenter's duties for the Cardinals included evaluating film of prospects, organizing and maintaining the program's recruiting database, planning Junior Days and creating itineraries for official visits.

In addition to his work with the Cardinals, Carpenter previously coached high school football at two Louisville-area high schools. Carpenter was the quarterbacks coach from 2013-14 at DuPont Manual High School. In 2016 and 2017, he served as the offensive coordinator for Waggener High School where he directed an offense that averaged more than 30 points a game during his two seasons.

A standout quarterback in high school, Carpenter received a scholarship to attend Lindsey Wilson College. He played one season for the Blue Raiders before injuring his shoulder.

Carpenter graduated with a bachelor's degree in sport administration from Louisville in 2015.

DAVID GETTIS

Quality Control (Offense)

Former NFL receiver David Gettis is in his first year as a quality control coach for the Orange. Gettis played two seasons for the Carolina Panthers and also spent time with the Washington Redskins, Tampa Bay Buccaneers and the Canadian Football League's Winnipeg Blue Bombers during his professional career.

A collegiate standout at Baylor from 2006-09, Gettis was tutored by Syracuse head coach Dino Babers for two seasons when Babers was Baylor's wide receivers coach.

Gettis finished his college career ranked seventh at Baylor in career receiving yards (1,555), tied for eighth all-time in receptions (116) and eighth in career kick return average (22.7).

A 2009 All-Big 12 Honorable Mention choice, Gettis was selected by the Carolina Panthers in the sixth round of the 2010 NFL Draft. He played a combined 17 games for the Panthers from 2010-12. As a rookie in 2010, he tallied 37 receptions for 508 yards and a team-high three touchdown catches. He also returned eight kickoffs for 145 yards.

In 2015, Gettis returned to Baylor to complete his undergraduate degree and spent the 2015 football season as a student coach for the Bears. He worked as a graduate assistant on Jim Grobe's Baylor staff the following year.

Gettis received his first full-time coaching job in 2017, serving as the wide receivers coach for the University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., Gettis holds a bachelor's degree in health, kinesiology and leisure studies from Baylor.

TRAVIS GREENE

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

The all-time leading rusher at Bowling Green, Travis Greene is in first season as a graduate assistant at Syracuse. Greene joined the Orange in February 2018 as an offensive quality control coach before shifting to his current position.

Greene played four seasons at running back for Bowling Green. He rushed for a school-record 3,852 yards, including 1,299 yards and 15 touchdowns as a senior captain in 2015 to help the Falcons capture the Mid-American Conference title in their second year under Dino Babers. Greene previously set the Bowling Green single-season rushing record with 1,594 yards in 2013.

A two-time All-MAC selection, Greene helped the Falcons to two conference titles, three MAC championship game appearances, and a victory in the 2014 Raycom Media Camellia Bowl. He was voted MVP of the 2015 league championship game after running for a career-high 183 yards and two touchdowns against Northern Illinois.

Greene signed with the Washington Redskins as an undrafted free agent in May 2016. He was also briefly a member of the Canadian Football League's Ottawa Redblacks.

Greene received his bachelor's degree in liberal arts from Bowling Green in 2015. He is pursuing his master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation at Syracuse.

Greene's brother, Trent, is a defensive graduate assistant for the Orange.

TRENT GREENE

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

A team captain and two-time All-MAC selection at linebacker for Bowling Green, Trent Greene is in his second season as a defensive graduate assistant for the Orange.

Greene played three seasons at Bowling Green and totaled 248 career tackles, including 127 in 2015 to help BGSU capture the Mid-American Conference title in its second year under Dino Babers. The following season, Greene paced the Falcons with 111 stops and ranked fourth in the conference in tackles per game (9.3).

A 2016 nominee for the Burlsworth Trophy, awarded to the best player in college football who began his career as a walk-on, Greene earned his undergraduate degree from BGSU in December 2016. He is pursuing his master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation at Syracuse.

Greene's brother, Travis, is an offensive graduate assistant for the Orange.

JOHN GUNTER

Quality Control (Recruiting)

John Gunter joined the Orange recruiting staff in August 2017 as a senior intern and was elevated to the position of recruiting quality control assistant in February 2018. Gunter assists the recruiting staff in attracting the best possible talent to Syracuse.

As an undergraduate, Gunter was manager for the Coastal Carolina football program. In that role, he aided in identifying skilled, academically-qualified student-athletes for the Chanticleers. His duties included assisting in the preparation and execution of official and unofficial visits, organizing recruiting databases, and assisting with the program's social media efforts.

A native of Warwick R.I., Gunter graduated from Coastal Carolina in 2017 with a bachelor's degree in exercise and sport science.

JEFF LePAK

Quality Control (Special Teams)

A star tight end for Orange head coach Dino Babers at Eastern Illinois, Jeff LePak joined the Syracuse staff in February 2016 as the team's operations and recruiting assistant. He transitioned to his current role as special teams quality control coach in November 2016.

Previously, LePak served as a graduate assistant for Babers in 2015 at Bowling Green. He worked with the team's tight ends and was part of a staff that led the Falcons to the Mid-American Conference title and a berth in the GoDaddy Bowl.

A Belton, Texas native, LePak was a wide receiver at Baylor from 2010-12 before transferring to play tight end for Babers at Eastern Illinois. LePak caught 81 passes for more than 1,000 yards and nine TDs in two seasons with the Panthers, including 51 catches and eight TDs in 2013. A team captain as a senior, LePak was a two-time All-Ohio Valley Conference First Team selection. He earned All-America honors in 2013 after helping the Panthers reach the FCS quarterfinals.

LePak graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology from Eastern Illinois in 2014.

TIM McAULIFFE

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

A four-year starter and 2016 All-MAC selection for Bowling Green, Tim McAuliffe is in his first season as a graduate assistant at Syracuse.

McAuliffe started 49 career games at center for the Falcons from 2014-17 and helped lead BGSU to two conference titles, three Mid-American Conference championship game appearances, and a victory in the 2014 Raycom Media Camellia Bowl.

In 2015, McAuliffe started 13 games and blocked for an offense that set the school records for points scored (381) and offensive touchdowns (81). The Falcons finished the season 10-4 and captured the MAC title in their second year under Dino Babers.

A native of Lemont, Ill., McAuliffe graduated with a bachelor's degree in communication and minor in entrepreneurship sales from Bowling Green. He is pursuing his master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation at Syracuse.

DAVID ORLOFF

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

David Orloff is in his first season as a graduate assistant for the Orange. Orloff came to Syracuse in February 2018 as a defensive quality control coach before shifting to his current position.

Prior to joining the Syracuse staff, Orloff served as a defensive and special teams graduate assistant at UNLV from 2015-17. He was an undergraduate assistant coach at San Jose State from 2010-14.

During his time at UNLV, Orloff worked as the defensive coordinator for the 2017 New Era Bowl, an all-star game featuring a mix of Japanese and American-born football players and coaches.

Orloff's responsibilities for the Rebels included scripting defensive practice periods, organizing the scout team offense and special teams units, and breaking down film.

Orloff earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics from San Jose State in 2015. He holds a master's degree in special education from UNLV and is pursuing a second master's degree in instructional design, development and evaluation at Syracuse.

BRYAN SHEPHERD

Quality Control (Defense)

Bryan Shepherd, who served as cornerbacks coach for North Dakota State's 2017 FCS national championship team, is in his first season as a quality control coach at Syracuse.

A 2015 NDSU graduate, Shepherd served on the coaching staff at his alma mater for two seasons. He worked as a defensive assistant in 2016 and was promoted to full-time cornerbacks coach in February 2017.

In first season on the staff, Shepherd worked with NDSU's defensive backs, in addition to coordinating the scout team offense and special teams. In 2017, Shepherd mentored a collection of cornerbacks who helped the Bison rank first nationally in total defense (237.4 ypg), second in passing efficiency defense (93.12) and third in interceptions (22). Overall, NDSU went 14-1 and defeated James Madison to win its sixth FCS national title.

Before joining the coaching staff, Shepherd was a defensive back for the Bison's first three FCS national championship teams from 2011 to 2013. He went on to play for the Washington Redskins in the 2014 preseason as an undrafted free agent. In 2015, he spent time with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

A native of Olathe, Kan., Shepherd attended Nebraska-Omaha for two years before transferring to North Dakota State. He earned his bachelor's degree in university studies from NDSU in 2015.

AUSTIN BEEHNER

Director of Video Operations

Austin Beehner returned to the Syracuse football staff as the director of video operations in March 2013. He previously served as a video operations intern for the Orange during the spring of 2012 while completing his undergraduate degree in sport management at SUNY Cortland.

As the director of video operations, Beehner is responsible for managing the internal video network, preparing game and practice film for coaches and student-athletes, supervising interns, and managing a staff of student camera operators.

Prior to returning to Syracuse, Beehner was the football video operations assistant at Ohio State from June 2012 through the end of the football season. He recorded, imported and edited game and practice film, managed the department's student assistants, and provided technical support for coaches and student-athletes. He also helped produce opponent breakdowns and self-scouting films for the Buckeyes.

In his first stint at Syracuse, Beehner was responsible for gathering and editing game and practice film. He also produced individual highlight films for student-athletes and the 2012 senior banquet video.

BRITNEY CLARKE

Assistant Director/
Student-Athlete Academic Development

Britney Clarke joined Syracuse's Student-Athlete Academic Development staff as an academic coordinator in 2015. She was promoted to assistant director in 2018.

Clarke monitors and tracks the initial and continuing eligibility of football student-athletes and works with the Orange women's tennis team. She assists in all aspects of academic support, including arranging tutors, academic monitoring and reporting, advising and orientations. She is also responsible for keeping coaches informed of student-athletes' academic progress, the APR and eligibility concerns. In addition, Clarke works with other Student-Athlete Academic Development staff members to implement life-skills programming.

Prior to coming to Syracuse, Clarke was an academic counselor at Arizona from 2013-15. While with the Wildcats, she worked with the women's track & field and gymnastics teams, ensuring those 100-125 student-athletes met NCAA eligibility requirements.

Before being promoted to full-time, Clarke completed an internship from May to July 2013 in the Arizona Academic Services Department. In that role, she developed a campus-level transitions course for freshmen student-athletes. The course focused on identifying their transferrable skills and expanding upon their identities as athletes.

Clarke began her academic counseling career as a graduate assistant at Stephen F. Austin from July 2012 to May 2013.

A 2012 Miami (Fla.) graduate, Clarke was a multi-event athlete for the Hurricanes track & field team for four seasons. She competed in both the pentathlon and heptathlon, finishing eighth in the pentathlon at the ACC Indoor Track & Field Championships as a senior.

Clarke received her bachelor's degree in exercise physiology from Miami. She earned her master's degree in higher education from Arizona in 2015.

JUSTIN DiTOLLA

Assistant AD/Compliance

Justin DiTolla was appointed assistant athletic director for compliance at Syracuse University in August 2017. He serves as the compliance liaison for the football and softball programs.

DiTolla is responsible for the day-to-day compliance operations of both teams to ensure adherence to NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference and University rules and regulations. In addition, he is responsible for the comprehensive rules education program for coaches, student-athletes, boosters, athletic department staff and other University officials.

Before coming to Syracuse, DiTolla served as the assistant director of compliance at UCLA from September 2013 to July 2017 working with the football, softball, men's volleyball, women's water polo, and men's & women's golf programs. He implemented agents and amateurism programming to ensure student-athletes maintained their eligibility while exploring professional careers in sports. He also oversaw the transfer process for all incoming and outgoing student-athletes.

DiTolla began his career as a compliance intern at Oregon from October 2011 to September 2013. He earned his undergraduate degree in business with an emphasis on finance from the University of San Diego in 2011. He was a member of the 2007 USD football team that earned a share of the Pioneer League title.

SHAWN EMMONS

Assistant Director/Video & Technology

Shawn Emmons assumed the role of assistant director of video and technology in 2018. He is in his sixth season on the staff after serving three years as Syracuse's assistant video coordinator and working as a video operations intern in 2013 and 2014.

Emmons is responsible for managing the football program's video network. He imports and categorizes self-scouting and opponent scouting footage for the coaching staff. He also supervises a team of interns who film practices and games, and assists in the creation of team recruiting and highlight videos.

Prior to his full-time appointment, Emmons was responsible for providing sideline and end-zone practice and game film. He also cataloged and edited opponent film.

Emmons completed his bachelor's degree in sport management at SUNY Fredonia in 2013. He also holds an associate's degree from Tompkins Cortland Community College.

BRANDON HALL

Assistant Athletic Trainer

A graduate assistant athletic trainer for the Orange from 2013-15, Brandon Hall rejoined the Syracuse Sports Medicine Department full-time in October 2016. He assists Head Athletic Trainer for Football Tim Pike with the daily healthcare management of football student-athletes.

During his time as a graduate assistant for the Orange, Hall aided in the daily operations of the training room and care of Syracuse's football, men's lacrosse and field hockey student-athletes.

A University of New Hampshire graduate with a bachelor's degree in athletic training, Hall holds a master's degree in exercise science from Syracuse. His first full-time athletic training position was as an assistant at William & Mary during the 2015-16 academic year, covering baseball, track & field and cross country.

Hall has volunteered his services at the Boston Marathon and the Sentara Hospital Half Marathon during his career. He is a certified Corrective Exercise Specialist (CES). A member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), Hall is also certified in first aid, CPR, AED and SASTM.

SUPPORT STAFF

JENNIFER LOCEY

Academic & Tutorial Coordinator

Jennifer Locey has been a member of Syracuse's Student-Athlete Academic Development staff as an academic coordinator since April 2017. She tracks and monitors the initial and continuing eligibility of football student-athletes and serves as tutorial coordinator for the department.

In her role as academic coordinator, Locey assists in all areas of academic support including: academic monitoring and reporting, advising, and orientations. She is also responsible for keeping coaches informed of student-athletes' academic progress, the team APR, and eligibility concerns.

As tutorial coordinator, Locey hires, trains and supervises a staff of roughly 100 tutors and instructional assistants. She also schedules and maintains all tutorial appointments for the department.

Locey came to Syracuse after working as a learning specialist and tutorial coordinator at Ole Miss. Prior to that, she served as an assistant academic advisor for football and men's golf at Central Florida.

Locey received her bachelor's and master's degrees – both in education – from the University of Miami in 2014 and 2015, respectively.

MIKE MORRISON

Assistant Director/Athletic Communications

Mike Morrison rejoined the Syracuse Athletic Communications staff in August 2005 and became the primary media contact for the football program in 2015.

During his time at Syracuse, Morrison has also worked with the Orange men's lacrosse, men's soccer, women's basketball and softball teams. In 2011, he was part of the media relations staff that was recognized by the Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) with "Super 11" status for excellence in sports information.

Prior to his full-time appointment, Morrison worked in the Syracuse office as a student assistant and intern from 2002-04. During the 2004-05 academic year, he was the assistant sports information director at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. At GW, Morrison was the media coordinator for the 2004 Atlantic 10 Men's Soccer Championship and 2005 Atlantic 10 Women's Basketball Championship.

A graduate of Ithaca College, Morrison received his bachelor's degree in sports information and communication from the school in 2002. He earned his master's degree in public relations from Syracuse University in 2003.

Morrison's publications work has been recognized by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). His 2008 Syracuse men's soccer media guide was voted eighth nationally. In addition, Morrison served on the group's membership services committee for five years.

Morrison has worked several NCAA championship events during his tenure, including the 2002, 2010 and 2015 NCAA Men's Basketball East Regionals held at the Carrier Dome, and the 2008, 2009 and 2013 NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championships.

Morrison resides in Liverpool with his wife, Cheri, and their sons, Kellan and Sean.

TIM PIKE

Head Athletic Trainer for Football

Tim Pike was named head athletic trainer for the Syracuse football program in 2017. He manages all phases of athletic training for the Orange, including treatment of injuries, rehabilitation and game coverage.

Pike has 11 seasons of college football experience. He most recently served as the head athletic trainer at Marshall from 2014-2016 before joining the Orange.

At Marshall, Pike oversaw a sports medicine staff of nine full-time employees. His primary sport assignment was football where he coordinated all athletic training aspects for the Thundering Herd.

Prior to his stint at Marshall, Pike spent seven seasons as the head athletic trainer for football at Eastern Kentucky. In addition to working with the Colonels' football team, Pike supervised EKU's athletic training graduate assistants and managed secondary insurance needs for all student-athletes.

Pike got his start in athletic training as a student athletic trainer at Kentucky, covering men's soccer, baseball and assisting with football, from 1998-2001. He also served as a graduate assistant at North Carolina from 2001-03.

Outside of collegiate athletics, Pike's experience includes providing athletic training services and working as a clinical supervisor. While in Kentucky, he lent his expertise to area high schools, St. Catharine College, and the Lexington Horsemen indoor football team.

A noted speaker, Pike has presented on numerous topics at athletic training conventions and symposiums during his career. He also holds several professional certifications and memberships.

Pike earned his undergraduate degree in exercise science from Kentucky in 2001. He received his master's degree in exercise and sport science with an emphasis on athletic training from North Carolina in 2003.

Pike and his wife, Kelli, have two sons – Kaleb and Kamden.

JIM SCHLENSKER

Head Equipment Manager for Football

Jim Schlensker joined the Syracuse equipment staff in 1994 and was promoted to head equipment manager for football in January 2011.

His primary responsibilities include gameday preparations of equipment and locker room facilities at both home and away contests, and office responsibilities. Schlensker is responsible for football equipment purchasing and reconditioning, uniform design, maintenance, and inventory control. He maintains the equipment room computer system, orders equipment and tracks inventory. Schlensker has staffed nine bowl games for the Orange.

Schlensker came to Syracuse from Northwestern. The Fort Wayne, Ind., native is a 1990 graduate of St. Joseph's College. He is certified by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association (AEMA).

ZAC WHITE

Assistant Athletic Trainer

Zac White was hired as an assistant athletic trainer for football in March 2018. In that role, White assists Head Athletic Trainer for Football Tim Pike with the daily healthcare management of football student-athletes and supervises the football graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Prior to joining the Syracuse Sports Medicine staff, White served as an athletic training fellow for the Temple football program from 2016-17. White's football experience also includes an athletic training internship at Morgan State (2015-16), a graduate assistantship at East Carolina (2013-15), and summer internships with the NFL's Carolina Panthers (2015) and Kansas City Chiefs (2012).

In addition to each school's football program, White also worked with the men's basketball teams at East Carolina and Morgan State. While at East Carolina, White also served as the head athletic trainer at North Pitt High School.

White received his bachelor's degree in athletic training from East Carolina in 2013. He also holds a master's degree in teaching with a concentration in health education from the school. Currently, White is pursuing his doctorate of athletic training from Temple.

An NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS), White is a member of several professional organizations, including the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA). He is certified in first aid, CPR, AED and Fascial Stretch Therapy.

SALATHA WILLIS

Associate Director/ Student-Athlete Academic Development

Salatha Willis has more than a decade of experience in higher education and serves as associate director of the Office of Student-Athlete Academic Development. Willis monitors and tracks the initial and continuing eligibility of football and softball student-athletes.

Willis' duties are to assist in all aspects of academic support, including arranging tutors, academic monitoring and reporting, advising and orientations. He is responsible for keeping coaches informed of student-athletes' academic progress, the APR and eligibility concerns. In addition, Willis works with other Student-Athlete Academic Development staff members to implement life-skills programming.

A former student-athlete himself, Willis was a member of the Western Michigan basketball team for three seasons, lettering for the Broncos in 1995 and 1996. He graduated from WMU with a bachelor's degree in computer science in 1999.

The following year, Willis stayed in Kalamazoo to begin his career in higher education. He started out as a residence hall director, then rose up the ranks, ultimately serving as Western Michigan's student orientation coordinator and assistant director of admissions.

In 2007, Willis was hired as the director of first-year programs and university testing at Indiana State, a position he held until being named vice president of enrollment management and student affairs at Martin University (Ind.) in 2011.

Willis transitioned to collegiate athletics in 2012, serving as an academic counselor and compliance assistant at Colgate for a year prior to joining the Orange in 2013.

In addition to his undergraduate degree, Willis holds a master's degree in educational leadership from Western Michigan. He earned his doctorate in educational leadership from Indiana State in 2013.

Willis and his wife, Sheila, live in DeWitt with their two children.

FOOTBALL OFFICE STAFF

KATIE BERARDI

Administrative Assistant for Dino Babers

Katie Berardi became the administrative assistant for head coach Dino Babers in August 2016. She is the primary liaison between Babers and Syracuse University staff, faculty, administration, the business community and the general public.

Prior to her current appointment, Berardi worked as the football program's office coordinator from 2007-16. She managed the daily operations of the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex and provided administrative support to assistant coaches, the director of player development, the assistant athletics director for athletic performance and the director of football operations. Berardi also served as a liaison with NFL scouting departments and the NCAA Eligibility Clearinghouse.

Berardi is a Syracuse University alumna. She received her bachelor's degree from the school in 2006.

Katie and her husband, John, reside in Jamesville with their son, Giovanni.

LAURENE PORILLO

Administrative Specialist for Recruiting

As the administrative specialist for football recruiting, Laurene Porillo supports the coaching staff in its efforts to attract the best possible talent to Syracuse University. She helps maintain the recruiting database and assists in the coordination of official and unofficial visits. Porillo also serves as the liaison with incoming student-athletes and their families during the admissions process.

Porillo, who joined the football staff in 2003, received her associate's degree from SUNY Canton. Prior to joining the football office, Porillo held various administrative positions in the legal, business and real estate fields.

She and her husband, Nick, reside in Liverpool. They have two children, Matthew and Meghan.

SARA SCHIAVONE

Office Coordinator

Sara Schiavone joined the football administrative staff as office coordinator in September 2016. In her role, she manages the daily operations of the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex and provides administrative support to the assistant coaches and director of player development.

Schiavone started in the Syracuse Department of Athletics in 2012. She worked as a tutor, instructional assistant, and front-desk assistant for Student-Athlete Support Services prior to her current appointment.

Schiavone is a South Carolina alumna. She earned her bachelor's degree in 2010 and her Master of Public Health degree in 2012.

• Syracuse posted a 4-8 overall record in Dino Babers' second year as head coach. The Orange were 4-3 through seven games, but ended the year on a five-game losing streak. Syracuse went 2-6 in ACC play, including a 27-24 victory over second-ranked Clemson on Oct. 13.
• Receiver Steve Ishmael earned All-America honors from nine different media outlets and organizations. Ishmael set the team single-season record with 105 receptions. He established a new ACC record for receptions per game (8.8) and ranked in the top 10 nationally in several categories including catches (2nd), receiving yards per game (4th - 112.2) and total receiving yardage (7th - 1,347).
• Ishmael and Ervin Philips closed their careers as the most productive pass-catching duo in program history. Philips (223) finished No. 1 in receptions all-time at Syracuse and Ishmael (219) was second.
• The Orange ranked in the top 25 nationally in five categories: punt return defense (4th - 2.7 ypr), net punting (10th - 41.3 avg.), third-down defense (13th - 31.1 pct.), passing offense (18th - 294.8 ypg) and total offense (23rd - 456.3 ypg).
• All four Orange victories came in the friendly confines of the Carrier Dome, as Syracuse took down Central Connecticut State, Central Michigan, Pittsburgh and Clemson at home.

The 2017 Walter Camp Connecticut Player of the Year, Ervin Philips finished his career as the program's all-time leader in receptions (223).

TAMING THE TIGERS

• The Orange's 27-24 triumph over No. 2 Clemson was one of the biggest wins in recent program history, garnering Syracuse Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) Team of the Week honors and Dino Babers Dodd Trophy Coach of the Week plaudits.
• The victory marked the first time Syracuse beat a team ranked second in the Associated Press Top 25, and the Tigers were the highest-ranked team to fall to the Orange since No. 1 Nebraska in 1984.
• It was the third time in nine tries Syracuse toppled the defending national champions (1987- Penn State, 1998 - Michigan).

DYNAMIC DUO

• Syracuse was the only FBS team in 2017 to boast multiple players with 200+ career receptions (Ervin Philips – 223, Steve Ishmael – 219).
• The pair combined for 194 catches and 2,251 yards. Ishmael led the way with 105 receptions for 1,347 yards. Philips had 89 catches for 904 yards. Their 194 combined receptions accounted for 55 percent of Syracuse's total catches, while their 2,251 receiving yards represented 58.2 percent of the team's production.
• Their 194 combined grabs was an ACC record for a pair of teammates. The previous standard of 184 was held by Philips and Amba Etta-Tawo, who achieved the total for Syracuse in 2016.

ORANGE IS THE NEW FAST

• Syracuse finished fifth in the nation with 1,027 offensive plays run in 2017 (85.6 per game).
• In 12 games, the Orange ran at least 90 plays on six occasions and surpassed the 80-play mark eight times.
• Clemson paced the nation with 1,048 plays. North Texas (1,037), USC (1,034) and Ohio State (1,029) joined Syracuse in the top five.

TACKLING MACHINES

• Linebackers Zaire Franklin (311) and Parris Bennett (273) combined for 584 career tackles, the second-most of any ACC duo active in 2017. Virginia's Quin Blanding and Micah Kiser led the way with 870.
• With four stops at Louisvill, Franklin eclipsed the 300-tackle mark for his career with four stops. He became the first 'Cuse player to surpass the milestone since Kelvin Smith tallied 325 tackles from 2003-06.
• Bennett led the Orange with 115 stops to become the first Syracuse defender since Keith Bulluck in 1998 and 1999 to post back-to-back 100+ tackle seasons (Bennett notched 110 tackles in 2016).

PUNT TEAM PROWESS

• Syracuse ranked in the top 10 nationally in a pair of special teams categories. The Orange were 10th in the country in net punting average (41.3) and fourth in punt return yardage defense (2.67 ypr).
• The punt coverage team set program records for fewest opponent punts returned (9) and fewest punt return yards allowed (24), bettering the previous standards of 13 returns (1995) and 72 yards allowed (1992).
• Syracuse was sixth in the nation (No. 1 among Power-Five schools) in fewest opponent punt return yards, trailing Arkansas State (8), Toledo (14), Miami, Ohio (15), UTSA (23) and Memphis (23).
• In seven of their 12 games the Orange did not allow a return. Middle Tennessee (2), Wake Forest (2) and Florida State (3) combined for seven of the nine opponent runbacks.

SYRACUSE	25
NC STATE	33

RALEIGH, N.C. – NC State (4-1, 2-0 ACC) scored on its first five possessions and held off Syracuse (2-3, 0-1 ACC), which outscored the Wolfpack 18-7 in the second half, for a 33-25 victory at Carter-Finley Stadium. Syracuse's Ervin Philips set a school and conference record with 17 receptions for a career-high 188 yards. Orange quarterback Eric Dungey logged his team-record eighth career 300-yard passing game, completing 30-of-47 passes for 385 yards and a touchdown. Dungey accounted for all three Syracuse TDs, adding two scoring runs. The Orange defense allowed a 100-yard rusher for the first time in 2017, as NC State's Nyheim Hines ran for 115 yards and a touchdown.

PITTSBURGH	24
SYRACUSE	27

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – The Orange (3-3, 1-1 ACC) rallied from a 10-3 deficit for a 27-24 victory over Pittsburgh (2-4, 0-2 ACC) at the Carrier Dome on Homecoming Weekend. The win snapped Syracuse's four-game losing streak to the Panthers and was the Orange's first Homecoming triumph since 2012. Quarterback Eric Dungey was responsible for all three Syracuse touchdowns (2 passing, 1 rushing). He finished with 413 yards of total offense, including 365 yards passing. Linebacker Parris Bennett led all tacklers with 14 stops. Pittsburgh did not convert a third down until the fourth quarter and was 3-of-13 (.231) for the game.

CLEMSON	24
SYRACUSE	27

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – The Orange (4-3, 2-1 ACC) never trailed and stunned No. 2 Clemson (6-1, 4-1 ACC) by the score of 27-24 at the Carrier Dome. It was Syracuse's first win over a top-five opponent since 2001, and the Tigers represented the highest-ranked Syracuse victim since the Orange took down No. 1 Nebraska in 1984. Quarterback Eric Dungey threw three touchdowns and kicker Cole Murphy hit a pair of field goals, including the go-ahead kick with 9:41 to play. The Orange defense held the Tigers to 113 yards rushing, well below their season average of 237.3 per game, and recorded a season-high four sacks. The loss ended Clemson's 11-game winning streak.

MIAMI	27

MIAMI GARDENS, Fla. – Syracuse (4-4, 2-2 ACC) outscored No. 8 Miami (6-0, 4-0 ACC) in the second half 16-14, but couldn't overcome four first-half turnovers and fell to the Hurricanes 27-19 at Hard Rock Stadium. Kicker Cole Murphy tied his career high with four field goals, including a 53-yarder with 5:23 left that trimmed the Miami lead to 20-19. The Hurricanes answered with a 33-yard Travis Homer touchdown run, and their defense held on Syracuse's final possession to clinch Miami's sixth straight win in the series. Running back Dontae Strickland (105 yards) and quarterback Eric Dungey (100 yards) recorded 100-yard rushing games for the Orange.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – For the second straight game, Syracuse (4-5, 2-3 ACC) staged a rally that came up short, losing 27-24 to Florida State (3-5, 3-4 ACC) at Doak Campbell Stadium. The Orange fell behind 14-0, but closed the gap to three late in the fourth quarter. Syracuse had an opportunity to tie the game on the last play, however, Cole Murphy's 43-yard field goal attempt was partially blocked. Receivers Ervin Philips and Steve Ishmael combined for 24 catches, 250 yards and a touchdown. Philips caught 12 balls for 107 yards to become Syracuse's all-time leader in receptions. He raised his career total to 207, eclipsing Alec Lemon's previous record of 201. Ishmael made 12 receptions for a game-high 143 yards and a touchdown. Quarterback Eric Dungey threw for 278 yards. Dungey also ran for a career-best 109 yards.

LOUISVILLE	56

LOUISVILLE, Ky. – Behind 727 yards of offense, including 381 from Heisman Trophy winner Lamar Jackson, Louisville (7-4, 4-4 ACC) defeated Syracuse 56-10 at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium. Jackson accounted for four touchdowns (2 passing, 2 rushing), including three in the first half, as the Cardinals built a 35-3 lead. Ervin Philips scored the only touchdown for the Orange (4-7, 2-5 ACC) on an 8-yard run in the fourth quarter. Syracuse linebacker Zaire Franklin made four tackles to surpass the 300-tackle mark for his career.

BOSTON COLLEGE	42
SYRACUSE	14

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – Boston College (7-5, 4-4 ACC) rushed for 333 yards and four touchdowns, including 193 yards and three scores by AJ Dillon, to defeat Syracuse 42-14 at the Carrier Dome. In his first start at quarterback for the Orange (4-8, 2-6 ACC), Rex Culpepper passed for 280 yards and two touchdowns. Steve Ishmael caught 11 passes for 187 yards and a touchdown in his final collegiate game to become the program's all-time leader with 2,891 receiving yards. Ishmael finished the 2017 campaign with 105 receptions, the second-highest total in ACC single-season history. At a brisk 2 hours and 51 minutes, the game was the quickest since Dino Babers took over as the Orange's head coach. The loss ended Syracuse's two-game home winning streak against the Eagles.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL

HISTORY

CHRONOLOGY

Coached by Bobby Winston, the 1890 Syracuse football team was the first Orange outfit to play a full season. The squad posted a 7-4 record.

1889
On Nov. 23, Syracuse traveled to Rochester for its first intercollegiate football game. Wearing pink and blue uniforms, Syracuse lost 36-0 to finish the season 0-1.

1890
Orange was adopted as the school color and Syracuse's athletic teams are henceforth known as "Orange" or "Orangemen." Bobby Winston became the program's first head coach. The Orange defeated the Syracuse Athletic Association 14-0 in the season opener for their first football victory en route to a 7-4 record.

1891
Stephen Crane, author of the Civil War classic "Red Badge of Courage," was a member of a Syracuse squad that went 4-7.

1892
The only season in Syracuse football history with no wins when at least two games were played. The Orange went 0-8-1 under coach Jordan C. Wells.

1893
Without an official coach, the Orange finished the season with a 4-9-1 record. The team posted triumphs against Syracuse High School, Hamilton, Onondaga Academy and Cazenovia.

1894
In his only season as Syracuse's head coach, George H. Bond led the Orange to a 6-5 record.

1895
The Orange secured their first real home field as Syracuse went from playing in parks throughout the city to playing at The Oval, which was a space located behind the Hall of Languages. The Orange recorded their first victory against rival Colgate, winning by the score of 4-0.

1896
The Orange played their first opponent from outside New York state, losing to Williams College, 24-6.

1897
The Colgate "Hoodoo" was born when a newspaper reporter sympathetic to the Raiders' cause tackled an Orange player who was on his way to scoring the winning touchdown. The game ended in a 6-6 tie.

1898
The Orange posted an 8-2-1 record, outscoring their opponents 192-69 under the direction of head coach Frank E. Wade.

1899
Syracuse finished 4-4 in the final season of head coach Frank E. Wade's three-year tenure.

1900
Edwin Sweetland, a Cornell grad, was hired as head football coach and to start the crew program. He guided the Orange to a 7-2-1 record, including six shutouts. Sweetland later coached against Syracuse as the head coach at Colgate.

1901
Success builds for the program, as the Orange closed the season with a 7-1 record. The lone loss came against Lafayette, 5-0.

1902
A 23-0 shutout of rival Colgate was an important win for the Orange, as they cruised to a 6-2-1 record. Other big victories were against the Onondaga Indians, Amherst and Williams.

1903
The program gained momentum as its budget increased to $5,500. Jason B. Parish and Ancil D. Brown served as co-coaches and led the Orange to a 5-4 record.

1904
In Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' first season as head coach, Syracuse finished 6-3. In a victory against Manhattan, the Orange put 144 points on the board, a team record that still stands.

1905
The Orange recorded six shutouts and finished the season with an overall record of 8-3 in Dr. Charles P. Hutchins' second and final year at the helm.

1906
Head coach Frank J. (Buck) O'Neill was hired. He piloted the Orange to a 6-3 record in the team's final season playing at The Oval. On Nov. 17, the Orange handed Lafayette its only loss of the year, 12-4.

1907
The Orange opened Archbold Stadium, a 20,000-seat venue, with a 28-0 victory against Hobart. The stadium provided the Orange with one of the finest facilities of its time. Once called the "Eighth Wonder of the World," Archbold was just the third concrete stadium built in the United States. A 22-0 win against Hamilton on Oct. 26 was the program's 100th win. Marquis (Bill) Horr became the program's first All-American when he was named to Walter Camp's "Second Eleven."

Howard Jones was hired as head coach. The Orange posted a 6-3-1 record and along the way played their first Western Conference (now Big Ten) opponent, beating Michigan 28-4. Bill Horr became the first Syracuse player to be named a first-team All-American when he was recognized by Walter Camp for the second year in a row.

1909
Syracuse went 4-5-1 during the first of two seasons for head coach T.A. Dwight Jones.

1910
In its 22nd season of intercollegiate football, Syracuse finished 5-4-1. T.A. Dwight Jones ended his two-year tenure as head coach with a 9-9-2 overall mark. Caspar Whitney included center Harry Hartman and tackle Rudy Probst on his "Honor List" in Outing Magazine. Taking into account the opinions of both Eastern and Western coaches, Whitney's selections were considered a more accurate representation of the nation's top players than many of the Eastern-centric All-America teams compiled at the time.

1911
First-year head coach C. DeForest Cummings led the Orange to a 5-3-2 season, including a 6-0 shutout of Ohio State and a 12-11 upset of Pop Warner's Carlisle team that featured the legendary Jim Thorpe. End A. Harry Kallett earned Walter Camp Third Team All-America honors. Rudy Probst and quarterback Preston Fogg were named to Caspar Whitney's "Honor List."

1912
After opening the season with a 12-0 victory against in-state rival Hobart, Syracuse finished with a 4-5 record in C. DeForest Cummings' last season as head coach. Rudy Probst received All-America honors for the third time, earning "Second Eleven" recognition from Walter Camp.

1913
Buck O'Neill, who led the program to a winning season in 1907, returned to coach the Orange. He guided Syracuse to six wins, its best total since 1908.

1914
The Orange opened the year 2-0 and posted a 5-3-2 overall record. Among the victories was an 81-0 rout of Hamilton, the third-largest margin of victory in program history. Guard Harold White and halfbacks Tam Rose and Marcus Wilkinson garnered "Honor List" kudos from Caspar Whitney.

1915
Syracuse's first powerhouse team finished 9-1-2, recording seven shutouts and outscoring the opposition, 331-16. Syracuse was invited to the Rose Bowl to play Washington, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the program's travel budget. Guards Christopher Schlacter and Harold White were both named All-Americans.

1916
In his only season, head coach William Hollenback led Syracuse to a 5-4 record. The Orange scored more than 50 points in three of their five victories, including a 73-0 shutout of Ohio University.

1917
All-America tackle Alfred Cobb captained the Orange gridders to an 8-1-1 record. Syracuse closed the year with six consecutive wins.

1918
The Orange were 5-1 with four shutouts in Buck O'Neill's penultimate season as head coach. Joe Alexander earned the first of his three consecutive first-team All-America awards. Louis Usher, Joe Schwarzer and Willard Ackley also received All-America recognition.

1919
All-American Joe Alexander and the Orange finished 8-3 in the last year of Buck O'Neill's tenure as head coach. O'Neill was the Syracuse sideline leader for a total of eight seasons (1906-07, 1913-15, 1917-19).

1920
Team captain Joe Alexander received All-America honors for the third straight year. He and first-year head coach John Meehan guided the Orange to a 6-2-1 record. Alexander was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954. Tackle Bertrand Gulick turned in the first of his two All-America campaigns.

1921
Syracuse recorded its ninth straight winning season. Led by All-American Bertrand Gulick, the Orange went 7-2. Gifford Zimmerman was the first player in team history to wear the fabled No. 44. The number remained in circulation until it was retired in 2005, but was not worn after 1998.

1922
Third-year coach John Meehan led the Orange to a 6-1-2 record. The team's only loss was a 21-14 decision to Pittsburgh. The season saw the beginning of the Penn State series, which started with a scoreless tie in a game played at the Polo Grounds in New York City. Roy Simmons Sr. was the squad's quarterback, marking the start of a relationship between the Simmons family and Syracuse University Athletics that continues today. After his playing career concluded in 1924, Simmons coached the Orange lacrosse and boxing teams, as well as served as an assistant football coach. Roy Simmons Jr. was Syracuse's men's lacrosse coach from 1971 through 1998, taking the reins of the program from his father when he retired in 1970. Roy Simmons III is the men's lacrosse team's current director of operations. Future College Football Hall of Fame coach Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf earned second-team All-America honors at tackle.

1923
All-America end Evander (Pete) MacRae was part of an Orange defense that allowed only 19 points and posted seven shutouts. Syracuse went 8-1 with its only loss a 16-7 defeat against rival Colgate.

1924
The Orange won eight games (8-2-1 overall) for the second consecutive year and defeated Boston College for the 200th victory in program history on Oct. 18. Lynn "Pappy" Waldorf was named an All-American for the third time.

1925
Clarence Thomas became the first quarterback to wear the storied No. 44. He led the team to an 8-1-1 record in C.W.P. Reynolds' first year as head coach. The defense posted a school-record six consectutive shutouts. Vic Hanson was an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1926
Behind Vic Hanson, the Orange outscored their opponents 225-59 on their way to a 7-2-1 record. Hanson earned All-America honors again and captained the basketball team during the winter months. Hanson is the only athlete enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

1927
In his first year as head coach, Lew Andreas led Syracuse to four straight wins to start the season and a 5-3-2 overall record.

1928
After a 3-0 start, the Orange finished the year with a 4-4-1 record. The team scored a season-high 58 points in a win against Johns Hopkins on Oct. 13.

1929
Lew Andreas, who was Syracuse's basketball coach from 1924 through 1950, completed his three-year stint as football coach by guiding the Orange to a 6-3 record. Syracuse played the first night game in the East, beating Hobart, 77-0.

1930
Vic Hanson returned to Syracuse to coach the Orange after playing briefly in the New York Yankees farm system, highlighting his multi-faceted athletic ability. The Orange went 5-2-2 in Hanson's first year and end George Ellert was named an All-American.

1931
Syracuse outscored its foes 238-56 en route to a 7-1-1 season that featured seven straight wins to start the year.

1932
A 4-4-1 season included the program's 250th victory, a 27-6 win against Oglethorpe on Nov. 5.

CHRONOLOGY

1933
After a 3-0 start that included dominant wins against Clarkson and Ohio Wesleyan, Syracuse closed the year with a 4-4 record under fourth-year head coach Vic Hanson.

1934
All-America tackle James Steen led the Orange to a 6-2 record. Syracuse's six victories included back-to-back shutouts of Penn State and Michigan State.

1935
The Orange won six games for the second year in a row and finished the season 6-1-1. Senior guard Ed Jontos became Syracuse's first pro football draft pick when he was selected 45th overall by the New York Giants in the 1936 NFL Draft.

1936
The Orange defeated Clarkson to start the season, but lost their final seven games. Vic Hanson concluded his Syracuse coaching tenure with a seven-year record of 33-21-5.

1937
Ossie Solem succeeded Vic Hanson as head coach and led the team to a 5-2-1 record. After starting 3-0, Syracuse made its first appearance in the Associated Press college football poll, debuting at No. 17 on Oct. 18 after defeating Cornell.

1938
Wilmeth Sidat-Singh, one of the first African-American quarterbacks to play college football, led Syracuse to a stunning 19-17 comeback win against Cornell and a 5-3 overall record. Among Sidat-Singh's teammates were Olympic sprinter and legendary announcer Marty Glickman and the great Michigan State coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty. Sidat-Singh was also a star for the Orange on the basketball court. His basketball jersey was retired in February 2005.

1939
Syracuse went 3-3-2 and won its last two games. The defense set a team record, holding opponents to a 33.3 percent pass completion rate.

1940
The Orange beat NYU 47-13 on Oct. 12. The game was played at Yankee Stadium in the Bronx in front of 8,000 people. The victory was part of a 3-4-1 campaign for fourth-year coach Ossie Solem.

1941
The Orange posted a 5-2-1 record and returned to the the national rankings, checking in at No. 18 in the AP poll after a 27-20 triumph at Wisconsin. The Syracuse special teams unit set the school record for most punt return yards (662).

1942
Winning the first five games of the season, the Orange were ranked as high as 15th in the AP poll and went on to finish with a 6-3 record.

Legendary running back Jim Brown was voted the program's first unanimous All-American as a senior in 1956.

1943
Syracuse University suspended intercollegiate sports due to World War II.

1944
The Orange concluded the year with a 2-4-1 record, including playing a game against Boston College at historic Fenway Park.

1945
Ossie Solem ended his eight-year Syracuse coaching stint, guiding the Orange to a 1-6 record. He finished with a 30-27-6 overall coaching mark.

1946
Future College Football Hall of Famer Clarence L. "Biggie" Munn served as Orange head coach and went 4-5 in his only year at the helm. Munn later coached at Michigan State. The Orange program enjoyed its 300th win, a 28-7 victory against Temple.

1947
Reaves Baysinger became head coach and promptly changed the Orange's uniform from a blue jersey with orange numbers to white to go along with khaki moleskin pants. He led Syracuse to a 3-6 record.

1948
In the second and final year for head coach Reaves Baysinger, the Orange posted a 1-8 record. The team's only win was a 13-9 season-opening victory against Niagara.

1949
Ben Schwartzwalder was hired as head coach after five consecutive losing seasons. Schwartwalder won four games in his first year, including a 35-7 triumph over rival Colgate.

1950
A 5-5 season featured a four-game winning streak in the middle of the year. Avatus Stone set the school record (since tied) by intercepting three passes in a 27-7 win versus Penn State.

1951
Syracuse enjoyed its first winning season since 1942, posting a 5-4 record. The Syracuse defense forced a school-record nine turnovers against Lafayette. Off the field, Howard Jones and Buck O'Neill were the first individuals associated with the program to be inducted into the College Football Hall Fame.

1952
Tackles Robert Fleck and Bill Skyinskus earned All-America honors, leading Syracuse to a 7-2 record and its first bowl appearance. Syracuse lost to Alabama 61-6 in the Orange Bowl. Future Pro Football Hall of Fame center Jim Ringo concluded his three-year Orange career.

1953
Robert Fleck moved to guard and earned his second consecutive All-America award as the Orange finished 5-3-1 during head coach Ben Schwartzwalder's fifth season at the helm.

1954
A halfback from Long Island, well down the preseason depth chart, was issued jersey No. 44. His name was Jim Brown. Syracuse finished 4-4 and won three of its last four games.

1955
The Syracuse defense shined, allowing 35 completions on 95 pass attempts – still records for the fewest season completions and attempts by the opposition in team history. Jim Brown earned All-America honors in his second season, and the Orange finished with a 5-3 record. They were ranked as high as No. 18 in the AP poll.

1956
With a bowl bid on the line in the regular-season finale versus Colgate, Jim Brown scored a then NCAA-record 43 points in Syracuse's 61-7 victory. The Orange finished the regular season with a 7-1 record, earning an invitation to the Cotton Bowl, where it lost 28-27 to TCU. Brown broke the Syracuse single-season rushing record with 986 yards and became the first unanimous All-American in school history. Brown went on to a Hall of Fame career with the NFL's Cleveland Browns after he was the sixth overall selection by the Browns in the 1957 NFL Draft. In 1995, Brown was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

1957

CHRONOLOGY

1958
Tackle Ronald Luciano, a future Major League Baseball umpire, earned All-America honors, leading the Orange to an 8-2 record. The defense recorded four shutouts and allowed just 59 points during the year. Syracuse lost to No. 5 Oklahoma 21-6 in the Orange Bowl.

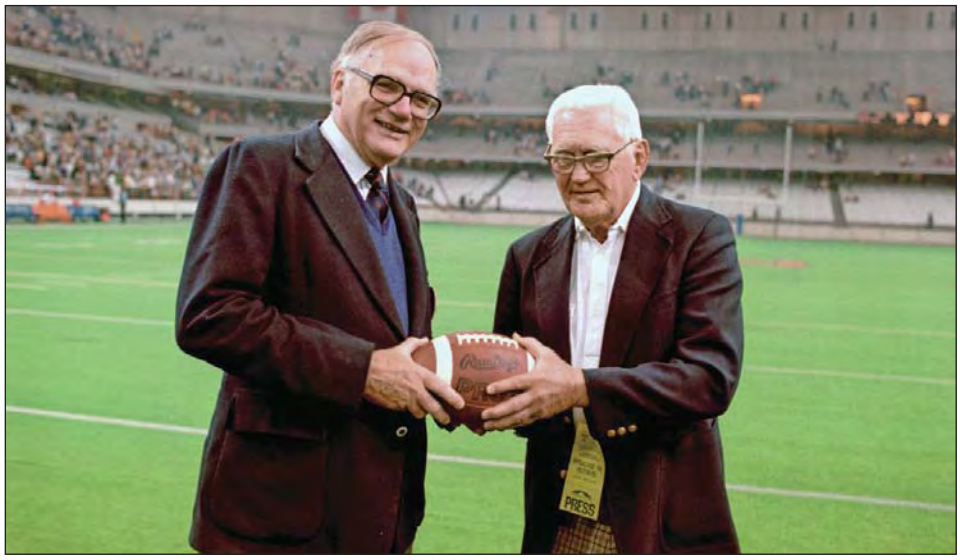
NATIONAL CHAMPIONS
Undefeated, untied, and national champions, the Orange capped an 11-0 season with their first bowl win, a 23-14 victory against Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Syracuse enjoyed its finest year on the gridiron, pulverizing foes both offensively and defensively. The defense allowed a mind-boggling 193 yards rushing in 10 games (19.3 ypg). On offense, the Orange averaged 451 yards a game. The team featured five All-Americans, including guard Roger Davis, who was the seventh overall selection by the Chicago Bears in the 1960 NFL Draft.



Ben Schwartzwalder (right) retired as head coach after the 1973 season. He guided the program to a 153-91-3 record and the 1959 national championship.

Halfback Ernie Davis earned the first of his two first-team All-America honors for the 7-2 Orange. Syracuse spent two weeks ranked No. 1 in the UPI poll. The team won its first five games to extend its school-record winning streak to 16 games before a home loss to Pittsburgh on Oct. 29 ended the run. The Philadelphia Eagles selected fullback Art Baker with the 14th overall pick in the 1961 NFL Draft.

1961
Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, becoming the first African American to receive college football's most prestigious award. Along the way, he broke Jim Brown's career rushing record and led the Orange to an 8-3 season, capped by a Liberty Bowl win against Miami (Fla.). Davis, who was later enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame, was the top pick in the 1962 NFL Draft. He died of leukemia less than two years later.

1962
The Orange began the year 1-3, but recovered to finish 5-5. End Walt Sweeney was a first-round selection by the AFL's San Diego Chargers in the 1963 draft.

1963
The Orange won seven of their last eight contests to finish 12th in the UPI poll with an 8-2 record. John Mackey began his NFL career as a tight end for the Baltimore Colts, where he eventually played in two Super Bowls. In 1992, Mackey was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1964
Sophomore halfback Floyd Little, who was recruited to Syracuse by Ernie Davis, earned All-America honors from three selectors in his first season. Center Pat Killorin also received All-America accolades. The team went 7-4 and made an appearance in the Sugar Bowl, losing to LSU, 13-10. The program celebrated its 400th win — a 38-6 victory against Kansas — on Sept. 26.

1965
All-Americans Floyd Little (halfback), Charles Brown (defensive halfback) and Pat Killorin (center) led the Orange to a 7-3 record. Syracuse was 19th in the final UPI poll and won five of its last six games. Little led the nation in all-purpose yards (1,990), punt return average (23.5) and touchdowns scored (19).

1966
Halfback Floyd Little and fullback Larry Csonka, the greatest one-two running punch in Orange history, led the team to an 8-3 record and a Gator Bowl berth. Little set a Syracuse bowl-game record with 216 yards rushing, while Csonka added 114 in the 18-12 loss to Tennessee. Little, Csonka and tackle Gary Bugenhagen earned All-America honors. Little was selected by the Denver Broncos with the sixth pick in the 1967 NFL/AFL Draft.

1967
Larry Csonka earned All-America honors for the second year in a row after rushing for 1,127 yards and eight touchdowns to power Syracuse to an 8-2 record. The Miami Dolphins selected Csonka, who went on to be enshrined in both the College and Pro Football Halls of Fame, with the eighth pick in the 1968 NFL/AFL Draft.

1968
The Orange rose to No. 10 in the national polls and finished with a 6-4 record. Defensive halfback Anthony Kyasky and defensive tackle Art Thoms earned All-America honors. Thoms was the 22nd overall selection by the Oakland Raiders in the 1969 NFL/AFL Draft.

1969
The Orange were 5-5 with back-to-back shutouts of Arizona and Navy in November. Against Penn State, Greg Allen set the single-game record for most individual punt return yards with 172.

1970
Facing a boycott by a group of African-American student-athletes, Syracuse was outscored 100-29 in its first three games, but rebounded to win six of the next seven games. The "Syracuse Eight," as the group was named by the media, sat out the season calling for the equal treatment of players and a diverse coaching staff. On the field, All-America defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann led the Orange to a 6-4 record.

1971
All-America defensive back Tommy Myers intercepted a Syracuse single-season record eight passes during a 5-5-1 campaign in which a 28-24 win against West Virginia gave the program its 450th victory.

1972
The Syracuse streak of 22 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end. The Orange lost at West Virginia in the season finale to finish 5-6. Defensive tackle Joe Ehrmann was the 10th overall pick in the 1973 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Colts.

1973
Ben Schwartzwalder retired after a 2-9 season. Schwartzwalder led the Orange to a 153-91-3 record in 25 years as head coach. He was enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame in 1982. Guard Dave Lapham was voted an Associated Press Third Team All-American.

1974
Syracuse began Frank Maloney's seven-year coaching tenure with a 23-15 triumph against Oregon State, but lost nine of its last 10 to close season 2-9.

CHRONOLOGY

1975
All-American Ray Preston led the Orange to a 6-5 record and was invited to play in the East-West Shrine Game. Preston enjoyed a nine-year (1976-84) NFL career as a linebacker for the San Diego Chargers.

1976
After a 3-8 campaign, Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American Tim Moresco played in the last American Bowl and intercepted a pass for the victorious North squad.

1977
Syracuse posted its second winning season under Frank Maloney, going 6-5, including four consecutive victories to end the year.

1978
Joe Morris set the school freshman rushing record with 1,001 yards. It was a performance that included a then-school season record four consecutive 100-yard games. In the final game in Archbold Stadium, Morris ran for 203 yards to power the Orange to a 20-17 victory against nationally-ranked Navy. Syracuse bid farewell to Archbold having posted a 261-104-20 record at the facility.

1979
With the razing of Archbold Stadium and the construction of the Carrier Dome, Syracuse spent the entire season on the road, playing "home" games in the Meadowlands, Buffalo and Ithaca. Despite the obstacles, the Orange went 7-5 and defeated McNeese State in the Independence Bowl with future NFL players Joe Morris, Art Monk, Bill Hurley, Craig Wolfley, Gary Anderson and Jim Collins leading the way. Monk was the 18th overall selection in the 1980 NFL Draft by the Washington Redskins.

1980
Sept. 20 marked the beginning of a new era with the opening of the Carrier Dome. Joe Morris scored four touchdowns and racked up 300 all-purpose yards as the Orange christened their new home with a 36-24 win against Miami (Ohio). An all-time Syracuse record crowd of 50,564 witnessed the event. The Orange were 5-6 in Frank Maloney's last year as head coach.

1981
Down-easterner Dick MacPherson arrived on the scene, replacing Frank Maloney as head coach. MacPherson guided the Orange to a 4-6-1 mark in his first year, including consecutive wins against Boston College and West Virginia to end the season. Running back Joe Morris concluded his career as Syracuse's all-time leading rusher. He and kicker Gary Anderson both earned All-America honors.

1982
Ben Schwartzwalder, the winningest coach in Syracuse football history, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. On the field, defensive tackle Michael Charles was named a first-team All-American for the 2-9 Orange.

The 1990 Orange earned the program's fourth consecutive bowl berth and defeated Arizona 28-0 in the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The Orange posted their first winning season since 1979, going 6-5 in Dick MacPherson's third year as head coach. In addition, Syracuse hit a program milestone by winning its 500th game, 14-7, against Navy.

1984
Syracuse native Tim Green earned the first of two consecutive first-team All-America certificates at defensive tackle. Green and his teammates grabbed the nation's attention with a 17-9 home victory against No. 1 Nebraska during a 6-5 season.

1985
Syracuse began a run of seven bowl appearances in eight seasons, earning a spot opposite Maryland in the Cherry Bowl. Syracuse lost to the Terps 35-18 to finish the year with a 7-5 record. Defensive tackle Tim Green was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row. Green, who was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001, was the 17th overall selection in the 1986 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons.

1986
After an 0-4 start, the Orange won five of their final seven games to set the stage for a remarkable 1987 season.

1987
Dick MacPherson's bunch finished the regular season with an undefeated 11-0 record and earned a trip to the Sugar Bowl, its first New Year's Day bowl bid since 1965. Auburn's Win Lyle kicked a last-second field goal to force a 16-16 tie, the first deadlock in Sugar Bowl history. Consensus All-American Don McPherson finished second in the Heisman race, but won several other player of the year awards. Nose guard Ted Gregory was also a consensus All-American. MacPherson was the consensus pick for national coach of the year and the Orange finished No. 4 in both polls.

1988
Syracuse put together consecutive double-digit win seasons for the first time, capping a 10-2 campaign with a decisive 23-10 victory against LSU in the Hall of Fame Bowl. Defensive back Markus Paul was named a first-team All-American by four selectors (AP, FWAA, Sporting News, Football News).

1989
Syracuse football observed its 100th birthday and earned a third straight bowl invitation. This time John Biskup hit a last-minute field goal to edge Georgia 19-18 in the Peach Bowl to cap an 8-4 season. Center John Flannery and wide receiver Rob Moore earned first-team All-America recognition. Moore entered his name in the 1990 NFL Supplemental Draft and was selected first overall by the New York Jets.

1990
The Orange finished the regular season with a 6-4-2 record and garnered an invitation to the Aloha Bowl in Honolulu. Syracuse put the finishing touches on its third straight bowl win by shutting out Arizona 28-0. The Wildcats had not been blanked in 20 seasons (214 games), the second-longest streak in NCAA history at the time. Center John Flannery was named a first-team All-American for the second year in a row.

1991

Paul Pasqualoni and the Orange again won 10 games and made their second straight New Year's Day bowl appearance, knocking off Colorado 26-22 at the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. It was the fifth straight bowl victory for Syracuse, the second-longest postseason winning streak in the country at the time behind Florida State. Tight end Chris Gedney was a unanimous All-America selection.

1993
Another year, another winning season. The Orange finished with a 6-4-1 overall mark. Breaking records was a regular occurrence during the campaign. Marvin Graves set new standards in almost every passing and total offense category, while Shelby Hill, Pat O'Neill and Kevin Mitchell also etched their names in Syracuse's record book.

1994
In keeping with the tone of the recent past, the Orange recorded an eighth straight winning season, finishing 7-4 overall. The passing combination of Kevin Mason to Marvin Harrison was prominent throughout the year, while the return of linebacker Dan Conley for a sixth season of competition after numerous knee surgeries was a story of perseverance and dedication.

1995
A young Syracuse team posted a 9-3 record and a victory over Clemson in the Gator Bowl. The emergence of Donovan McNabb and his chemistry with receiver Marvin Harrison provided thrills and records, as Harrison established himself as one of the all-time great receivers and return men at Syracuse. Harrison was the 19th overall pick in the 1996 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts. Defensively, cornerback Kevin Abrams earned first-team All-America honors.

1996
Despite an 0-2 start, the Orange won a share of the BIG EAST title once again and were among the nation's elite. An eight-game winning streak in the middle of the season resulted in another bowl bid. Syracuse beat Houston in the Liberty Bowl for its seventh consecutive postseason victory, which was the nation's longest bowl winning streak at the time. Cornerback Kevin Abrams received first-team All-America plaudits for the second year in a row.

1997
Syracuse won its first outright BIG EAST championship, clinching the crown with a 33-18 victory at Miami (Fla.). After starting the year 1-3, a 30-19 victory against Tulane ignited an eight-game winning streak. A 35-18 loss to Kansas State in the Fiesta Bowl did not detract from the fact the Orange were one of six teams to receive a Bowl Alliance bid. Safety Donovin Darius was a first-team All-America selection.

After a 34-33 loss to eventual national champion Tennessee in the opener, the Orange defeated the previous year's national title winner, Michigan, the following week. From there, Syracuse went 7-3 to win its second outright BIG EAST title and third conference championship in a row. The Orange earned a Bowl Championship Series (BCS) berth in the first season of the BCS and lost to Florida in the Orange Bowl — Donovan McNabb's last game. McNabb was selected with the second overall pick by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft, the highest a Syracuse quarterback has ever been taken. Kick returner Kevin Johnson earned first-team All-America honors.

1999
Syracuse earned a bowl invitation for the fifth straight year and the 11th time in 13 seasons. The Orange were 7-5 in the last season of the millennium and closed the century with a 20-13 victory against Kentucky in the Music City Bowl. All-America linebacker Keith Bulluck was selected in the first round (30th overall) of the 2000 NFL Draft by the Tennessee Titans. The University recognized the program's All-Century Team at the final home game versus Temple.

2000
Syracuse ran its streak of consecutive winning seasons to 14 with a 6-5 record. Cornerback Will Allen was taken with the 22nd overall pick in the first round of the 2001 NFL Draft by the New York Giants.

2001
Syracuse recorded its 15th straight winning season, posting a 10-3 record and topping Kansas State in the Insight.com Bowl. Unanimous All-American Dwight Freeney was selected in the first round of the 2002 NFL Draft, marking the fifth consecutive year that a Syracuse player heard his name called in the opening round.

2002
The Orange's string of winning seasons came to an end as Syracuse finished 4-8. The team played in two triple-overtime games, including a 50-42 victory against No. 8 Virginia Tech. Quarterback Troy Nunes ended his time on The Hill ranked in the top five on 10 different school record lists. Linebacker Clifton Smith and punter Mike Shafer also concluded fine careers. In November, former quarterback Donovan McNabb was named to the University's Board of Trustees.

2003
Running back Walter Reyes established single-season records for rushing touchdowns (21) and total touchdowns (22) in leading the Orange to a 6-6 record. Receiver Johnnie Morant, defensive tackle Christian Ferrara and offensive tackle Kevin Sampson entered Syracuse's NFL Draft fraternity.

2004
Walter Reyes concluded his college career as the program's second all-time leading rusher with 3,424 yards. The Orange earned a bowl berth for the first time since 2001, losing the Champs Sports Bowl 51-14 to Georgia Tech in Paul Pasqualoni's last game as head coach. Offensive tackle Adam Terry was chosen by the Baltimore Ravens in the second round of the 2005 NFL Draft.

2005
Head coach Greg Robinson, who also served as defensive coordinator, took over the program. Syracuse went 1-10, but boasted one of the most improved defenses in the country. The Orange jumped 69 spots in the NCAA statistical rankings in passing defense (90th to 21st), while the total defense went from 101st in 2004 to 57th in 2005. Free safety Anthony Smith led a group of four seniors who were selected in the 2006 NFL Draft. Smith was chosen in the third round by the defending Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

2006
Freshman Delone Carter emerged as a capable running back during a 4-8 season. Carter ran for 713 yards, the second-best total for a first-year player in school history. Cornerback Tanard Jackson and linebacker Kelvin Smith were selected in the 2007 NFL Draft.

2007
The Orange went 2-10, but defeated nationally-ranked Louisville in a shootout, 38-35. Receiver Mike Williams had a touchdown reception in nine straight games, while the kick return duo of Max Suter and Mike Holmes also had a big year. The pair keyed an Orange unit that led the BIG EAST in average yards per kickoff return (24.8). Suter paced the FBS ranks with a nation-best 1,299 kickoff return yards.

The world premiere of "The Express," the life story of Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis, was held in downtown Syracuse prior to the Orange's game against Penn State. On the field, Syracuse was 3-9 in Greg Robinson's final year as head coach. The team's biggest win was a last-minute, 24-23 victory at Notre Dame. Running back Curtis Brinkley established a Syracuse season record for consecutive 100-yard rushing games (5) and was one of four Orange players to sign with an NFL team. Fullback Tony Fiammetta earned Pro Football Weekly All-America honors.

2009
Doug Marrone returned to his alma mater to serve as the program's 28th head coach. Marrone brought in Syracuse native Greg Paulus to quarterback the Orange after a stellar four-year basketball career at Duke. Paulus led the Orange to 4-8 record in his only season. Punter Rob Long and defensive tackle Arthur Jones earned All-BIG EAST First Team honors. Jones was selected in the fifth round of the 2010 NFL Draft by the Baltimore Ravens after helping the Orange rank sixth nationally in sacks and 13th in rushing defense.

2010
In his second year at the helm, Doug Marrone led Syracuse back to the postseason. The Orange went 8-5 and beat Kansas State in the inaugural New Era Pinstripe Bowl. Behind linebackers Doug Hogue and Derrell Smith, the Orange ranked seventh nationally in total defense. Running back Delone Carter led the offense, rushing for 1,233 yards in his final season, including 198 yards against Kansas State to win Pinstripe Bowl MVP honors.

2011
The Orange got off to a 5-2 start, but lost its last five games to finish 5-7. Quarterback Ryan Nassib recorded the best statistical passing season in school history to that point, establishing program records for completions (259), attempts (415), yards (2,685) and matching the record for touchdown passes (22). Defensive end Chandler Jones used a standout season to garner the attention of pro scouts. Jones was the first pick of the New England Patriots (21st overall) in the 2012 NFL Draft. Jones, Nick Provo, Andrew Tiller, Antwon Bailey and Justin Pugh earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors.

2012
In its last year in the BIG EAST, Syracuse won a share of the conference championship and finished 8-5 overall. The Orange captured their second Pinstripe Bowl title in three years, beating West Virginia, 38-14. Quarterback Ryan Nassib surpassed his previous team-record totals, completing 294-of-471 passes for 3,757 yards and 26 touchdowns. Receiver Alec Lemon, offensive tackle Justin Pugh and safety Shamarko Thomas earned first-team All-BIG EAST honors, while Nassib was a Pro Football Weekly All-America selection. Pugh, Nassib and Thomas were all selected in the 2013 NFL Draft.

2013
Scott Shafer replaced Doug Marrone as head coach after Marrone was hired by the Buffalo Bills. Syracuse went 7-6 in its first year as a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference and defeated Minnesota in the Texas Bowl. Six members of the Orange earned All-ACC honors, including Jay Bromley and Marquis Spruill, who were both selected in the 2014 NFL Draft. Bromley was a third-round pick of the New York Giants. Spruill went in the fifth round to the Atlanta Falcons.

2014
Syracuse opened the year with victories against Villanova and Central Michigan, but finished the season 3-9 in Scott Shafer's second year as head coach. The Orange were stout defensively, finishing 26th nationally in total defense. Linebacker Cameron Lynch (third team), offensive tackle Sean Hickey (third team) and punter Riley Dixon (honorable mention) received All-ACC honors.

2015
The Orange started the year 3-0 for the first time since 1991, but lost their next eight games. A 20-17 victory against Boston College in Scott Shafer's last game as head coach ended the slide, resulting in a 4-8 record. Punter Riley Dixon became the first player in school history to earn All-ACC First Team honors. Dixon was drafted in the seventh round by the Denver Broncos.

2016
Syracuse set or tied more than 40 school records on offense in Dino Babers' first season as head coach. A 31-17 home victory over No. 17 Virginia Tech highlighted a 4-8 season and gave Central New York a glimpse of what Babers' high-octane, spread offense was capable of. Receiver Amba Etta-Tawo had a monster season, catching 94 passes for 1,482 yards and 14 touchdowns. Return man Brisly Estime led the NCAA in punt return average (17.7) and closed his career as the ACC's all-time leader in that category with a four-year mark of 18 yards per return. Etta-Tawo earned All-ACC First Team plaudits from both the media and coaches. He also garnered four All-America nods, including second-team honors from Sporting News.

2017
For the second straight season, Syracuse secured a marquee home win, shocking No. 2 Clemson, 27-24. However, injuries at key positions and five losses by nine points or less contributed to another 4-8 finish. Linebacker Zaire Franklin served as a team captain for the third year in row, a first for a Syracuse player in the modern era. Receiver Steve Ishmael caught a school-record 105 passes for 1,347 yards to close his career as the program's all-time leader in receiving yardage (2,891). Position-mate Ervin Philips ended his Orange career with a team-record 223 catches. The 2017 Walter Camp Connecticut Player of the Year, Philips snagged 89 balls, teaming up with Ishmael for an ACC-record 194 combined receptions. Ishmael was a unanimous All-ACC First Team selection and was picked to nine All-America teams. Franklin was selected in the seventh round of the 2018 NFL Draft by the Indianapolis Colts. Ishmael, Philips, offensive lineman Jamar McGloster and linebacker Parris Bennett all signed with NFL teams.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Founded in 1951 by the National Football Foundation, the College Football Hall of Fame immortalizes the greatest of the amateur gridiron.

With 18 inductees, Syracuse is one of the most well-represented schools in the Hall. The Orange rank second behind Pittsburgh (25) for the most honorees among ACC programs.

Originally slated to be built on the Rutgers University campus – home of the first college football game in 1869 – the Hall ultimately found its first home in Kings Mill, Ohio in 1978. The Ohio location closed in 1992 and the Hall relocated to South Bend, Ind., where it resided from 1995 to 2012. In 2014, the College Football Hall of Fame opened in Atlanta where it is home to approximately 1,100 enshrinees (900 players, 200 coaches).

Syracuse coaches Frank O'Neill and Howard Jones were members of the first induction class in 1951. Three years later, in 1954, three-time All-American Joe Alexander became the first Orange player inducted. Receiver Art Monk is the program's most recent honoree. Monk was enshrined in 2012.

Art Monk was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2012 in recognition of a standout career that included leading the Orange to a victory in the 1979 Independence Bowl.

Don McPherson enjoyed a return to the Carrier Dome to celebrate his 2008 College Football Hall of Fame induction with friends and former teammates.

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

Syracuse University's All-Century Football Team featured a Heisman Trophy winner and nine College Football Hall of Famers. The team was comprised of players from eight different decades, including several Orange standouts who showcased their talents in the NFL. Donovan McNabb, Marvin Harrison and Daryl Johnston were just a few of many All-Century honorees who went on to professional football stardom.

The team was announced on Oct. 27, 1999 following a selection process that included more than 6,000 fan votes. The criteria for selecting the team included all players who significantly impacted Syracuse football with special consideration for those who were members of the College Football Hall of Fame, All-Americans or who played in the NFL. Nominees were selected by three prominent figures associated with the Orange football program: Sports Information Director Emeritus Larry Kimball, former Syracuse Newspapers Sports Editor Arnie Burdick and former player, coach and administrator Joe Szombathy.

"Being selected to this elite team typifies the tremendous success that Syracuse football has achieved throughout the 20th century. Some of these athletes are among the greatest to ever play college football. It was an honor for us to recognize their talents and contributions at our final home game of the century," former Syracuse Director of Athletics Jake Crouthamel said.

Members of the All-Century Team were honored at halftime against Temple on Nov. 6, 1999.

RETIRED JERSEYS & NUMBERS

LEGEND OF 44

Like tailbacks at USC, quarterbacks at Brigham Young and linebackers at Penn State, the running back position at Syracuse has a rich tradition of greatness. Much of that excellence has revolved around one jersey number — 44.

On Nov. 12, 2005, the number was retired. It is the only retired number in the history of the Syracuse football program. A No. 44 jersey is displayed in the Carrier Dome rafters, honoring the legends who have worn it.

Beginning with Gifford Zimmerman in 1921, 25 players have worn the number. Rob Konrad was the last in 1998. Three of the most famous to don the digits — Jim Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little — rank among the finest running backs to ever play the game.

How much does the No. 44 mean to Syracuse University and the local community? For starters, the University zip code was changed from 13210 to 13244 several years ago. And in 1988, when the University switched phone systems, the exchange was changed from 423 to 443. Number 44 not only has come to represent greatness on the football field, it has become part of the University's and the community's identity.

A committee has been established to oversee the number. Under very special circumstances, the committee can permit a current student-athlete to wear it.

39 • LARRY CSONKA

Fullback • 1965-67 • Retired: 2007

Csonka led the Orange in rushing twice. He was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year and ranks fifth on Syracuse's all-time rushing list (2,934 yards). Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated. Csonka was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

88 • JOHN MACKEY

Tight End • 1960-62 • Retired: 2007

Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He led the Orange in receiving yardage in 1961 and 1962. Mackey went on to become an All-Pro for the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler, he was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1992. Mackey died in 2011 at the age of 69. Each year since 2000, the John Mackey Award has been presented to the nation's top collegiate tight end.

5 • DONOVAN McNABB

Quarterback • 1995-98 • Retired: 2013

McNabb led the Orange to three straight BIG EAST titles from 1996-98. He was fifth in the Heisman Trophy balloting as a senior and holds the school records for most career touchdown passes (77), most yards of total offense (9,950) and most touchdowns responsible for (96). McNabb was taken second overall by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 1999 NFL Draft. He was a six-time Pro Bowl selection in his 11 years with the franchise and played a total of 13 NFL seasons.

9 • DON McPHERSON

Quarterback • 1983-87 • Retired: 2013

McPherson authored one of the best seasons in school history in 1987. The Heisman Trophy runner-up, McPherson won the Maxwell (most outstanding player) and Davey O'Brien (most outstanding quarterback) awards after guiding the Orange to an 11-0-1 record. His 164.3 passer rating led the NCAA and stands as the Syracuse single-season record. McPherson played seven professional seasons in the NFL and CFL. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008.

CONSENSUS ALL-AMERICANS

MARQUIS (BILL) HORR

Tackle • 1908

The first All-American in the history of Syracuse football, Horr anchored a young offensive line on a team that opened newly-built Archbold Stadium with a win against Hobart in 1907. The next year, Horr led the Orange to a 6-3-1 record and the first victory in school history against a team from the Western Conference (now Big Ten) when Syracuse topped Michigan 28-4 in the season finale. At the 1908 Summer Olympics in London, Horr won a silver medal in the Greek-style discus throw and a bronze in the free-style discus throw. Horr served as the head football coach at Northwestern in 1909 and the head coach at Purdue from 1910 to 1912, compiling a career record of 9-14-2.

HAROLD WHITE

Guard • 1915

White and fellow All-American Christopher Schlacter were the guards on a line that helped Syracuse's offense overpower its opponents by the combined score of 331-16 in 1915. The Orange scored more than 30 points on five occasions and topped the 70-point mark in victories against Mount Union (73-0) and Rochester (82-0). The team finished with an impressive 9-1-2 record and was invited to play Washington in the Rose Bowl, but declined because an earlier West Coast trip (the first by an Eastern school) to Oregon State had used up the travel budget. Standing 6 feet 6 inches tall and weighing more than 270 pounds, White was one of the largest players of his era and captained the Orange in 1916.

ALFRED COBB

Tackle • 1917

A 1917 team captain, Cobb was the anchor for an offensive line that led the Orange to an 8-1-1 record, including six straight wins to end the season. Cobb played in the early days of the NFL, when it was still known as the American Professional Football Association (APFA). He suited up for the Akron Pros and the Cleveland Bulldogs. In 1920 with Akron, Cobb was a member of the very first NFL championship team. Over three APFA/NFL seasons, Cobb played in 21 games as a lineman, starting 16 of them.

J.A. (JOE) ALEXANDER

Guard/Center • 1918, 1919

Alexander and Ernie Davis are the only two players in Orange history to earn multiple consensus All-America honors. Alexander starred for Coach Frank O'Neill's teams from 1918-20. He also captained the lacrosse team for one season. Nicknamed "Doc," Alexander graduated from medical school and began practicing in New York City. He specialized in lung treatment and helped found one of the first tuberculosis centers in New York. For seven seasons (1921-27), he played in the National Football League on weekends while practicing medicine. A center in the NFL's early days for the Rochester Jeffersons (1921-22), Milwaukee Badgers (1922) and New York Giants (1925-27), Alexander was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1954.

LOUIS USHER

Tackle • 1918

Usher and fellow offensive lineman Joe Alexander anchored the line for the 5-1 Orange in 1918. Usher went on to play professional football for five years for the Rochester Jeffersons, Chicago Stanleys, Chicago Bears, Hammond Pros and Kenosha Maroons. He was tragically killed on Jan. 1, 1927 in an automobile accident near Calumet City, Ill.

EVANDER (PETE) MacRAE

End • 1923

MacRae led the Orange to an 8-1 overall record in 1923, including seven straight shutouts. The three-year football letterwinner was also the starting center for the Syracuse basketball team. After playing professional basketball for the Syracuse All-Stars, he returned to the University as an assistant basketball coach.

VIC HANSON

End • 1926

A three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball, Hanson was a consensus All-American on the gridiron in 1926 after leading the Orange to a 7-2-1 record. That winter, Hanson powered the Orange basketball team to a 19-1 mark. Following his college career, Hanson played briefly with the Cleveland Rosenblums in the American Basketball League and then formed the Syracuse All-Americans basketball team. The New York Yankees also signed Hanson upon his graduation from Syracuse in 1927 and he played one year in their farm system. Hanson served as head football coach of the Orange from 1930 to 1936, compiling a record of 33-21-5. He is the only player enshrined in both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and College Football Hall of Fame.

JIM BROWN

Halfback • 1956 *

Brown set the Orange record for highest average yards per carry (6.2) in 1956 and broke the single-season rushing record with 986 yards. Against Colgate that season, he established school marks for the most rushing touchdowns (6) and most points scored in a game (43). After leaving Syracuse, he played for the NFL's Cleveland Browns from 1957 to 1965 and scored 106 touchdowns. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1971 and College Football Hall of Fame in 1995. In addition to football, Brown excelled at basketball, lacrosse and track. He is a member of the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame and was an All-American midfielder on the Orange's undefeated 1957 team. Brown is considered by many to be the greatest athlete of all-time. In 2002, was tabbed by Sporting News as the greatest professional football player ever.

ROGER DAVIS

Guard • 1959 *

Nicknamed "Hound Dog" because of his love for training hunting dogs, Davis helped fellow All-American Ernie Davis rush for 883 yards in 1959. He was a member of a Syracuse unit that led the country in total offense (451.5 ypg) on its way to winning the national championship. Davis played pro football for the Chicago Bears, Los Angeles Rams and New York Giants. He was a starter at right guard for the Bears in 1963 when they won the NFL championship.

Halfback • 1960, 1961 *

Nicknamed the "Elmira Express" by sportswriter Al Mallette, Davis led Syracuse to a 26-5 record from 1959-61. As a sophomore in 1959, Davis scored two touchdowns against Texas in the Cotton Bowl to help the Orange complete a perfect season and capture the program's only national championship. Two years later, Davis became the first African American and only Syracuse player to win the Heisman Trophy. He was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in the 1962 NFL Draft and traded to Cleveland. Davis was diagnosed with leukemia the following summer and died in 1963 at the age of 23 without ever playing a professional game. The Browns retired his No. 45 jersey shortly after his death, and Davis was posthumously inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1979. In 2008, he was the subject of the Universal Pictures film "The Express," starring Dennis Quaid, Rob Brown and Charles S. Dutton. The film was based on the non-fiction book "Ernie Davis: The Elmira Express" by Robert C. Gallagher.

LARRY CSONKA

Fullback • 1967 *

Csonka led the Orange in rushing twice and was named the 1967 ECAC Player of the Year as a senior. He teamed with halfback Floyd Little to form the most potent rushing duo in school history. Csonka holds the Orange record for most carries in a game (43 vs. Maryland in 1967) and ranks fifth on Syracuse's career rushing list (2,934 yards). He recorded two 200-yard rushing games for the Orange, including 204 yards against Cal in 1967. Csonka went on to play for the NFL's Miami Dolphins and New York Giants. He was a member of the 1972 Dolphins team that went undefeated and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987. Two years later, in 1989, he was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame. In 2007, Syracuse retired Csonka's No. 39 jersey.

TIM GREEN

Defensive Tackle • 1985 *

Green was named the ECAC Player of the Year in 1985 and ranks first on Syracuse's career sacks list with 45.5. He remains the program's top tackler among down linemen with 341 career stops. Green played for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2001. After his playing career ended, Green became a commentator for the NFL on FOX. A best-selling author and lawyer, Green won the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, given annually to six former student-athletes for distinguished career accomplishments on the 25th anniversary of their college graduation, in December 2011.

TED GREGORY

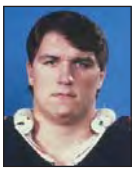
Nose Tackle • 1987

Gregory was a force during Syracuse's 11-0-1 season in 1987. He captained a defense that allowed more than 21 points just once in 12 games. He was a finalist for the Lombardi Award, which at the time recognized the most outstanding lineman or linebacker in major college football. Gregory completed his four-year career with 242 tackles, third all-time among Orange defensive linemen, and 17 sacks. He went on to play in the NFL for the New Orleans Saints.

DON McPHERSON

Quarterback • 1987 *

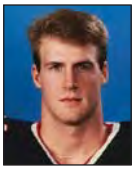
The Heisman Trophy runner-up in 1987, McPherson won the Maxwell (most outstanding player), Davey O'Brien (most outstanding quarterback) and Johnny Unitas Golden Arm (most outstanding senior quarterback) awards. His 164.3 passer rating that season led the NCAA and stands as an Orange record. He also set the school single-season marks for most yards per pass attempt (10.2) and most yards per completion (18.1). Upon graduating from Syracuse, McPherson spent seven seasons in the NFL and CFL. After retiring from football in 1994, he joined the staff of Northeastern University's Center for the Study of Sport in Society, before becoming the first executive director of the Sports Leadership Institute at Adelphi University. McPherson was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2008. Syracuse retired McPherson's No. 9 jersey in 2013.



JOHN FLANNERY

Center • 1990

With Flannery as the anchor of the offensive line from 1987-90, Syracuse posted a four-year record of 36-10-3, including a 3-0-1 record in bowl games. A native of Pottsville, Pa., Flannery started at left guard for Syracuse in 1987 before shifting to center. He was a three-time All-American, earning first-team honors in both 1989 and 1990. He was drafted in the second round by the Houston Oilers and made the NFL All-Rookie Team in 1991. He later made stops with the Dallas Cowboys and St. Louis Rams, winning a Super Bowl title as a member of the Rams in 1999. That same year, Flannery was named to Syracuse's All-Century Team.



CHRIS GEDNEY

Tight End • 1992 *

A native of nearby Liverpool, N.Y., Gedney set the standard for Orange tight ends. He held the school records for most receptions by a tight end in a season (34) and career (91) until 2011. His 34 catches and five touchdowns during the 1992 season helped propel Syracuse to a 10-2 record and a victory over Colorado in the Fiesta Bowl. Gedney played seven seasons in the NFL for the Chicago Bears and Arizona Cardinals. In 2008, he returned to his alma mater as the Orange Club's assistant athletics director for major gifts. He was appointed senior associate athletics director for the Orange Club in 2011, a position he held until his untimely passing in 2018. A member of Syracuse's All-Century Team, Gedney was named a 2015 ACC Football Legend. He also served as the color analyst for Syracuse IMG Sports Network football broadcasts from 2007-2017.

DWIGHT FREENEY

Defensive End • 2001 *

Freeney terrorized opposing quarterbacks from 1998-2001. He holds the Orange records for most sacks in a game (4.5 vs. Virginia Tech in 2000) and season (17.5 in 2001). He finished his career with 34 quarterback takedowns, second only to Tim Green on the Syracuse all-time list. Freeney was team MVP his junior year. As a senior in 2001, he was an All-BIG EAST First Team selection and shared BIG EAST Defensive Player of the Year honors. He was also a finalist for the 2001 Lombardi, Bednarik and Nagurski awards. The Indianapolis Colts made Freeney the 11th overall pick in the 2002 NFL Draft. In 2004, Freeney led the NFL with 16 sacks. Two years later, he won a world championship when Indianapolis defeated the Chicago Bears in Super Bowl XLI. Freeney also played for the San Diego Chargers, Arizona Cardinals, Atlanta Falcons, Seattle Seahawks and Detroit Lions during his pro career. He retired in 2018 with 125.5 career sacks.

* - Unanimous selection

Gary Anderson was an All-American in 1981 and went on to have a long career in the NFL. He won Pro Football Weekly's Golden Toe Award, presented to the league's most outstanding kicker, in 1998.

HONORS & AWARDS

THE HEISMAN TROPHY

ERNIE DAVIS • 1961

In 1961, running back Ernie Davis won the Heisman Trophy, given to the outstanding intercollegiate football player in the United States. Davis edged out Bill Ferguson of Ohio State, in what was at the time the closest vote in Heisman history (824 points to 771), to become the first African American and only Syracuse player to win the coveted award. Davis rushed for 823 yards and 12 touchdowns to lead the Orange to an 8-3 record and the No. 14 ranking in the final Associated Press college football poll. Davis was selected first overall by the Washington Redskins in 1962 and traded to the Cleveland Browns. While preparing for the AFCA All-American Game in Buffalo, Davis was diagnosed with leukemia. He died in 1963, never getting the chance to realize his dream of teaming with former Syracuse great Jim Brown in the Cleveland Browns backfield. Davis' Heisman Trophy is kept on display in the Iocolano-Petty Football Complex for all to enjoy.

SOLADAY AWARD

It is fitting that the Soladay Award is the most prestigious award given to a student-athlete by the Department of Athletics. After all, Doris R. Soladay epitomized all of the positives in intercollegiate athletics. The Soladay Award is given annually to the top male and female student-athletes who best exemplify the essence of Doris.

From her appointment as the first, and only, Director of Women's Athletics at Syracuse University in 1975 until the day she retired as Associate Director of Athletics on May 31, 1995, Doris dedicated herself to student-athletes wearing the Orange. The Syracuse Department of Athletics and the world of intercollegiate sports lost a dear friend when Doris passed away in May, 2001.

Doris established scholarships for women, while increasing the budgets to run the programs. She worked with the late Chancellor Melvin Eggers and others who supported women's athletics to begin Orange Plus. Throughout her career, Doris made it a point to attend every home athletic contest of every Syracuse team whenever possible. She often cheered on one team in the morning, another in the afternoon and a third in the evening.

Her impact on athletics reaches far beyond "The Hill," however. Prior to the NCAA taking women's athletics into its fold, Doris held offices on numerous committees in the AIAW (Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women) on the state, regional and national levels. After the merger Doris directed her energy into the NCAA Council, serving from 1989 through 1995.

Doris was also influential regionally where she was an integral part of the expansion of The BIG EAST Conference to include women's athletics, as well as chairing various committees in the league. The ECAC also benefitted from her knowledge and savvy, where she was a member of the ECAC Women's Steering Committee from 1983-87. For her many outstanding contributions, the ECAC honored Doris with the 1995 Katherine Ley Award, presented annually to a women's athletics administrator who serves as a role model for her colleagues, as well as a strong proponent of women's issues.

It is no secret that since her retirement her presence in the corridors of Manley Field House has been missed, but it is clear that her legacy will remain a part of the Orange forever.

ALL-TIME RESULTS

Game-by-game results for every Syracuse football season since 1889. Home games were played on campus at The Oval from 1895-1906 and at Archbold Stadium from 1907-1978. Home games in 1979 were played at neutral sites due to the construction of the Carrier Dome, which has served as the team's home venue since 1980.

Syracuse was a member of the BIG EAST Conference from 1991-2012. There were no BIG EAST standings for 1991 and 1992. The highest-ranked team in the USA Today Coaches Poll those seasons was declared conference champion. In 2013, Syracuse joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Rankings at the time the game was played are listed with Syracuse first (AP/Coaches) followed by its opponent (AP/Coaches). The AP poll began in 1936. From 1961-67, the AP ranked only the nation's top 10 teams. The coaches poll was a service of United Press (UP) and United Press International (UPI) from 1950 to 1990. In 1991, the coaches poll was taken over and released by USA Today.

Available game attendance figures are also listed.

STATISTICAL CHAMPIONS

The below compilation is not a comprehensive list of statistical categories. It includes only those for which a statistical championship was awarded by the NCAA; or those included by the conference on its official statistics reports. If known, other sections of this book reference NCAA leaders in additional categories for which no statistical champion was recognized. The number of categories for which statistical leaders have been produced has grown considerably over time.

The NCAA began compiling annual statistical rankings in 1937. From 1937 through 1969, individual rankings were by season totals. Beginning in 1970, most season individual rankings were by per game averages. Starting in 1979, passers were ranked on efficiency rating points. For punt and kickoff returns, the NCAA retroactively determined the leaders in average yards per return from 1937 to 1969 and includes them in the official record book.

NCAA TEAM ANNUAL CHAMPIONS

Total Offense
1959 - 451.5 yards per game (4,515 in 10 games)

Scoring Offense
1959 - 39.0 points per game (390 in 10 games)

Rushing Offense
1959 - 313.6 yards per game (3,136 in 10 games)
1964 - 251.0 yards per game (2,510 in 10 games)

Total Defense
1959 - 96.2 yards allowed per game (962 in 10 games)

Rushing Defense
1959 - 19.3 yards allowed per game (193 in 10 games)

NCAA INDIVIDUAL ANNUAL CHAMPIONS

Passing

The Associated Press college football poll was introduced in 1936. The poll ranked the top 20 teams in the nation until 1961 when it was revamped to include just the top 10 teams. The top-20 format returned in 1968 and was expanded to include the top 25 in 1989.

The coaches poll was a service of the United Press (UP) and United Press International (UPI) from 1950 to 1990. In 1991, the coaches poll was taken over and released by USA Today.

Bowl Championship Series (BCS) rankings were released from 1998-2013.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL

ORANGE IN THE PROS

OUR HOUSE

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

JIM BROWN

Jim Brown is the player all running backs are measured against. He is the only person enshrined in the College Football, Pro Football and National Lacrosse Halls of Fame. He was a unanimous collegiate All-American in both sports. The 6-2, 232-pound Brown was the top draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1957. He is considered by many to be the finest runner to ever play the game. He led the NFL in rushing in eight of his nine professional seasons. When Brown retired in July of 1966, he held the NFL records for single-season (1,863 in 1963) and career (12,312) rushing yardage, most rushing touchdowns (106), most total touchdowns (126) and career all-purpose yardage (15,549). He was voted to the Pro Bowl every season he played and was named the greatest professional football player of all-time by Sporting News in 2002.

JIM RINGO

One of the greatest linemen in pro football history, Jim Ringo was the center for Vince Lombardi's great Green Bay Packers teams, and also for the Philadelphia Eagles. Ringo earned All-NFL honors six times. He played in 10 Pro Bowls and three NFL championship games. Ringo was a member of Ben Schwartzwalder's 7-2 1952 squad that earned a trip to the Orange Bowl, Syracuse's first-ever bowl appearance.

LARRY CSONKA

Still considered the prototype for NFL fullbacks, Larry Csonka led the Miami Dolphins to an undefeated season and Super Bowl title in 1972. He was the MVP of Super Bowl VIII after carrying 33 times for 145 yards and two touchdowns, as Miami defeated Minnesota, 24-7. A five-time Pro Bowl selection, Csonka put together three straight 1,000-yard campaigns from 1971-73, leading the Dolphins to the Super Bowl each season.

AL DAVIS

A 1950 Syracuse University graduate, Al Davis was the owner of the Oakland Raiders from 1972 to 2011. He served as commissioner of the AFL in 1966 and was the driving force behind the AFL-NFL merger. From 1967-85, Davis' Raiders won an AFL championship, three Super Bowl titles and 13 division championships.

Syracuse's legacy in the Pro Football Hall of Fame ranks among the finest of any college football program. The Orange boast eight inductees, tied for the fourth-most of any school. Jim Brown (1971) was the Orange's first representative enshrined in Canton. Marvin Harrison (2016) is Syracuse's most recent honoree. Three players (Art Monk, Floyd Little and Harrison) earned induction during the nine-year period from 2008 to 2016.

JOHN MACKEY

John Mackey is known as perhaps the greatest tight end of all-time. He played 10 seasons in the NFL from 1963-72, including nine with the Baltimore Colts. A five-time Pro Bowler and three-time All-Pro selection, Mackey caught 331 career passes for 5,236 yards and scored 38 touchdowns. He was a member of the NFL's 1960s All-Decade Team and was named to the NFL 50th Anniversary Team. Mackey served as president of the NFL Players Association toward the end of his career and helped fight to establish free agency.

ART MONK

Considered one of football's most reliable receivers, Art Monk played for the Washington Redskins, New York Jets and Philadelphia Eagles during a 16-year NFL career that spanned from 1980 to 1995. Monk was selected by the Redskins in the 1980 NFL Draft and helped the franchise win three Super Bowl titles. He was voted to the Pro Bowl after three straight seasons (1984, 1985, 1986) and became the first receiver in league history to amass 900 career receptions. Monk made at least one reception in 183 straight games and finished his career with 940 catches.

FLOYD LITTLE

A multi-dimensional player, Floyd Little combined his rushing talents with great hands and elusiveness in the return game to become a superstar for the Denver Broncos. A five-time Pro Bowler, Little recorded more than 12,000 all-purpose yards during a career that lasted from 1967 to 1975. He led the AFC in rushing in 1970 and posted the first 1,000-yard season in Denver history the next year, gaining a league-best 1,133 yards. At the time of his retirement, Little ranked seventh on the NFL's career rushing list (6,323 yards). He was a charter member of the Broncos Ring of Fame in 1984.

MARVIN HARRISON

An All-American for the Orange in 1995, Marvin Harrison played 13 seasons for the Indianapolis Colts and earned eight Pro Bowl invitations. As Peyton Manning's favorite target, Harrison posted eight 1,000-yard receiving seasons, including 1,366 yards in 2006 to help the Colts win their first Super Bowl in 36 years. Harrison holds the NFL single-season record for most catches (143 in 2002) At the time of his retirement, Harrison ranked second in league history with 1,102 catches for 14,580 yards and 128 touchdowns.

SYRACUSE FOOTBALL

ADMINISTRATION

KENT SYVERUD

Chancellor & President

Kent Syverud is the 12th Chancellor and President of Syracuse University. A legal scholar and educator, Chancellor Syverud has earned distinction as a strategic thinker and visionary leader who has put forward a bold strategic plan to position the University for growth and recognition as a thriving global research university.

At Syracuse, Chancellor Syverud identified four key institutional priorities: providing an outstanding undergraduate experience; empowering research excellence; fostering and supporting change and innovation; and positioning Syracuse as the best university in the world for veterans. The Chancellor also launched a three-pronged initiative, Fast Forward Syracuse, to achieve these ambitious goals. Part of that initiative is an academic strategic planning process that builds on historic institutional strengths, positions the University to anticipate and quickly respond to emerging challenges and opportunities, and aligns the academic goals with a new framework for the physical transformation of the main campus.

A native of Irondequoit in Upstate New York, Chancellor Syverud came to Syracuse from Washington University in St. Louis, where he served as dean and the Ethan A.H. Shepley Distinguished University Professor at the School of Law. Prior to that, he served as dean at Vanderbilt Law School and as associate dean for academic affairs and professor at University of Michigan Law School. At Syracuse, he continues to teach each semester as a member of the College of Law and School of Education faculties. An elected member of the American Law Institute, Syverud's scholarship has addressed negotiation, civil litigation, dispute resolution, and higher education.

Chancellor Syverud has a bachelor's degree from the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service and a law degree and master's in economics from the University of Michigan. He counts among his closest mentors retired U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, for whom he clerked shortly after she became the first woman named to the Supreme Court bench.

In addition to his higher education leadership, Chancellor Syverud was appointed in October 2016 to the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Academic Advisory Council, where he, and other academic leaders, advises DHS on homeland security, career opportunities for graduates, campus resilience and academic research. In January 2017, Chancellor Syverud began a two-year term as Commissioner for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. In this role, Chancellor Syverud works with his colleagues to refine and implement accreditation standards and define the strategic direction and processes of the Commission. In 2016, he completed six years of service as one of the two trustees of the $20 billion Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill Trust.

Chancellor Syverud is married to Dr. Ruth Chen, an accomplished environmental toxicologist and professor of practice at Syracuse University's College of Engineering and Computer Science. They are the parents of three grown sons, Steven, Brian, and David; and they have one granddaughter.

"Our department is defined by integrity and a passion for all things Syracuse – the University, the student-athletes, all students, the community and the region. We will be known as a group that collaborates amongst one another in all facets and with all branches of the University. We want our program to be a point of pride for the entire University – our students, our alumni, the community and Orange fans worldwide."

— JOHN WILDHACK —
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

John Wildhack with head football coach Dino Babers. Wildhack was an executive at ESPN before taking the reins of Syracuse Athletics in 2016.

JOHN WILDHACK

Director of Athletics

A uniquely qualified leader with a vast knowledge of and passion for Syracuse University Athletics, former ESPN executive John Wildhack was named Syracuse's 11th director of athletics in July 2016.

At Syracuse, Wildhack leads the daily operations of a 20-sport athletics department with more than 600 student-athletes. During his tenure, he has worked diligently to create an environment that fosters academic and athletic excellence, which prepares student-athletes to be leaders in our global society. Those efforts have resulted in tremendous success both on and off the field.

In Wildhack's first two years, 25 teams have represented Syracuse at national championship events, including 23 NCAA competitions. The Orange have captured 16 ACC championships (two team, 14 individual) and two national championships during his tenure. Both national titles came courtesy of Justyn Knight who won the NCAA Cross Country Championship and NCAA Indoor Championship in the 5,000-meter run during the 2017-18 academic year.

Syracuse student-athletes are succeeding at a high rate in the classroom, as well. The Orange had a record five teams post perfect four-year scores in the 2018 release of the Academic Progress Rate (APR), and the University's four-year average of 987 is the highest since APR tracking began in 2006. In addition, the Orange student-athlete body achieved better than a 3.0 cumulative GPA in 2017-18, the second year in a row they surpassed that benchmark.

Since his arrival on campus, Wildhack has overseen multiple strategic initiatives to ensure the future success of the department. Among the most impactful have been securing a $118 million investment from the University for enhancements to the Carrier Dome and the formation of an in-house production unit. Authorized by the Board of Trustees in May 2018, the $118 million in funds enables the University to move forward with Phase I improvements to the Dome, which include a new fixed roof, vertically-hung scoreboard, and state-of-the-art sound and lighting systems. The Syracuse Athletics Production team formed in the fall of 2017. In its first year, the group broadcast 91 live events and was responsible for more than 300 hours of content for the conference's digital platform – ACC Network Extra.

During his distinguished career at ESPN, which spanned more than 30 years, Wildhack held a number of leadership roles and was responsible for several firsts at the network. Those firsts included producing ESPN's first live regular-season college football game in September 1984 and its first live NFL game in August 1987.

Before joining the Orange, Wildhack most recently served as the network's executive vice president for programming and production. He was responsible for oversight of all ESPN and ABC game, event and studio production work for domestic and international television and radio, as well as programming acquisitions, rights-holder relationship management, and scheduling. He managed all league and conference relationships, negotiated all live sports television rights and was responsible for 50,000 hours of on-air content annually.

From 2007 until 2012, Wildhack worked as ESPN's executive vice president for programming and acquisitions. In that role, he oversaw all rights negotiations and managed relationships with rights holders for all ESPN entities. These included ESPN, ESPN2, ESPN Classic, ESPNEWS, ESPN Deportes, ESPNU, ESPN International, ESPN Radio, ESPN.com, ESPN3, ESPN Mobile Properties, print and more. In 2009, he began leading strategic program planning for all ESPN television networks, ESPN on ABC and ESPN's digital platforms.

Wildhack's managerial role at the company began in 1990 when he was named director of event productions. In 1991, he was promoted to vice president for remote production, a position he held through 1993 when he became senior vice president for remote production. In September 1994, he moved to the programming department as senior vice president for programming, and in 2005 he became senior vice president for programming acquisitions & strategy. Wildhack was directly involved in the renewal and expansion of many ESPN and ESPN2 programming agreements for the NFL, MLB, NBA, Bowl Championship Series, NCAA, tennis' four Grand Slam events and a variety of major college conferences. His efforts were integral to the increase of live and original programming on ESPN and ESPN2. Under his direction, the evolution of ESPN2's programming lineup included an extensive commitment to auto racing and college football and basketball, leading to ESPN2 becoming the fastest growing network of the 1990s.

Wildhack first joined ESPN as a production assistant in 1980. He served in a number of production positions prior to his move to the management track, including production assistant, associate producer, senior associate producer, producer, coordinating producer and director of event productions. Among the sports he worked on were college football, NCAA basketball, boxing, golf and auto racing. He served as coordinating producer of ESPN's Sunday Night NFL and NFL Draft telecasts in 1988 and 1989 and produced NFL games for the network – the first NFL games on cable – from 1987-89.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y. and a 1980 alumnus of the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications with a degree in telecommunications, Wildhack joined ESPN in its first year of operation immediately following his graduation. An active alumnus of the University, he sits on the Advisory Board for the David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics and was an honoree at the "Newhouse at 40" Gala.

He and his wife, Amy, have two sons, Tommy and James. John is also the father of a son, M.J.

HERMAN FRAZIER

Senior Deputy Director of Athletics

Veteran athletics administrator Herman Frazier was promoted to senior deputy director of athletics in May 2016. Frazier joined the Syracuse staff as deputy athletics director/chief of staff in 2011.

A native of Philadelphia, Frazier boasts more than 40 years of experience in athletics administration, including eight years as an athletics director. He has overseen the participation of the Syracuse football team in the 2012 New Era Pinstripe Bowl and 2013 Texas Bowl. In 2012, he received the NACDA Pioneer Award for his position as Chef de Mission for the 2004 Olympic Games.

Before coming to Syracuse, Frazier was the senior associate athletics director for sports administration at Temple. Prior to joining the Owls, Frazier served six years as the director of athletics at Hawaii. He was also the director of athletics at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB).

At Temple, Frazier supervised the football, basketball, baseball, soccer and crew programs, and was the administrative liaison for budget, compliance, financial aid, coaching searches, scheduling, academic support, facility issues, event management, media relations and marketing. He was also responsible for administrative supervision of the equipment operation, facilities, event management, sports medicine and strength and conditioning. Frazier handled the administrative logistics for Temple's appearance in the 2009 Eagle Bank Bowl and the men's basketball team's 2010 and 2011 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Frazier was the athletics director at Hawaii from 2002 through 2008, where he guided the Warriors to unparalleled success. Under Frazier's direction, the football team earned a spot in the 2008 Sugar Bowl following an unbeaten regular season and garnered four consecutive bowl bids, while the volleyball program advanced to back-to-back Final Fours. During his tenure, Frazier created premium seat donations, established a five-year financial plan, negotiated head coaching contracts for football and women's basketball, and was instrumental in bringing an Olympic trials event to Honolulu.

Frazier's first athletics director post was at UAB in 2000. As the second director of athletics in the history of the school, Frazier started a $30 million facility improvement plan and was responsible for instituting new management concepts and a strategic master plan for the program.

Frazier began his career in administration immediately upon graduation from Arizona State, joining the Sun Devils staff as a graduate assistant for the track & field program in 1977. In 1979, he was appointed assistant director of events and facilities. During his 23-year tenure at ASU, Frazier moved up the ranks to the position of senior associate athletics director for business operations. He was the administrator for 10 Olympic sports that won numerous national championships, and the football program, which earned two Rose Bowl berths. He also directed business affairs, operations and stadium management.

An eight-time All-America track performer at ASU, Frazier was the leadoff runner for the 1976 Olympic gold medal-winning 4x400 relay team. From 1980 through 2004, Frazier served on various United States Olympic committees, including two stints as the U.S. Olympic Committee vice president from 1996 through 2004. In 2004, he was named Chef de Mission for the U.S. delegation at the Athens Olympics and presided over the most successful U.S. Olympic team in history, as the Americans won 103 medals.

Frazier is a current member of the NCAA Division I Track & Field Committee, representing both Syracuse University and the ACC. It's Frazier's second time serving on the committee, including a term as chairman from 1994-95 while he was at Arizona State.

KRISTEN JONES KOLOD

Deputy AD/Chief Financial Officer

Kristen Jones Kolod moved to the Department of Athletics from Syracuse University's Division of Student Affairs in December 2016 to serve as deputy athletics director and chief financial officer.

Jones Kolod's primary responsibility is to manage the department's budget to ensure fiscal responsibility. In addition, she works with multiple University departments that impact Syracuse Athletics financially, including Budget and Planning, Human Resources, Campus Planning, Design and Construction, and the Office of Advancement and External Affairs.

Prior to her current appointment, Jones Kolod was executive director of budget and administrative operations for Student Affairs for eight years. Before that, she was the director of budget and operations for Student Affairs.

Jones Kolod has extensive experience in financial management and analysis, business process improvements and efficiencies, development and implementation of policies and procedures, and project management.

Prior to joining Syracuse University, Jones Kolod worked as manager of financial planning and analysis for the Division of Commercial Systems and Services at United Technologies Corporation. Previous positions she held include manager of finance and accounting services at Carrier Corporation – North American Operations, and manager of corporate payroll at Penn Traffic Company.

Jones Kolod holds a bachelor's degree in accounting and a master's degree in business administration, both from Le Moyne College. She resides in Pompey with her husband, Alex, and daughter, Sierra.

KIMBERLY KEENAN-KIRKPATRICK

Deputy AD/Senior Woman Administrator

Kimberly Keenan-Kirkpatrick joined the Syracuse Department of Athletics as the deputy athletics director/senior woman administrator in August 2015. She came to Syracuse from Seton Hall, where she worked as a member of the school's athletics administration since 2006.

At Syracuse, Keenan Kirkpatrick is the sport supervisor for women's basketball, women's lacrosse, men's soccer and cross country/track & field. In addition, she oversees Syracuse Student-Athlete Development and serves as the department's liaison with the University's Office of Equal Opportunity, Inclusion and Resolution Services.

At Seton Hall, Keenan-Kirkpatrick was associate director of athletics for compliance for five years before her promotion to senior associate director of athletics in 2011. Her responsibilities included directing Seton Hall's compliance program and serving as the sport administrator for multiple programs. She also chaired the BIG EAST Track & Field and Cross Country Seeding committees during her time there.

Before working at Seton Hall, Keenan-Kirkpatrick was the associate athletics director and senior woman administrator at Lafayette College for four years. She served in the same capacities at Kutztown University from 1996-2002. Keenan-Kirkpatrick got her start in athletics administration as Drew University's business manager and head cross country coach.

A track & field standout at Kent State, Keenan-Kirkpatrick earned the Mid-American Conference's (MAC) Bob James Memorial Postgraduate Scholarship and placed second in the 5,000-meter run at the MAC Indoor Championship her senior year.

An accomplished coach, Keenan-Kirkpatrick has demonstrated her instructional acumen multiple times on the world stage. She was an assistant coach for the U.S. Track & Field team at the 2005 World Championship and 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, China. In both instances, she worked with America's distance runners.

In 2011, Keenan-Kirkpatrick transitioned to a management role for USA Track & Field, serving as the head women's manager for the Pan American Games in Guadalajara, Mexico. Most recently, she was the track & field event manager for the U.S. men and women at the 2015 Pan Am Games in Toronto.

Keenan-Kirkpatrick earned her law degree from Seton Hall in 1993. She also holds an undergraduate degree in psychology from Kent State. She and her husband, Brian, live in Manlius with their two daughters, Libbie and Madison.

BOB ARKEILPANE

Executive Director/Athletics Development

Bob Arkeilpane, a 1981 Syracuse University graduate and four-year football letterwinner, returned to the University in March 2017 as executive director for athletics development. A veteran athletics administrator with vast fundraising experience, Arkeilpane was previously the director of athletics at the University at Buffalo for five years. He also served as the deputy director of athletics at Cincinnati for nine years.

At Syracuse, Arkeilpane is responsible for the creation and implementation of all athletics fundraising efforts for the 20 men's and women's sports programs, including facilities.

Arkeilpane began his three decades in Division I intercollegiate athletics as a student-athlete at Syracuse. He played defensive back for Orange head coach Frank Maloney from 1977 through 1980. He was a member of SU's 1979 Independence Bowl team and the first team to play its home games in the Carrier Dome. Arkeilpane then moved to Ohio University where he earned his master's degree in sport administration and worked as a graduate assistant football coach.

As the director of athletics at Buffalo from 1998 through 2003, Arkeilpane was responsible for all intercollegiate athletic, recreational and intramural programs, including 17 teams that competed in the Mid-American Conference. Arkeilpane's accomplishments included successfully guiding UB through the Division I-A reclassification process, positioning the Bulls to comply successfully with all aspects of Title IX, improving attendance at football and basketball games, and achieving a balanced budget for five consecutive years. Prior to leading the UB athletics program, Arkeilpane was the school's associate director of athletics for development and external relations for three years.

At Cincinnati, Arkeilpane served as associate vice president for development and campaign planning for the UC Foundation, the private sector fundraising entity for the school and its campuses, colleges, departments and units, from 2003 through 2005. Arkeilpane had previously worked for the UC Foundation as college director of development and alumni affairs from 1987-91.

Arkeilpane transitioned to the role of deputy director of athletics in 2005. As the deputy director of athletics, he was responsible for the day-to-day operations of Cincinnati's athletics department. He also provided sport oversight for the football, men's basketball and baseball programs, as well as the sports medicine department and athletics business office.

Early in his career, Arkeilpane served as assistant athletics director for development at both Cal State-Fullerton and Miami (Ohio).

ANTHONY DI FINO

Associate AD/Business Development

Syracuse native Anthony Di Fino joined the Orange staff as associate athletics director for business development in March 2016.

Di Fino is responsible for developing strategic marketing campaigns intended to cultivate community relationships and build support for Syracuse Athletics. He is a member of the external relations team that steers decisions on marketing, fundraising, ticketing, sponsorship and communications initiatives.

During his first two years, Di Fino and his sales staff reached several milestones. In 2016-17, they surpassed 4,100 new football season tickets sold, the second-highest total on record at Syracuse, and topped 1,750 in new season tickets sold for men's basketball. In addition, their efforts were the driving force behind the Orange women's basketball team drawing a record-crowd of 11,021 for its game against Notre Dame on Feb. 19, 2017.

Di Fino's previous experience includes positions at IMG Learfield (IMGL) Ticket Solutions and in the athletics departments at Army West Point, Columbia and Fordham.

The 2013 IMGL General Manager of the Year and 2014 IMGL Executive of the Year, Di Fino rose quickly through the company's ranks. He served as the IMGL general manager at Akron from 2011 to 2013, and worked as the general manager at Penn State from May 2013 to August 2014.

In August 2014, Di Fino was promoted to IMGL Northeast Regional Manager. In that capacity, he directed the sales efforts for 13 IMGL properties. Di Fino instituted pricing strategy, developed sales schedules and campaigns, directed overall marketing strategies and supervised the general managers at each property.

During his Akron tenure, Di Fino led a sales team that increased new revenues by 72 percent, highlighted by an 860 percent increase in partial plans and a 91 percent growth rate in group sales. At Penn State, he directed a sales force that sold more than 5,000 new seasons tickets for two consecutive years, and oversaw a growth in group sales of more than 200 percent.

Prior to joining IMG Learfield, Di Fino served as the assistant athletics director for ticket sales and client services at the United States Military Academy. He oversaw all ticket sales efforts, as well as tailgating and marketing strategies, for the Black Knights. Di Fino's previous experience also includes working as the ticket manager at Columbia and as a marketing assistant at Fordham.

An active member of the Syracuse community, Di Fino currently serves on the board of Young Leaders United. Part of the United Way of CNY, the group is comprised of young Central New York professionals whose mission is to promote and encourage the spirit of philanthropy and volunteerism among young people in the area.

Di Fino is a 2006 Fordham graduate where he was a member of the football team. He earned his master's degree from Columbia in 2009.

SUE EDSON

Executive Senior Associate AD/ Chief Communications Officer

As the chief communications officer for Syracuse Athletics, Sue Edson is responsible for all public relations and media relations functions for the department.

Edson serves as a member of the department's senior leadership group and external relations team, which includes communications, marketing, tickets, fundraising, corporate sales, digital media and athletics production. She supervises the Athletic Communications Department and works closely with University Marketing and Communications on athletics-related matters.

The athletics communications staff is responsible for the dissemination of information for Syracuse's 20 intercollegiate sports teams to appropriate organizations. The unit manages of the department's website (Cuse.com) and social media channels, acts as a liaison between the media and the department, and educates administrators, coaches and student-athletes with regard to public speaking and interviewing skills.

A 29-year veteran of Syracuse Athletics, Edson was promoted to her current role in the spring of 2015. Previously, she served as associate director of athletics for communications from 2006-14 after working as assistant director of athletics for communications (2004-06) and director of athletic communications (1997-2004). Edson was inducted into the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Hall of Fame in 2012.

Prior to her appointment as director of athletic communications in 1997, Edson was an assistant director for seven years, including four years as the department's publications coordinator. As publications coordinator, she was responsible for the production of 16 media guides. In addition, she handled the day-to-day public relations duties for women's basketball.

Edson began her career at Syracuse in 1990 as an assistant sports information director and was responsible for handling the public relations efforts for the Orange's 17 Olympic sports.

In 2006, Edson was honored with the Eastern College Athletic Conference-Sports Information Directors Association's (ECAC-SIDA) Irving T. Marsh Award for excellence in the field of sports information. The following year, she was recognized with the Greater Syracuse '40 Under 40' award for her significant contributions in the workplace and local community.

Edson has been the media coordinator for the NCAA Men's Basketball East Regional in Syracuse five times and served as the media coordinator for the first and second rounds of the 2016 NCAA Women's Basketball Championship at the Carrier Dome. She served on the ECAC-SIDA Board of Directors for eight years and was the organization's president in 2002-03.

Previously an adjunct professor in Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Edson taught a class in sports public relations from 1994 through 2013.

Edson graduated from Syracuse in 1990 with a dual degree in broadcast journalism and policy studies.

Edson resides in Jamesville. She has two children. Her son, Thomas, is a sophomore defenseman on the Ithaca College men's lacrosse team. Her daughter, Tracey, attends Jamesville-DeWitt High School. Edson's late husband, Rob, was an athletics administrator at Syracuse and Onondaga Community College before his passing in 2013.

Edson is a member of the Greater Syracuse Sports Hall of Fame Board of Directors. Previously, she was co-president of the Jamesville-DeWitt Youth Athletic Association Board of Directors and served as co-coordinator of the basketball program.

JORDAN KLIGERMAN

Assistant AD/Creative Services

Jordan Kligerman joined Syracuse Athletics as the department's creative media specialist in August 2016. He was promoted to assistant director of athletics for creative services in 2017.

Kligerman supervises the department's video production and design teams that create assets for the Orange's social media platforms, as well as commercial, fundraising and public service purposes. In addition, he plays an integral role in the planning and execution of the gameday experience for football and men's basketball. Kligerman's other duties include producing special events such as the 'Cuse Awards, Letterwinner of Distinction Banquet and Hardwood Club Banquet.

Prior to joining the department full-time, Kligerman produced events, commercials and other content for Syracuse Athletics as the principal owner and operator of fireKmedia. Kligerman managed his own firm for 10 years with a client base that included NFL Films, the National Basketball Players Association and Aspen Dental.

In 2015-16, Kligerman was appointed a visiting assistant professor for broadcast production at SUNY Oswego.

A three-year lacrosse letterwinner, Kligerman graduated from the University of Delaware in 1996. He spent eight years working with NFL Films as a production manager, coordinator and assistant. During his NFL Films tenure, Kligerman helped produce content for ABC, FOX, NBC, ESPN and NFL Network.

In 2004, Kligerman enrolled in The City College of New York's graduate program in media arts. He was awarded a master's degree in media arts and documentary directing in 2006.

JEREMIAH MAHER

Associate AD/Ticket Sales & Operations

Jeremiah Maher, who joined the Syracuse staff in 2007, is responsible for supervising all facets of the Orange's ticketing and customer service as it relates to Carrier Dome Box Office operations.

Before coming to Syracuse, the Rochester, N.Y. native was the director of ticket sales at Seton Hall. While with the Pirates, Maher established policies and procedures for reseating in the Prudential Center. He coordinated with the athletic development office to implement a priority seating system for men's basketball and generated strategies for the men's and women's basketball ticket sales campaigns. Maher started at Seton Hall as the ticket manager, a post he held for five years before being promoted.

Prior to working at Seton Hall, Maher was the assistant director of sports information and marketing at Siena.

Maher is a member of the Delta Sigma Pi Professional Business Fraternity and the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA). He earned his bachelor's degree in marketing and management from Siena and holds an MBA, with a concentration in sports management, from Seton Hall.

Maher and his wife, Jackie, have two children, Nicholas and Caroline.

MOREY MOSSOVITZ

Associate AD/Facilities & Event Operations

Associate Athletics Director Morey Mossovitz was elevated to his current position in July 2018 after serving as assistant athletics director of facilities and event operations since August 2011. Mossovitz began his career in administration at Syracuse in the specialized role of facilities coordinator with academic support responsibilities.

Mossovitz oversees the daily operations, facility upkeep and renovation projects for the Lampe Athletics Complex. He is the primary supervisor for Manley Field House, the Carmelo K. Anthony Basketball Center, Iocolano-Petty Football Complex, Ensley Athletic Center, SU Soccer Stadium, J.S. As game manager for all Olympic sporting events, and tournament manager for select Atlantic Coast Conference and NCAA events, Mossovitz works with nearly every sport program on campus. He served as the tournament manager for the 2015 NCAA Men's Basketball East Regional and was appointed the administrator in charge of overseeing Syracuse's camps and clinics in 2016.

Prior to his current role, Mossovitz acted as the Orange's academic and facilities coordinator. His primary responsibilities included academic coordination for men's and women's lacrosse, and tennis, while assisting in the daily and gameday operations of the Lampe Athletics Complex and Carrier Dome.

Mossovitz earned his bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in educational studies from Syracuse University in 2008. Two years later, he received his master's degree in student affairs counseling from the University.

During his undergraduate and postgraduate career, Mossovitz served as team manager, graduate assistant and assistant director of camps for the Orange men's lacrosse program.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Mossovitz is an alumnus of St. Paul's School for Boys. He currently lives in Fayetteville with his wife, Elizabeth, their daughter, Lucy, and their dog, Penny.

JAMIE MULLIN

Senior Associate AD/Administration

Jamie Mullin was promoted to senior associate athletics director for administration in July 2013 after serving in multiple roles during his time at Syracuse.

Mullin was hired as the Orange's director of compliance in July 2003. He was promoted to associate director of athletics for team services in 2006, and served as associate director of athletics for administration prior to his current appointment.

Mullin is the liaison to Syracuse's Office of University Counsel, Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities, Admissions, and Financial Aid. In addition, he is responsible for athletics policy development and strategic planning. Mullin also provides managerial support to the equipment staff, sports nutrition staff and video support services. He is the sport administrator for men's lacrosse, women's ice hockey, field hockey and men's and women's rowing.

Before coming to Syracuse, Mullin worked at Fresno State for two years. He was named Fresno State's director of compliance in June 2001 and was promoted to assistant athletics director for compliance a year later. Mullin also previously worked in the compliance office at Central Michigan as an assistant from August 1999 through May 2001.

Mullin received his bachelor's degree in history from Northern Michigan. He also holds a master's degree in sport administration from Central Michigan.

Jamie and his wife, Sara, reside in Jamesville with their sons, Tate and Quinn.

BRAD PIKE

Associate AD/Sports Medicine

A veteran sports medicine professional, Brad Pike was appointed associate athletics director for sports medicine in October 2016. Pike oversees all aspects of Syracuse's Sports Medicine Department and serves as the health care administrator for Syracuse Athletics.

Since 2000, Pike has worked with the men's basketball program and directed injury rehabilitation for all sports. In 2005, Pike was named head athletic trainer and director of sports medicine after serving as an associate athletic trainer for the Orange for five years. Pike previously worked as a graduate assistant athletic trainer at Syracuse from 1989-91. Before returning to the University in 2000, Pike spent nine years working in outpatient physical therapy centers.

A 1989 graduate of Marietta College in Ohio, Pike majored in sports medicine as an undergraduate and received his master's degree in physical education from Syracuse University in 1991. He was awarded a bachelor's degree in physical therapy from the SUNY Health Science Center in 1994.

Pike is proficient in full-body active release techniques (ART), sound-assisted soft tissue mobilization (SASTM), and is a certified National Academy of Sports Medicine Performance Specialist (PES) and Corrective Exercise Specialist (CES). His special interests include exercise recovery and strength training.

A certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), the College Athletic Trainers Society, the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association, and the New York State Athletic Trainers Association, Pike has presented at numerous symposiums and workshops.

Brad and his wife, Lynne, have two children – Ryan and Emily. Ryan Pike graduated from Syracuse University in 2018. The Pikes reside in Jamesville.

TOMMY POWELL

Assistant Provost/ Student-Athlete Academic Development

Tommy Powell came to Syracuse University as assistant provost for student-athlete academic development in August 2013. Powell has a strong history in guiding student-athletes to success in the classroom and in the community.

Under Powell's leadership, Syracuse had a record five teams receive perfect four-year APR scores in 2018. In addition, 10 individuals have combined for 14 CoSIDA Academic All-America awards since he arrived on campus.

Powell joined the Orange staff from Iowa State, where he had served as the associate athletics director for academic services since 2008. While with the Cyclones, Powell implemented a standard comprehensive academic support program for all student-athletes. The program helped student-athletes attain a higher cumulative GPA than the general student population from 2011 to 2013. Iowa State's 79 percent federal graduation rate in 2010 was the highest in the Big 12 and seventh-best among FBS schools. In 2009, Iowa State's CHAMPS/Life Skills program earned the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association National Program of Excellence Award.

Prior to his time at Iowa State, Powell was the associate director of the LSU Academic Center for Student-Athletes from 2001 to 2008. In addition to serving as the academic coordinator for several teams, including football and basketball, Powell monitored the progress toward degree and eligibility requirements for at-risk student-athletes.

Powell began his academic support career at LSU, where he worked as an academic counselor for the College of Arts and Sciences for two years. He was the director of counseling services at River Parishes Community College from 1998 to 2000 before serving as director of the TRIO Dissemination Partnership Program at Southeastern Louisiana in 2000 and 2001. The program trained and supervised college faculty on the implementation of supplemental instruction.

Powell earned his bachelor's degree in psychology in 1992 and his master's degree in counseling in 1995 from Southeastern Louisiana. He and his wife, Deborah, have two sons, Tyler and Ethan.

PETE SALA

University Vice President/Chief Facilities Officer

Pete Sala is the University's vice president and chief facilities officer. In addition to managing the operations of Syracuse's athletic facilities, Sala is responsible for all University building projects and oversees multiple departments on campus, including Campus Planning, Design and Construction, Business and Facilities Maintenance Services, Physical Plant, Housing and Food Services Maintenance, and Energy Systems & Sustainability Management.

A member of Chancellor Kent Syverud's Executive Team, Sala is the construction manager for the West Campus Project, which includes a $118 million investment by the University for Phase 1 improvements to the Carrier Dome.

Sala started his career at the Dome in 1982 as a production assistant and advanced through the ranks to production manager in 1988 and operations manager in 1991. He served as assistant director of facility operations for the building from 1991 through June 2005 when he was promoted to associate director of athletics for facilities. In 2010, Sala assumed the role of managing director of the Carrier Dome. He previously served as Syracuse's interim director of athletics from mid-March to July 6, 2015.

At the Dome, Sala is responsible for all day-to-day operations of the facility, including coordinating and scheduling events, managing the box office, maintaining the budget and overseeing building maintenance. He supervises a full-time staff of 35, a part-time staff of more than 400, and nearly 100 students who assist in Dome operations and facility changeovers.

Along with his Carrier Dome responsibilities, Sala is the construction manager for all athletics facility upgrades and new building projects, including recent additions like the Carmelo K. Anthony Basketball Center and Ensley Athletic Center.

A 1979 graduate of Jamesville-DeWitt High School, Sala attended Morrisville College before transferring to the University of Massachusetts, where he completed the school's turf management program.

Pete and his wife, Laurie, have a son, Jake. The Salas reside in Jamesville.

BRETT WALLACE

Assistant AD/Marketing & Sales

Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing and Sales Brett Wallace joined the Orange staff in February 2017.

Wallace came to Syracuse after working in premium ticket sales for the Cleveland Browns for two years. He boasts an additional year of experience in NFL ticket sales, having worked for the Philadelphia Eagles from 2013 to 2014.

Wallace, who began his ticket sales career with the Lake Erie Monsters of the American Hockey League in 2010, also has two years of NBA experience. He worked as a business development specialist and premium sales consultant/night sales manager for the Cleveland Cavaliers.

At Syracuse, Wallace is responsible for training, developing and supervising an athletics department ticket sales staff that focuses on football, men's and women's basketball, and men's lacrosse. He is involved in coordinating community events and collaborates with marketing, fundraising and the ticket operations teams.

In his role with the Browns, Wallace sold a vast array of premium inventory for suites, contracted club seats, and all-inclusive clubs. He renewed Browns members annually and helped train and mentor the inside sales team.

During his year-long stint in Philadelphia, Wallace was sold suite leases, contracted club seats, and other premium inventory. With the Cavaliers, Wallace worked with the corporate sales staff on premium sales elements, renewed season tickets, sold suite leases, floor seats, clubs seats and premium group packages. In his role as business development specialist, he was responsible for Cleveland's hospitality and business programs, and sold season-ticket and partial season-ticket plans.

A native of Upstate New York, Wallace earned his bachelor's degree from SUNY Cortland in 2008 and his master's degree from Newcastle University in 2009.

MARK WHEELER

Associate AD/Compliance

Mark Wheeler was named Syracuse's director of compliance in October 2015 after previously serving in the same position at Boise State for two years. In April 2017, Wheeler was promoted to associate director of athletics for compliance.

Wheeler reports directly to the Office of University Counsel and works closely with Director of Athletics John Wildhack. Wheeler is responsible for managing all aspects of the University's compliance program, including educating coaches, student-athletes, boosters, athletic department staff, and other University officials about NCAA, Atlantic Coast Conference, College Hockey America and Intercollegiate Rowing Association rules and regulations. He is also responsible for overseeing all compliance processes and procedures dealing with the University's monitoring of recruiting, eligibility, financial aid and certification.

While at Boise State, Wheeler led the Broncos' compliance department. He created and delivered a comprehensive education curriculum for coaches, non-coaching staff, student-athletes, boosters and other constituents. In addition, he provided NCAA and Mountain West Conference rules interpretations for coaches, staff and student-athletes.

Before joining the Broncos, Wheeler was the assistant director of compliance at Ohio State for one year, managing all areas of compliance for the men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's cross country, and men's and women's track & field programs.

Wheeler's previous experience includes serving as an athletic compliance coordinator/graduate assistant at Pepperdine from August 2011 to May 2012. While there, Wheeler was integral to rebuilding compliance processes and procedures. He drafted compliance manuals for coaches, new hires and interns. Wheeler also completed internships at Brigham Young University and Paradigm Sports Management during his career.

In 2012, Wheeler passed the bar exam in California. He received his Juris Doctorate from Pepperdine the same year. He earned his undergraduate degree in management from BYU in 2009.

Wheeler and his wife, Kaela, have three sons – Bennett, Anders and Theo.

RICK BURTON

Faculty Athletics Representative

Rick Burton is the David B. Falk Endowed Professor of Sport Management in Syracuse University's David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics. He has served as the Orange's faculty athletics representative to the NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference since 2014. In addition to his duties as faculty athletics representative, Burton teaches in Syracuse's Renee Crown Honors Program and has served as a visiting professor at Kufstein Tirol University in Austria, as well as the International Olympic Academy in Olympia, Greece. He was selected as the Falk College Faculty Member of the Year for Teaching in 2011 and 2013.

Prior to his appointment at Syracuse in August 2009, Burton served as the chief marketing officer for the U.S. Olympic Committee (USOC) at the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing, directing the USOC's partnerships for International Olympic Committee and USOC sponsorship activation.

From 2003-07, Burton was the commissioner of Australia's Sydney-based National Basketball League (NBL) and was responsible for every aspect of the NBL's development and growth. This included securing lucrative broadcast rights fees, naming rights sponsorships, player and referee collective bargaining agreements, and league profitability.

From 1995-2003, Burton led the University of Oregon's Warsaw Sports Marketing Center to international prominence. He served as both its director and executive director (1998-03). During his tenure, Burton initiated Oregon's engagement with Fudan University in Shanghai, China and worked closely with Nike as they developed their business efforts there. While at Oregon, he also created the Burton Marketing Group, working almost exclusively in league management and sponsorship for entities such as IMG, the U.S. Basketball Academy, Philippine Basketball Association (PBA), Japanese Pro Soccer league (J-League), National Football League (NFL), National Hockey League (NHL), Australian NBL, Visa, multiple NFL teams, Professional Bull Riders, FedEx, TSE and Sport Accord.

In the mid-1990s, Burton supervised numerous clients ranging from the NFL to Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Gillette, Sprint and Universal Studios, while serving as a vice president for the sports and entertainment marketing agency Clarion Performance Properties in Greenwich, Conn.

During the last 20 years, Burton's scholarly research and commentary has been published in Sport Marketing Quarterly, International Journal of Sports Marketing and Sponsorship, Journal of Applied Sport Management, Journal of Sport, Nine, SAIS Review, Marketing Management, Journal of Brand Strategy, Journal of Marketing Communications, Industrial Marketing Management, International Marketing Review, Football Studies and Journal of Sponsorship, among others.

Burton began his career as a sportswriter in Syracuse before moving on to the Miller Brewing Company in Milwaukee. He worked there for 12 years in brand management and sports public relations. He served as national advertising manager for Miller Lite's award-winning "Less Filling – Tastes Great" advertising campaign and also worked as a brand manager for Sharp's and Lowenbrau.

Burton has written two books on sports marketing and is co-author of the book "20 Secrets to Success for NCAA Student-Athletes Who Won't Go Pro." In addition, he is co-author of the textbook "Global Sport Marketing: Sponsorship, Ambush Marketing and the Olympic Games." In 2016, Burton finished a book for Syracuse University Press on his collected opinion columns from Sports Business Journal titled "Sports Business Unplugged: Leadership Challenges from the World of Sports."

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 66th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 154 national championships, including 76 in men's competition, 76 in women's and two in men's and women's fencing. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 180 times on the men's side and 137 times in women's action.

The ACC is one of two conferences to have won two football national championships over the past four years. Florida State captured the final BCS National Championship in 2013, while Clemson claimed the College Football Playoff national championship in 2016. The ACC has now had a team in the championship game in three of the last five years.

Clemson's championship-game victory in 2016 marked the seventh national title by an ACC school since 1953, and the 14th by a current league school. Miami leads the way with five national titles, followed by Florida State (3), Clemson (2), Pittsburgh (2), Georgia Tech (1) and Syracuse (1).

A year ago, the ACC secured 10 spots in the 2017 postseason bowl lineup – the most of any conference. Over the last two years, the ACC has had a nation's best 21 teams in bowl games. At least six ACC teams have made a bowl appearance in 17 consecutive seasons.

ACC teams posted an NCAA-best 51-17 record (.750) against non-conference opponents in 2016, including a 17-9 mark (.654) against teams from the Power Five conferences. The 51 wins were the most in league history and surpassed the previous high of 46 attained in 2013 and 2014.

The ACC has seven of the top 25 active coaches in career victories, which is by far the most of any conference. Georgia Tech's Paul Johnson is in fourth place with 182 wins. He is followed by Miami's Mark Richt, who is eighth with 164 wins. Louisville's Bobby Petrino is 17th with 116. Wake Forest's Dave Clawson is tied for 19th (111). Virginia's Bronco Mendenhall is 21st (107). Duke's David Cutcliffe is 22nd (103) and Clemson's Dabo Swinney is 23rd (101).

The ACC continues to make its mark in the annual NFL Draft as the league had 45 players selected in April - the second-highest total by any conference, and the third-highest total in league history. That total also makes the ACC one of two leagues in the nation to have had at least 40 draftees in four of the last five years. In all, during that time the ACC has had 203 players drafted, the second-highest total of any conference.

NC State defensive end Bradley Chubb was named the winner of the 2017 Bronko Nargurski Trophy, given annually by the Football Writers Association of America to the nation's defensive player of the year. Chubb became the fourth ACC player in eight years to win the award joining Da'Quan Bowers of Clemson (2010), Luke Kuechly of Boston College (2011) and Aaron Donald of Pitt (2014).

Louisville quarterback Lamar Jackson finished third in the Heisman Trophy vote behind winner Baker Mayfield of Oklahoma and running back Bryce Love of Stanford. Jackson became only the second ACC player to be voted in the top three in two different years. Clemson's Deshaun Watson finished third in 2015 and was runner-up to Jackson in 2016.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

The conference will conduct championship competitions in 27 sports during the 2018-19 academic year – 13 for men and 14 for women. The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954.

The 13 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, fencing, swimming and diving, indoor and outdoor track & field, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet held in tennis at Wake Forest University. Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, field hockey, soccer, basketball, fencing, swimming and diving, indoor and outdoor track & field, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing, with volleyball deciding its champion by regular-season play.

HISTORY

The ACC was founded on May 8, 1953 at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C. with seven charter members – Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, NC State, South Carolina and Wake Forest – drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of by-laws was adopted and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid-South, Mid-Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline. Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978 when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1,1991 with the addition of Florida State.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of Miami (Fla.) and Virginia Tech. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.

The ACC added its 13th and 14th members on Sept. 18, 2011, when Pitt and Syracuse accepted invitations to join the conference. The two schools officially joined the ACC on July 1, 2013. Notre Dame also officially joined the ACC that day after announcing on Sept. 12, 2012 its intention to enter the league for competition in all sports but football, bringing the membership of the conference to 15.

On July 1, 2014, Louisville entered the ACC on the same day Maryland withdrew, keeping the conference's membership at 15 institutions.

ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

ACC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Marking its 14th anniversary, the Dr Pepper Atlantic Coast Conference Football Championship Game will once again be played at Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte, N.C. on Saturday, Dec. 1. The game pits the winner of the Coastal Division against the winner of the Atlantic Division to determine the overall conference champion.

The inaugural ACC Football Championship Game was held in 2005 in Jacksonville, Fla., with Florida State defeating Virginia Tech to claim the conference crown. It was the first of three championship games held in Jacksonville. In 2008 and 2009, the game was played at Raymond James Stadium in Tampa, Fla. before moving to its current home in Charlotte for 2010. The conference and the Charlotte Sports Foundation announced a six-year contract extension in 2014 to keep the game in Charlotte through 2019. That agreement was extended to 2020 after the 2016 game was moved to Camping World Stadium in Orlando, Fla. In 2018, a 10-year extension to the deal was announced, keeping the game in Charlotte through 2030.

Clemson won its fourth league championship in six seasons in 2017, beating Coastal Division winner Miami, 38-3.

In addition to the ACC Football Championship Game, Bank of America Stadium is home to the Belk Bowl, the NFL's Carolina Panthers, and various other college football games.
